Za "A. D." prestavi M. U.

Končno klici, koraki, pogovor. Nekje so se odprla vrata, a nato zopet vse tiho. Že je hotel Ilija iti, ko se je nenadoma za vežnimj vratni prikazala luč. "Kdo je?" "Sorman je stal pripravljen na skok. Srce mu je hudo bilo — a za njo v veži bi utegnil stati grofovski lovec. "Kdo je tam zunaj?" "Moral se je odkašljati. "Jaz." "Kdo — jaz?" "Nu, jaz, Boga mi."

"Ti, kaj pa hočeš tako kasno?" "Kakor običajno." "Kaj kakor običajno. Vsi že spe." "Nekaj sem prinesel." "Nikar ga ne pusti v hišo, za Kriščevo voljo!" je prišel vpiti notri glas. "Nočem ga videti, ničesar ne maram več od nje, saj mu nisem ničesar naročila. Stran naj gre — umoriti nas hoče! Kaj sploh išče tu okoli?" Nikar ga ne pusi v hišo!"

V vratih je zarožljajal ključ. Razpeh prs je stopila Ljubica s svečo v rokah mirno pred hišo. "Ti? Kaj pa delaš tod? Ali nisi že zdavno čez hribe in doline? In kako sploh izgledaš, kot kak rokomaš!" Ilija je zatrepetal. Le zmajal je z glavo. "Kakor pač izgleda človek, s katerim je prišlo tako daleč, bogami!" "Kaj pa hočeš? Raje glej, da čimprej prideš iz teh krajev, raje danes nego jutri. Kaj hočeš?" Ponižno je pokazal z roko v noč. "Enega sem prinesel — zopet." "Nikar se ne spuščaj z njim v nobeno stvar!" je kričal glas v hiši. "Ničesar več ne rabim od njega, nočem ga več niti videti. Zapri vrata, ali čuješ?" — Saj samo kaj slabega namerava." "Bom že opravila sama z njim," je zaklicala mlada prezirljivo preko ramena v hišo. "Le tiho bodite!" Upihnila je svečo. "Ali si čul? Svetujem ti lahko samo eno: Glej, da čimprej izgineš iz teh krajev, razumeš?" "Saj bom, saj bom," je mrmljal ponižno. "Nu, le tistega srnjaka sem prinesel — nekaj tobaka samo, par zavitkov." Pomišljala je. "Počakaj! In prinesi ga sem medtem." Šla je v hišo ter mu prinesla tobaka. "Zakaj se sploh še potikaš tu okoli?" On je molčal. "Saj so te odpustili, zapodili. Osumljen si. Ljudem dišiš po krvi. Česa sploh še čakaš?" Teško je dihnil: "Saj sam ne vem." V temi mu je položila roko na ramo. "Ne bodi norec! Ali nimaš doma žene in otrok? Pravili so mi. Dobro ti hočem, torej pojdi!" Zopet je vreščal glas v hiši: "Berta, kje si? Kaj govoriš tako dolgo s potepinom? Zapodi ga vendar!" Berta je le priprla vrata. — "Nora je stara od tistega dne sem. Bil je njer sin, tisti prokleti pankert. Zapeljala je nje in tebe in mene in to jo sedaj grize. A ti ne bodi neumen! Dobro ti hočem, glej! Izbij si vse iz glave, pohiti domov k svojim ljudem in vesel bodi, ko zapade za teboj sneg. Jaz ne izdam nikogar. Revež si, ki si se mi smilil in mi ravno radi tega ugajal. Jaz pa sem navadna vlačuga, ako razumeš, kaj to pomeni, ki ima vendar še nekaj srca. Si pač imel svoje veselje tu v tujini, in to veselje te je spravilo v nesrečo, a sedaj boš pameten in pojdi." "Kakor otrpnen je stal pred njo. "Saj pojdem, saj pojdem." "Moraš!" "Seveda, da moram. Bogami, da moram." "Nu, potem, kaj še? Drugače ne bo." "Ne, ne bo drugače. Saj vem, da ne bo nikoli drugače." "Kaj tedaj? Ali pa si mar bolan?" "Ne, nisem bolan. Ali pa sem, bogami, da sam ne vem." "Zakaj postopaš še tod okoli? Ali hočeš na vsak način v ječo, v Gradiško ali pa Lupoglavo za dvanajst ali petnajst let? Tu te kmalu dobe. V vaših hribov, ako se tjakaj zavlečeš, te ne dobe nikdar." "Da, da, res je. Bogami, da je tako." "Kaj pa misliš prav za prav? Kaj te še tu drži? Ali česa rabiš?" "Ne, ne, ne rabim — ničesar ne rabim." "Kaj pa počneš prav za prav? Ali si kje v službi? Kam si se zavlekel?" "Nu, tako, v gozdovih — nekaj prilike je še." "Za kaj?" "On je molčal. "Rada bi ti pomagala, ko bi le mogla. Ko si zaradi mene prišel v to zagato. Le povej brez skrbi." On je le globoko vzdihnil. "Ali si v potrebi? Ali imaš nemara dolgove v kantini, pa ne bi rad svojih stvari izgubil?"

