Minister for Slovenians Abroad Presents Priorities for 2009

Ljubljana, 20 January
Minister for Slovenians Abroad Boštjan Žekš presented on Tuesday the priorities of his Office for Slovenians Abroad for 2009. He said that the office was considering changing the amendments to the act on Slovenians abroad proposed by the previous government, because it found that some instances of wording were inappropriate.

Žekš said that the act on Slovenians abroad from 2006 was the first Slovenia adopted and was therefore unclear in several definitions and responsibilities. The office would also like to make several contents changes. Touching on Slovenia's 2008 strategy on relations with Slovenians abroad, Žekš said that it presented a move from shuffling papers to action.

When asked about the solution for Italy's cutting of funds for the Slovenian minority, Žekš said that Italian Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi guaranteed the Slovenian PM Borut Pahor that the problem would be solved. If not, Slovenia will take action, said Žekš. He said that Slovenia's biggest problem was that its neighbours did not respect international agreements or even court decisions, as was the case with Austria's bilingual signs. He mentioned that Slovenia could make these problems international, besides expressing its regrets over the problems.

Šterka pogrešajo v Avstraliji

Po nepreverjenih in nepotrjenih podatkih naj bi razbitine plovila vrglo na vzhodno obalo Avstralije

Sydney - Avstralske oblasti so pred obalo najmanjše celine naše jadrnice legendarnega slovenskega jadralca Jureta Šterka, tega pa ni bilo na krovu, so potrdili na ministrstvu za zunanje zadeve. Avstralski reševalci naj bi posneli jadrnico, s katero se je Šterk namenil brez postanka obpluti svet, a Šterka ni bilo na krovu. Jadrnica je plula okoli tisoč morskih milj pred avstralsko obalo brez nadzora in z zlomljenim jamborom.

O Šterku že 12 dni ni glasu

O 72-letnem slovenskem morjeplovcu Juretu Šterku, ki je 25. oktobra 2007 iz novozelandskega pristanišča Tauranga z 9,20 metra dolgo jadrnico Lunatic odjadril okoli sveta - vsem svetovnim morjem je hotel vzeti mero v enem kosu in brez pristankov - in je bil sredi januarja nekje južno od Tasmanije na dobri poti, da mu avantura uspe, že 12 dni ni nobenega glasu. Domači in tuji radioamaterji, ki so bili s Šterkom vsak dan v stiku, so z njim nazadnje govorili 17. januarja, od takrat pa radijske zveze s slovenskim morjeplovcem niso mogli več vzpostaviti. Razloga za Šterkovo tišino sta lahko le dva: pokvarjen radijski oddajnik ali pa brodolom na odprtem oceanu. Brodolom s tragedijo, z Lunaticovo potopitvijo (po neuradnih in še nepotrjenih novicah naj bi razbitine Šterkove jadrnice naplavilo na obalo vzhodne Avstralije) in mogoče Šterkovo rešitev v nepotopljivi pnevmatski rešilni splav, iz katerega se seveda ne more nikomur javiti in klicati na pomoč, ali pa je 72-letni Belokranjec izginil v oceanu.

Ker je bil Šterk na jadrnici opremljen z avtomatskim satelitskim pozivnikom za klic v sili EPIRB in njegovega signala niso nikjer sprejeli, obstaja možnost, da je Slovenec ostal le brez komunikacijske povezave s svetom in da še vedno počasi napreduje proti avstralskemu otoku Tasmanija, ki bi ga moral objadrati z vzhodne strani in se od tam usmeriti proti 2000 milj oddaljeni Novi Zelandiji in pristanišču Tauranga na Severnem otoku, kjer je pred dobrimi 14 meseci dvignil jadra in se podal na skoraj 25.000 morskih milj dolgo jadranje okoli sveta v smeri zahod-vzhod.

