Although Jo Ramuta smacked out a 520 series, the Joliet Office Supply dropped two frays to the Gorsich Food Mart. The Marts won the second game by five pins. Barb Buchar scoring for the winners.

OUTLINES PURPOSE OF LEAGUE OF CATHOLIC SLOVENIAN AMERICANS

Joliet, Ill.—The League of Catholic Slovenian Americans was organized in Joliet on June 24, 1945. Many of our members, especially those who do not read the Slovenian part of the Glasilo, are not acquainted with the League and its purposes. For that reason we are writing this article.

The League of Catholic Slovenian Americans was organized primarily with the purpose of having a Catholic information bureau for the problems that concern the Catholic Slovenians of this country and Europe. As a Catholic organization, and charity and Catholicity go together, its program will include all those acts of charity with which our fellowmen will be aided. Our Catholic League is not a political organization. Even though one of the resolutions accepted by us demands the liberation of all Slovenes from foreign rule. To our mind, the question of having people return to their proper country is that of justice and not of politics.

Because our organization is

SPECIAL MASS ON FEAST DAY

Cleveland, O. — Sunday, Oct. 28 being the Feast of Christ the King, patron saint of our lodge, No. 226, a High Mass will be offered for all members, living and deceased, in St. Vitus Church at 10 a. m.

We will meet in front of the school (inside, if it rains) at about 20 minutes to 10. From there we will march to the church with our lodge banner. Please wear your badges if you have them.

It would really be a nice showing if all the members will attend.

Now for another reminder. Our secretary would like to have all the latest addresses of all our servicemen. In case of a discharge, let her know, as each one will receive a Christmas remembrance from the lodge. You can call her on phone, drop her a line, or see her personally. Her address is: Angela Mencin, 1173 East 61st Street, Phone Henderson 9189.

Our next meeting will be held Sunday, Nov. 4 at 2:30 p. m. in the Slovene National Home on St. Clair Ave. After the meeting we will have entertainment and refreshments, proceeds of which will go for a grand party when all our servicemen come home.

So please remember both dates: this Sunday, Oct. 28, Mass at 10 a. m.; Sunday, Nov. 4, meeting at 2:30 p. m.

not political we are neither for nor against King Peter or Tito. The question of government in Yugoslavia will have to be settled by the people there themselves. Our only concern is that the government there be democratic and that it give the people the freedom for which this war was fought, above all, the freedom of religion and freedom of speech. As a Catholic organization it will be our business to strengthen and defend the Catholic Faith. We will spread the Papal program of Social Reconstruction. It belongs to our program to support the Catholic Bishops here and in Yugoslavia, the Catholic press and our Catholic Organizations both Parochial and Fraternal.

At present we are concerned with the welfare of our Slovenians wherever they can be reached, so we are sending aid to our refugees in Italy, Austria, and Germany. Our future program will include aiding in the restoration of all things Catholic in Slovenia in-

FINANCIAL PROGRESS
No day, no month, no year goes by without definite financial progress for the owner of life insurance. Steadily and surely his cash values increase, aided by the tremendous power of compound interest and the regularity of premium payments.

Wars, booms, recessions — all may come and go in his lifetime—but the man who establishes now an adequate backlog of insurance and annuities can count on safety of principal and certainly of income for the time in life when they will mean more to him than anything else.

AMERICAN RED CROSS

Cleveland, O. — The Greater Cleveland Chapter of the American Red Cross offers a broad program of assistance to veterans of World War II returning to their communities and civilian life. These services, beginning while the men are in service, will continue as long as problems of readjustment exist, Albert M. Higley, chairman of the chapter, said today.

A wounded serviceman, in a hospital and expecting a discharge, has at hand the aid of the Red Cross hospital worker who will see that he has the information he needs regarding the GI Bill of Rights, vocational rehabilitation, government education, loans, or pensions.

"If the wounded man dreads his first homecoming or is apprehensive over his family's reaction, the worker helps prepare his family for his return. She will write the chapter Home Service worker and advise on how best to help the serviceman make his adjustment," Mr. Higley explained. The Home Service worker will interpret this information to the family.

At the time of discharge, Red Cross workers are available to help him with his application for a claim for pension or other government benefits. If the veteran wishes Red Cross assistance in presentation of his claim before the Veterans Administration rating board, he may designate the Red Cross worker to represent him. If he prefers another agency, the Red Cross worker will help him get in touch with the one he designates.

The able-bodied serviceman also has available the assistance of the Red Cross field director or other Red Cross workers, USES and Civil Service at the point of separation from service.

"Our Home Service workers are prepared to give further assistance when the serviceman returns home a veteran," the chapter chairman declared.

JOLIET SODALITY TO PRESENT OPERETTA

Joliet, Ill.—"Romance of Old Slovenia" is the title of our operetta to be presented Nov. 25 and 27 by the B.V.M. Sodality of St. Joseph's Parish.

It's taken from old Slovenian songs and dances. The dialogue is entirely in English, but the songs are in their original form. The story takes place at about the turn of the century and portrays the life of the Slovenian peasants, presenting many of the beautiful and often humorous customs. We've already begun rehearsals and are getting our case lined up. The gay costumes should make this our most colorful production yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon thank all their friends and relatives for their well wishes as well as for the many gifts which they received.

"God looks down from his heaven and finds great work for even the meanest of his creatures" — so said St. Francis of Assisi. In his humility, St. Francis held himself to be the lowest of beings. He treated all men as though they were kings "because each man is the image of God." He loved God so strongly and with such personal love that all the things of creation became object of his love. In his poem "The Canticle of the Sun," he spoke of the sun and wind and fire as our brothers, and the moon and stars and earth as our sisters. He gave praise to God even for death, because by it we are able to resign ourselves to God's will.

By embracing poverty, St. Francis became wealthy in spirit. Tho he renounced worldly pleasures, he was the happiest man on earth. Chesterton said of St. Francis' way of life: "If there be any such thing as the art of living, it seems to me that is one of its masterpieces"

—Hail Mary.