"Ne, ne. Saj imam vse, vse sem pobral." "Ti, meni se zdi, da s teboj ni vse v redu. Nekaj nameravaš." "Dvignil je z opanko srnjakovo glavo in jo zopet spustil na tla. "Mogoče, ne vem, morabiti tudi." "Stopila je tesneje k njemu. "Ti! Kam si pa spravil onega, tistega, že veš? Meni lahko poveš, jaz ne bom nikomer povedala. Ali te to zadržuje?" "Ne, ne, — nič." "Potem te ne razumem." On je molčal. "Kam si ga spravil? Ali čakaš, da ga dobe?" Ni ji odgovoril. "Čuješ teta, ti norec ali karsibodi. Najbrže še sam ne veš, kaj hočeš. Ako si ne daš ni svetovati, ni pomagati. Za neumnosti pa niram časa. Sem se že zadosti dolgo zabavala tu s teboj. Pojdi, lahko noč, le pojdi!" "Opetekel se je, zatrepetal je v njem, kakor bi jo hotel prijeti in jo podreti na tla. Nemo se je nato opotekel doli po stopnicah. . . . Drugi dan je obiskal taborišče. Tam je vedel v nekem gotovem telovniku za brivno britev, katera je bila znana vsem. Marsikatero nedeljo je šla iz rok v roke dva krajcarja za vsak obraz. Kakor ropar ni hotel izgledati, čeprav je nekoga ubil. Poleg tega je bilo v taborišču še mnogo drugih koristnih stvari: žica, smodnik, tobak, morabiti kruh, slanina, sol. Plen, ki mu je bil potreben sedaj. Dvokrat se mu je podjetje ponosrečilo. Le en zvitek žice je lahko odnesel. Potem je v tretje šel, neke deževne noči, in se mu je posrečilo. Kakor senca je tipal med spečimi. Našel je kruha, slanina, denarja, par čebul. Končno je prišel do telovnika, na tistem tretjem tramu je visel, kjer običajno. In v njem je bila spravljen britev, skrbno zavita v voščen papir. Dolgo je še stal med spečimi in prisluškoval njih vzdihom, njihov divjim krikom v spanju po ženi in domu. Ko je bil zunaj za barakami, je nekdo zaklical za njim. Dragoceni plen spravljen v nedrhih, tako je stekel kakor divja žival gori v breg. Tam gori ga je potem prijelo, da je odmaknil debelo skalo in jo zvalil doli po bregu. Dalje prihodnjič

SUCCESSToday's
Topics

By Michael Lah, Jr.

Back again after a very hectic week-end. Really, we can't remember when your scrivener had so much fun in two days as he had over Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday our meanderings carried us to a barn dance that was strictly a barn dance in every sense of the word. Make no mistake about that. To begin with, the affair was held in—of all the places to hold a barn dance—a barn! To make matters more realistic, you had to drive through mud for at least a mile before you reached the place. Stepping out of the car, knee-deep into mud, we got an idea of how Admiral Byrd must be enjoying his southern jaunt. It really was cold! Then to our delight, we found the barn just two degrees colder than it was outside. A refrigerated barn, as it were.

From that point, however, things developed in a merry way. The crowd grew, the music got hotter and the polkas faster. Incidentally, we found another advantage in barn dances. Every time you showed your clumsiness in the graceful art by trodding none too gently on your partner's pedal extremities, all you had to say was: "Since this is a barn dance and we are away out on a farm, I have decided to dance like a farmer!" And you were readily excused!