MZZ: Avstralske oblasti nadaljujejo iskanje Šterka

Indijski ocean Šterkov grob?
Domen Mal/Ma.K./STA, 04.02.2009

Ljubljana - S slovenskega zunanjega ministrstva so danes sporočili, da so se avstralske oblasti pozitivno odzvale na njihovo prošnjo za nadaljevanje iskanja pogrešanega slovenskega jadralca Jureta Šterka in njegove jadrnice Lunatic. To so sporočili potem, ko so na MZZ v torek sprva potrdili, da avstralske oblasti ne iščejo več pogrešanega Šterka.

Avstralski center za reševanje (RCC) je tako ponovno vzpostavil oddajanje poziva ladjam v področju zadnjega kontakta z Lunaticom, ki ga bodo oddajali naslednja dva tedna. Pozicija, kjer je bil Lunatic opažen nazadnje, je sicer na območju, kjer je relativno gost komercialni promet, so še sporočili z MZZ.

Iz Slovenskih novic: Indijski ocean Šterkov grob?

Jadralski pustolovec Jure Šterk je še vedno pogrešan pred avstralsko obalo, nič pa ne kaže, da bodo tamkajšnje pomorske varnostne oblasti (AMSA, Australian Maritime Safety Authority) sprožile iskanje. Njihova predstavnica Tracey Jiggins je izjavila, da je jadrnica Lunatic preveč oddaljena od obale, da bi do nje lahko poletela reševalna letala ali helikopterji. O usodi našega morjeplovca tako ni nič novega, danes pa je o njem poročal največji zahodnoavstralski časnik The West Australian, potem ko so nam njegovi novinarji v telefonskem pogovoru še včeraj zatrdili, da za izginotje slišijo prvič. Povzeli so nacionalno tiskovno agencijo, Australian Associated Press (AAP).

Kulturni Dan - Cultural Day

On Sunday February 8, 2009 Slovenian Club Adelaide celebrated Slovenia's national day of culture. Cultural Day is celebrated on February 8 as it is the date on which Slovenia's National poet France Prešeren died. A picture of France Prešeren hangs on the wall in Slovenian Club Adelaide and it is under this picture that participants celebrated this most special of days.

How many people of Slovenian ancestry are there in Australia?

According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics 2006 Census of Population and Housing the number stands at 16,093 people. The question that follows then is this an accurate number? The answer depends on who you talk to. Some say yes this is about right while others will say it is closer to 25,000 or even 30,000 people. Another interesting result from the 2006 Census is that 6,221 people said they were born in Slovenia. Again is this an accurate result? Perhaps a clue rests in the significant number of people who did not record their ancestry or place of birth in the 2006 Census. The table below shows that 1,645,643 people did not adequately/not state their ancestry and 1,376,791 people did not adequately/not state their country of birth. A considered point is to urge people to register their Slovenian ancestry and place of birth in the next Australian Census which will be in 2011.

Results from the 2006 Australian Census show that the States of Victoria (6,451), New South Wales (5,269), Queensland (1,514) and South Australia (1,261) have the most number of people with Slovenian heritage. These States are followed by Western Australia (812), Australian Capital Territory (517), Tasmania (207) and Northern Territory (62). (refer to table below).

State	No.	Capital City	No.	%	Regional	%

The capital cities of Melbourne (5,176), Sydney (3,841) and Adelaide (1,049) have the most number of people of Slovenian heritage followed by Brisbane (717), Perth (672), Canberra (517), Hobart (115) and Darwin (39). Slovenians tend to live in capital cities, in relative percentage terms, rather than in regional areas although Victoria and New South Wales have a number of Slovenians, in absolute terms, living in regional areas such as Geelong, Albury/Wodonga, Wollongong and Newcastle. In Queensland Slovenians live in that State's capital of Brisbane but also in other areas such as the Gold Coast. Tasmania has a significant percentage living outside that State's capital of Hobart, although the absolute numbers are quite small.

Of the 16,093 persons of Slovenian heritage, 7,929 (49.3%) are male and 8,156 (50.7%) are female. The percentage splits closely match that of the Australian population at large, with 49.4% males and 50.6% females. The total population of Australia at the 2006 Census was 19,855,287 people.

Članek v avstralskem dnevniku se začel zelo nedvoumno:

»Dvainsedemdesetletni slovenski jadravec na poti okoli sveta je najverjetneje mrtev. Njegovo zapuščeno jadrnico so našli na odprtem morju, več kot 1000 kilometrov pred obalo Perth.«

Kakor smo že poročali, je Šterk z 9,2 metra dolgim Lunaticom 25. oktober 2007 iz pristanišča Tauranga na novozelandskem Severnem otoku odrinil v smeri zahod-vzhod na pot okoli sveta brez pristankov. Kot vnet radioamater je po radijski zvezi skoraj vsak dan vzdrževal zvezo z Ljubljancem Urošem Fabjanom. V drugi polovici decembra lani ga je obvestil, da je v težavah - med jadranjem proti jugozahodni Avstraliji se mu je zlomila sprednja pripona jambora. Nekaj dni pozneje, 17. januarja, sta se slišala zadnjič. V West Australianu poročajo, da je Šterk na dan obdarovanja (Boxing Day), ki je običajno 26. decembra, navezal stik z avstralskim radioamaterjem. Povedal mu je, da je 1900 kilometrov od zahodne obale Avstralije, da je namenjen v Albany (408 kilometrov južno od Perth) in da ga pesti slabo vreme, vendar razmere niso kritične.

»Od začetka januarja se Šterk ni oglasil, zato je AMSA po radijski zvezi sporočila ladjam pred avstralsko obalo, naj bodo pozorne na devetmetrsko jadrnico,« piše The West Australian, in navaja izjavo Tracey Jiggins: »Zapuščena Lunatica je 26. januarja opazila trgovska ladja Aida. Mornarjem se je zdel zapuščena in poškodovana od neurja. Na krmi je bil najverjetneje reševalni čolnik, ki pa je izginil. Ne vemo, kaj se je v resnici zgodilo. Informacije s trgovske ladje, da na jadrnici v resnici ni znakov življenja, smo posredovali slovenskim oblastem, te pa so nato obvestile Šterkovo družino.«

Posadka Aide se je poskušala približati Šterkovi jadrnici, a so ji to preprečili visoki valovi. Vprašanje je tudi, ali je Lunatic res tako daleč, da ga ni mogoče doseči po zraku, ali pa je zgolj reševanje predrago. Ne nazadnje bi se do jadrnice lahko prebili po vodi: decembra lani si je udeleženec regate samotarjev Vendée Globe Challenge, Francoz Yann Eliés, med menjavo jader dobrih 1000 milj južno od Freemantla, prav tako na jugozahodu Avstralije, zlomil nogo. Po 40 urah vožnje ga je rešila avstralska fregata Arunta. Reševalna akcija je stala milijon avstralskih dolarjev (500.000 evrov). Toda te stroške bo krila zavarovalnica.

Šterk je bil na svojih poteh že pogrešan - med drugim na začetku zadnjega popotovanja okoli sveta - a se je spet prikazal. Se bo tudi tokrat? Položaj se, na žalost, ni še nikdar zdel tako brezupen kot zdaj.

Death of Slovenian in Croatia 'linked to Laphorne': mother

The Age, February 20, 2009

The mother of a Slovenian woman found dead in Croatia believes the case is linked to that of Australian traveller Britt Laphorne.

And like the Laphorne case, those close to 35-year-old Irena Mlakar accuse police of failing to properly investigate her death, and suspect police may have had something to do with it. Irena's body was found in August 2007 on Krk Island, a tourist spot about 570km north of Dubrovnik, where Britt's body was found in October last year, three weeks after she disappeared.

Irena's mother Stasa Mlakar has told the Slovenian newspaper Delo: "It seems that the death of my daughter and the Australian Britt Laphorne, who died in Croatia last year, are linked".

"There are many similarities because both were found three weeks after disappearing, both were identified via DNA, and the autopsy did not reveal the cause of their death."

Friends, who were on holiday with Irena when she disappeared and began their own hunt for the missing woman, told Delo they believed police were watching them.