(Notice to editor: Tell all those country folks sending in a complaint that I was only fooling!)

Continuing the Roundup: Sunday morning spent in a little book-worming, while the afternoon in the time honored fashion if dashing wildly about disposing of the last of the Eastern Star dance tickets. Just an old Collinwood custom!

Eight o'clock Sunday evening: Arrived at the Holmes Ave. Home with big uncle Ed Skully (he is not very proud of it) to celebrate the Eastern Stars Fifth Anniversary. Yankovic's music sounded great and already many were dancing. Losing no time, we headed straight for the refreshment counter. There to meet Supreme officers Cerne, Gornik and Okorn and enough of our old friends to make it look like a reunion.

Followed then much talking, jibbering, joking, dancing and handshaking until suddenly—and far too soon—it was time to go home. More's the pity.

And those Barbertonians who didn't get around for the party really missed a good time. It is reported they couldn't round up enough machines to bring them here. Too bad! But don't disappoint us again!

And why not have our neighbors, Rudy Macek and his Mag-

Clairwoods to Present Strong
Offensive Team in InterlodgeEddie Zaletel and Johnny Biaglow Added to Team
Which Finished Second Two Years Ago

Even now, two weeks before actual warfare in the Interlodge cage loop is started. Interlodge fans are finding themselves in a prognosticating mood. Even before seeing the teams in action, they are venturing opinions as to how the various outfits will fare during the forthcoming campaign.

One squad is almost the unanimous choice of all those observers to finish in the first division, according to their pre-season ratings.

That team is the Clairwoods and even we can't refrain from labelling them as serious challengers for the tiara.

Two seasons ago, they finished in the runner-up position after being moved out in a close series with the Loyalties. They weren't in the league last year.

But they are back again this year and how they'll be back. Just a look over that roster that will ride the Clairwood chariot into the campaign is enough to send their followers into joyful ecstasies. Offensive strength? Johnny Biaglow, one of the outstanding cagers in the city, a hard working player, always out to win; Eddie Zaletel of last year's Spartans quint who is one of the recognized stars of the league; Eddie Pack and Al Flaisman whose abilities in tossing that oval through the meshes doesn't need any extolling from us and not to mention Adolph Jalen and Ernie Zupancic. Long Joe Jenc again will hold down the tip-off berth way up there! No small wonder that the Clairwoods artisans are anticipating nothing less than the Interlodge title for the Green and White squad.

When they trot out on the St. Clair hardwoods on Wednesday Nov. 14, they'll present a well balanced attack, having been quietly preparing for the campaign by holding regular practice sessions at the St. Clair Bath House. They will meet the Brooklyn Slovenians in their opening game.

Bits About Them

FRANK KACAR

There are several men "behind the scenes," as it were, holding down official positions in the Slovenian Mutual Benefit Association, yet all the while are content to remain in the background, shunning all publicity and entirely ignoring the plaudits which may be heaped upon them.

Frank Kacar is one of these individuals and if you want an estimate of their value to the value to the organization just hop up and ask Frank Cerne or John Gornik.

Frank Kacar goes about his work very quietly and inauspiciously. In fact, he is that way about everything he does. And he does accomplish things.

That's one of the reasons why he was elected to the Supreme Board and later to the post of assistant secretary in the Supreme Office. He is holding down that latter position now and is of tremendous help to Supreme Secretary John Gornik.

Although he has not been an SDZ member as long as some of the other pioneers, he does know the why and wherefore of everything that is going on in connection with the organization. He's a veritable walking SDZ record book.

DANICA LODGE TO HOLD ANNUAL HOP
SATURDAY NIGHTFive Musical Bars to Supply
Dance Tunes for Novel
Apron Affair

One lodge that doesn't need any urging or persuasion to launch and carry out an entertainment program is the local ladies' group, Danica Lodge No. 11 SDZ.

They can be counted upon to come to the front at least twice during the year with either a picnic, dance or social. It seems that it has become a Danica tradition to hold such parties.

This coming Saturday night the ladies are going to hold an "Apron Dance" at the Slovenian National Home. The affair promises to be one of the most novel of the season. Prizes will be awarded for the prettiest apron and also for the ensemble of the shortest apron and largest bow.

Mrs. Albina Novak, Mrs. Julia Zakrajsek and Mrs. Katie Kogoy, who are heading the sure os that every effort is being made to present something different to their patrons and friends.