Officers wanted to stop them from finding out anything about the disappearance, one unnamed friend told Delo.

A retired criminologist, also unnamed, who joined the search, said police were involved, but did not offer any evidence. Britt Laphorne's parents believe their daughter was murdered and have accused Dubrovnik police of frustrating the investigation and tampering with security footage that might hold clues about her death.

Meanwhile, other female travellers have told how they escaped abduction attempts after partying at the same Dubrovnik nightclub from which Britt disappeared.

The women compiled forensic sketches of their alleged attackers, and Dubrovnik police have confirmed they are serving police officers.

But they said the men were "very good quality" officers who did not harass or rob foreign tourists.

Blejsko jezero kandidat za eno od novih naravnih čudes sveta

M. G., Delo, 16.01.2009

Ljubljana - Blejsko jezero je med kandidati za sedem novih naravnih čudes sveta, ki jih bo po predvidevanjih leta 2011 oznanila švicarska neprofitna organizacija New Open World Corporation (NOWC). Ta je razpisala kandidaturu zanje pred poldrugim letom, doslej pa skrčila izbor na 261.

Blejsko jezero je med kandidati za sedem novih naravnih čudes sveta

foto: Voranc Vogel/DELO

Za nova naravna čudesa je sicer mogoče glasovati po internetu (<http://www.new7wonders.com/> - vsakdo lahko odda le en glas), julija letos pa bo komisija izmed 77 predlogov z največ glasovi izbrala 21 finalistov. O sedmih zmagovalcih bo odločilo nadaljnje glasovanje, komisija pa bo do leta 2011 tudi obiskala vseh 21 v najožjem izboru.

Blejsko jezero je sicer nominirano v skupini evropskih jezer, s sedmimi drugimi, med njimi s hrvaškimi Plitvicami, makedonskim Ohridskim jezerom, Blatnim jezerom na Madžarskem in najbolj znanim v skupini, škotskim Loch Nessom. Eva Štravs Podlogar, direktorica zavoda Turizem Bled, je včeraj dejala, da je za kandidaturu zvedela pred dnevi, zdaj pa jo morajo v kraju tudi uradno »odobriti«, s podporo pristojnih za razvoj turizma v Sloveniji.

Zakaj bo milijon Avstralcev lizalo Nicole Kidman?

Vsak igralec bo imel dve znamki Ka. Š., Delo, 04.02.2009

Canberra - Štirje avstralski igralci bodo postali nesmrtni, saj je avstralska pošta njihovo podobo natisnila na poštne znamke. Zdaj boste lahko dobesedno lizali Nicole Kidman, Cate Blanchett, Russell Crowe in Geoffreya Rusha. Avstralska pošta se je za dejanje odločila iz preprostega razloga - vsi štirje igralci so osvojili oskarja. "Nad dejstvom, da bom na znamki, sem globoko ganjena in blažena. Sedaj me bo lizalo na milijone Avstralcev, kar že komaj čakam," je dejala Cate Blanchett.

Nicole Kidman, ki je leta 2006 prejela državno častno nagrado "Companion of the Order of Australia", je nad znamkami navdušena. "Ko vidiš svoj obraz na znamki je to res 'uau'," je dejala. Prav tako se že veseli dne, ko bodo njeni otroci nalepili znamko na pismo in dejali "to je moja mami".

Slavnostnega dogodka izdaje omenjene serije znamk, ki so izšle na avstralski državni praznik, se je poleg Cate in Geoffreya udeležil tudi Russell Crow. "Zelo nobel je, ko veš, da si na zaupnem pismu," je dejal Russell, ki je odraščal v petdesetih in šestdesetih letih prejšnjega stoletja, "ko je bila na znamki le podoba kraljice".

Posebna čast je omenjene štiri avstralske igralce doživela tudi zato, ker so prispevali k zabavni in kulturni vrednosti avstralskega naroda. Vsak igralec bo imel dve znamki, na eni bo njegov lik, s katerim je osvojil oskarja, na drugem pa bodo predstavljali samega sebe.

Frank Gorshin

Heath Ledger as The Joker

We all know of the late Heath Ledger's memorable role as The Joker in the latest Batman movie the Dark Knight, for which he won a posthumous Oscar for best supporting actor. You may be interested to know that Frank Gorshin, born to Slovenian parents, played The Riddler in the Batman television series which ran between 1966 and 1968. He was nominated for an Emmy for his role and was the only member of the Batman cast to be nominated. His signature challenge line in the TV series "Riddle me this, Batman!" became a catch-phrase at that time.

Frank Gorshin as The Riddler

He also had a memorable role in the 1969 Star Trek episode "Let That Be Your Last Battlefield" as the half-whiteface, half-blackface Bele, for which he was again Emmy-nominated. Prior to that, he was a dramatic actor, often playing "tough guys" like those played by one of his favorite target of impressions, James Cagney, whom he was said to resemble.

Frank Gorshin as Bele

Gorshin also played a villain in the television series Buck Rogers in the 25th Century.

He made several appearances on CBS's Ed Sullivan Show during the 1960s, including the February 9, 1964 broadcast in which The Beatles made their American debut.

Frank appeared in over 70 movies and made over 40 guest appearances in TV series. Considered one of the top impressionists in Hollywood he did about 50 impressions.

Born on April 5, 1934 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania to parents Frank and Frances Gorshin, Frank was the oldest of three children. His father was a railroad worker and his mother a seamstress. Frank Gorshin died on 17 May 2005 in Burbank, California, USA (lung cancer, emphysema and pneumonia). He is buried in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in the family plot.

On Frank Gorshin's gravestone are the words "What does it all mean?"

Madonna Coming to Ljubljana

Pop singer Madonna will visit Slovenia as part of a prolonged world tour "Sticky & Sweet", which started in August 2008. The concert in Slovenia will be held at the hippodrome in the Stožice district on the northern outskirts of Ljubljana on 20 August.

The new series of performances is to start in London on 4 July and visit cities like Marseille, Hamburg, Oslo, Helsinki, Tallinn and Ljubljana.

"This is a first for me. I've never extended a tour before. I'm excited to be going back on the road, visiting places I've never been and returning to places I love," Madonna said.

This is also the first time the "Queen of Pop" will perform in Slovenia.

The tour is part of the promotion of Madonna's multi-Grammy-nominated album "Hard Candy", which has topped the music charts in more than 37 countries.

The "Sticky & Sweet Tour" was seen by 2,350,285 fans in 58 cities in 2008 with record breaking ticket sales everywhere.

'Recesiji vstop strogo prepovedan!'

Do pokopa pusta še rajanja

Cerknica - Slovenijo so v soboto in nedeljo preplavile maskare: od tradicionalnih do prilagojenih aktualnemu dogajanju, zlasti političnemu, in druge. Vrstili so se veliki karnevali (Cerknica, Ptuj ...) in manjša pustovanja. V Cerknici oziroma Butalah so aretirali in vtaknili v ječo recesijo, ki se ji je kljub prepovedi vstopa uspelo pritihotapiti v mesto, Ptuj so obvladovali kurenti, ki so od večtednskega preganjanja zime sicer že utrujeni, a bodo nekaj dni še vzdržali, na Obali so med drugim oživljali stare istrske maskare ...

Ob cesti, ki vodi v Butale, stoji velika tabla z napisom: »Recesiji vstop strogo prepovedan!« Kljub temu se je recesiji uspelo pritihotapiti mimo table in butalskega policajja, a so jo takoj prijeli in zaprli v ječo. Sicer recesija v Butalah ne bi preživela, saj se tam natanko ve, kdo ima debeli krompir, pameti pa je toliko, da jo Butalci v žaklju nosijo po svetu. Takšna je bila zgodba včerajšnjega cerkniškega karnevala, ki so ga začele odličnjakinje z Uršuline copniške univerze z dvigom pustnega praporja.