Dance rhythms will be furnished by the Five Musical Bars.

Besides the costume prizes to be awarded, a door prize will also be given.

Admission is 25 cents and everybody, including you, is invited to attend the celebration.

Eastern Stars' Fifth Anniversary
Dance Sunday Is Huge SuccessCrowd of 300 Attends Affair at Holmes Ave.
Home; Group Making Plans for Another Party

As was expected, that Eastern Star dance held last Sunday evening at the Slovenian National Home, Holmes Ave., did very little in the way of settling that four-cornered fight for social supremacy in the Collinwood and Euclid districts. In fact, it only made the competition more intense and the entertainment standard higher.

Following closely on the heels of the smashing success of the Modern Crusaders' recent social, the Stars kept pace with the field by adding further laurels to their record, when some 300 guests crowded the hall to help this active Collinwood group celebrate its Fifth Anniversary.

The evident social and financial success of this, the Stars' first venture of the winter season, makes it certain that many more similar affairs under the sponsorship of the Eastern Stars, will be on the entertainment menu of the year. In fact, the young men and women of the lodge are already making preliminary plans for another dance to be held some time before the first of the year.

And the exceptionally good time enjoyed by all those attending the party Sunday night, practically assures another record crowd at the group's next affair.

The dancing guests found the music supplied by Frank Yankovic and his orchestra, very pleasing and all evening long he kept them hopping and shuffling to his syncopated rhythms.

Then, too, the refreshments were all that had been expected. So much so, that the culinary department found itself completely without stock before the evening was very far advanced.

Topping off the entertainment bill, several of the guests were the lucky winners of the many door prizes. The prizes were valuable and useful household articles. They were the donations of the merchants in the community and of lodge members, themselves.

ORGANIZE NEW CLUB
COMPRISED CHIEFLY OF CLAIRWOOD LADS

Make way for a new social club in the neighborhood!

It's the Gay Blades and its male membership comprises mostly S. D. Z. members.

Charter members of the club are Joseph Zupancic, Louis Novak, Louis Zust, Louis Rupnick, Emil Matijatko, Michael Bokar, Anthony Petrovick, Wm. Halaburd and Frank Zust. From all indications, the Blades are out to make quite a name for themselves in the community and their tentative plans call for a most ambitious social program.

Officers, who will guide the destinies of the group during the perilous first year, are Louis Zust, president; Joseph Zupancic, secretary and treasurer, and Emil Matijatko, sergeant-at-arms.

These officers predict a rosy future for the organization and admonish all to watch for the announcement of their first affair.

Have you attended the meeting of your lodge lately? If not, why not drop around this month and see what is going on.

FOUR SDZ TEAMS
APPEAR ON CAGE
CARD ON NOV. 14

With all of the preliminary planning already being dispensed of at the last cage meeting, the Interlodge basketball loop is all set for the official inchoation of the 1934-35 court campaign on Wednesday Nov. 14.

All ten teams that will constitute the loop are girding themselves for the coming season and in a week or two will put on the finishing touches to their offensive and defensive plans and then—to the battle.

Interlodge moguls predict that this year's circuit is going to eclipse all others as far as action and attendance is concerned. A glance at the formidable and imposing arrays that the various lodges have rounded up to throw into the battle pit will serve out as partial evidence for those predictions.

Every one of the ten squads have added strength and it looks as if the Interlodge league is going to be a well organized and well balanced loop.

Four games have been scheduled to officially introduce the hostilities on Nov. 14. Two teams, the Pioneers and the Comodores will draw byes, as only four games can be run off in one evening.

All four of the SDZ squads that have entered the flag race will see action on the inaugural card, and, curiously enough, they have been pitted against each other.

Opening the bill will find the Eastern Stars colliding with the Sočas who will also be known as the Blue Rivers. Both teams have bolstered up considerably with views of making determined bids for the title. Last year they were both incarcerated in the loop cellar and they have no especial intentions of remaining there during the ensuing season.

The fourth game on the card pits the Brooklyn Slovenians against the Clairwoods. No reports have reached us concerning the strength or roster of the Brooklynites but as for the Clairwoods—look out. They weren't in the league last year but they'll make their presence known very soon in the coming campaign. Most of the original Clairwood team which won runner-up honors two seasons ago will be back and so will a couple of high scoring forwards be added to augment their scoring punch.