Nato je po Butalah zadonela himna Toku, toku, toku-le-le. Prvi v sprevodu so bili seveda domačini, Butalci, ki imajo zato tako velike glave, da v njih lahko shranijo vse velike črke abecede. Vsako leto, tja od leta 1975, Butale, valilnico pustnih tajkunov, obiščejo vsi izjemni primerki vodnega in slivniškega življa, kot so ščuka, jezerko, zmaj, žabja svojat, pa številne znamenite osebnosti, Uršula s podmladkom, hudič s polhi, njihov oče Janez Vajkard Valvazor, Hribci in ... kjer je trgovina, tam je carina, kjer je carina, tam je nadzor, kjer je nadzor, je tudi šverc in kjer je šverc, je Martin Krpan. Danes je v Butalah na vrsti celjenje ran, jutri spet rajanje, v sredo pa pokop pusta z minuto tišine.

KLIC K BOGU

Ivan Burnik Legiša

Adelaide, South Australia, 2008

Bog Oče!

V tem neresnem,
bolnem času,
milost prosim vsem,
ki smo zašli,
da bi zopet začutili
svoj luči.

Da Oče,
iz puščave preizkušenj,
ob Tvoji luči,
vpričo Tebe,
krotkosrčen voljno kličem:

Prikljeni nas v Tvoj Duh
in nas nauči, kako varno iti
za Teboj.

ZGOŠČENKE – CDs

Gal Gjurin - Srce

Eden najplodovitejših glasbenikov in avtorjev na slovenski glasbeni sceni predstavlja novi album, ki je pravzaprav njegov prvi samostojni. Po skupini Olivija in kasneje Gal in Galeristi, se Gal Gjurin tokrat podaja na samostojno glasbeno popotovanje.

Gal Gjurin

Glasbenik, pesnik, prozaist. Rojen v Ljubljani 12. novembra 1978, po maturi vpis na ljubljansko Filozofsko fakulteto v Ljubljani, smeri slovenistika in sociologija kulture. Mondena, 2002), poezijo in prozo objavlja v uglednejših slovenskih (in tujih) literarnih revijah in drugih publikacijah. Njegova poezija je prevedena v Češčino, Srbščino in Angleščino, hkrati jo lahko najdete v antologiji mlade slovenske poezije Mi se vrnemo zvečer (zal. Beletrina, 2004). Je vodja Festivala poezije in glasbe 69, edinega tovrstnega festivala pri nas. Glasbeno se udeje kot multiinstrumentalist -komponist s širokim spektrom glasbenega delovanja (od jazza, svobodno improvizirane glasbe, tanga, musseta, šansonov, etno glasbe, punka, rocka ...). Doprinaša kot komponist in aranžer, vokalist, kontrabasist, e-basist, pianist/klaviaturist, kitarist, trobentač, pozavnist, saksofonist ipd. Je nosilec projektov Olivija (Med moškim in žensko, 2004, Nika records) in glasbeno-literarnega Projekt Mesto (Mesto in mesto, 2002; Minute?, 2004; Ivanova vrnitev, 2004; zal. Mesto), sicer pa sodelavec glasbeno-likovnega kolektiva BAST, reperja N'Toka, Andraža Hribarja, Adivaljaver in drugih glasbenih projektov ter priznanih literarnih, glasbenih in likovnih umetnikov. Komponira in izvaja tudi glasbo za kratkometražne filme ter dramske in plesne predstave. V pripravi sta nova pesniška zbirka Zamujanje in roman Vojer, po katerem se obeta tudi celovečerni filmski scenarij.

Saša Lendero - Ob tebi lepši je svet

Zadnji album ene najbolj priljubljenih slovenskih izvajalk Saše Lendero je bil prava zbirka hitov, podobno usodo pa lahko napovemo tudi novi plošči, 'Ob tebi lepši je svet'

Prodaja albuma 'Ne grem na kolena' je bila s skoraj 20.000 primerki, za današnje razmere, izjemna. Zato ne preseneča, da je Saša ostala pri isti avtorski ekipi, Hercog – Babič – Sewer, vendar pa je k sodelovanju povabila še nekaj priznanih glasbenikov. Večina skladb je avtorskih, poleg teh pa sta na novi plošči še dve predelavi in pa ljudska pesem, iz časov španske državljanske vojne.

Slovenians are more pessimistic about the current economic situation and outlook than they were a year ago, they however still look at the economic situation with more optimism than the average EU citizen, the latest Eurobarometer shows.

Slovenia is continuing to strive to get Italy to return the works of art and other documents that it confiscated in Slovenia before and during World War II, Foreign Ministry State Secretary Dragoljuba Benčina told the parliamentary Foreign Affairs Committee.
Anton Anderlič of the coalition Liberal Democrat (LDS) was bothered above all by the announcement that Italy will back an exhibition of the artworks in question in Slovenia. Benčina assured him that Slovenia had not changed its position on the matter and that it continued to work for a permanent return of the artworks taken from Slovenia. While welcoming the exhibition nonetheless, she explained that a commission was being revived that would be tasked with also examining the return of other documents, archives, and land registry files. The works of art in question, taken by Italy from Slovenia's Istria just prior to and at the outset of WWII, have already been put on display at the Trieste museum Revoltella in 2005 - given that they are "known", Slovenia should insist upon them being returned, Anderlič stressed.

BUSINESS SLOVENIA

Global financial crisis.
Orders in industry continue to shrink and some Slovenian companies have already announced further layoffs. Increasingly more companies also opt for a shorter working week in order to avoid this. Companies deciding to temporarily cut the working week are entitled to state subsidies. The government allocated EUR 230m for implementing this measure and employers can receive the subsidies for up to six months.

Slovenia Will Not Be Spared From Crisis, MPs Say in Brussels
Brussels, 17 February

The economic crisis is deeper than it seems and Slovenia will not be spared, members of a Slovenian delegation agreed in Brussels on Tuesday at a two-day meeting of members of the European Parliament and national parliaments. Czech Prime Minister Mirek Topolánek, whose country currently presides over the EU, described the situation by saying that "we are all in the same boat", which some are comparing to the Titanic. European Commission President Jose Manuel Barroso said that the situation was clear: "We will either float together or sink together."

"The crisis is reaching Slovenia with a slight delay," National Council president Blaž Kavčič pointed out, adding that the data showing a significant decrease in industrial activity were worrying and proved that Slovenia will not be spared from the crisis. Coalition Liberal Democrats (LDS) deputy Ljubo Germeč highlighted that the country would have to face the real facts and that the crisis is deeper than it looks. He called for additional measures and welcomed the existing initiatives such as state subsidies for companies that are switching to a shorter working week.

Silva Crnugelj of the Social Democrats (SD) pointed to the social dimension of the crisis. "We all fear a repeat of the situation from 1991 and 1992 when the number of unemployed topped 100,000, which is a lot for a country with 700,000 persons in employment."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

MEMO TO: South Australian Multicultural Leaders
FROM: Senator Cory Bernardi
DATE: 5 January 2009
SUBJECT: Multiculturalism in South Australia

When my father migrated to Australia from Italy in 1958, he became one of the more than 200 nationalities that make Australia the country that it is today. The result of ongoing immigration in this country is that the notion of ethnic diversity is ingrained in our national identity.

I am proud of this State's diverse culture and would like to work with you and your organisation to support your important contribution to our community. That is why I look forward to meeting with you at the 'Multicultural Cocktail Party' being held in February this year with several other state and federal politicians (invitation enclosed). It would also be appreciated if you could add me to your organisation's mailing list so that I can stay in touch with what is happening within your local community.

In turn, I will ensure that you are kept up to date with areas of interest from the state and federal political arena by adding you to my mailing list. If any of the contact details for your organisation are incorrect or if you would like to be removed from this mailing list, please contact my office on 8346 1433 so that I may update my records.

I look forward to meeting with you on 19 February and staying in touch with you and your organisation throughout 2009.
