Revision Report

For the use of sources and the guide lines for the transcription see the note of introduction in the preceding two volumes.

LXV. Media vita in morte sumus

B.24: in the original edition the cross-relation between A I and T II. Probably there is a C sharp in A I, as in the preceding bar.
B.33, T II: a variant of the parallel point in b.30.
B.36: parallel fifths between T I and B I.

LXVI. Audi tellus, audi magni maris limbus

B.17, C sup.: in the original edition the second note is E.
B.25, A sup.: in the original edition the last note is A, hence parallel octaves with C inf.
Secunda pars:
B.37, C inf.: in the original edition a minim pause.

LXVII. Usquequo, Domine, oblivisceris me in finem

B.53, C I: the last note is probably G sharp, as at the parallel point in b.52.
B.80, C II: in the original edition the last note G sharp, hence cross-relation with T II. If the latter had a G sharp, a step by a diminished fourth would ensue.

LXVIII. Converte, Domine, luctum meum in gaudium

B.35, A I: in the original edition the last note is G.
B.38, C II: in the original edition a full bar pause is missing, likewise at the parallel point in b.55.
B.48, T I: the second note probably B, as at the parallel point in b.31.

B.51, T II: the third and the fifth notes are probably C sharp, as at the parallel point in b.34.

B.54, T I: the first note probably B, as at the parallel point in b.37.

B.57, T II: the second note probably B, as at the parallel point in b.40.

B.59, T II: the last note probably B, as at the parallel point in b.42.

LXIX. Pater noster, qui es in coelis

B.46, C sup: an interval of augmented second proceeding into the next bar, B flat is necessitated by the bass.

B.59, A sup.: in the original edition the half bar pause is redundant.

LXX. Ave Maria, gratia plena

B.6, T II: the first note probably F sharp, as at the parallel point in b.3.

LXXI. Salva nos, Domine, vigilantes

B.9, T I: a variant of the parallel point in b.3.

B.19, T I: in the original edition a one bar pause is missing.

B.40, A I: in the original edition D is a minim, hence dissonance with A II.

B.51, C I: the last note probably G sharp, as at the parallel point in b.31.

LXXII. Deus, iniqui insurrexerunt super me

B.46, C II: the last note probably F sharp, as at the parallel point in b.44.

B.50, C I: the second note is probably C, not C sharp.

B.58, B: in the original edition a half bar pause appears instead of the quarter bar one.

LXXIII. Domine, ante te omne desiderium meum

B.37, C I: in the original edition the quavers are B flat, A, F, G.

Secunda pars:

B.11, T II: the first C sharp is liable to question, since it incurs an augmented chord, together with the interval of augmented second in melody.

LXXIV. Quid gloriaris in malitia

Secunda pars:

B.36, A: in the original edition the fourth note is C.

LXXV. Erravi sicut ovis, quae periit

B.45, T: the last note probably E flat, as at the parallel point in the second part of the motet (b.34).

B.64, B II: the first note probably E flat, as at the parallel point in the second part (b.53).

B.65, A I: the first note probably B, as at the parallel point in the second part (b.54).

Secunda pars:

B.55, B II: the second note probably E flat, as at the parallel point in the first part of the motet (b.68).

LXXVI. Domine Iesu Christe, non sum dignus

B.10, C II: the parallel point in b.2 has a pause on the third beat.

LXXVIII. Lamentabatur Iacob de duobus filiis

B.16, T: the first note probably F sharp, as at the parallel point in b.6.

Secunda pars:

B.50, B I: in the original edition the last note is E flat, hence parallel octaves with A I.

LXXIX. Usquequo, Domine, irasceres in finem

B.61, C I: the first note probably C sharp, as at the parallel point in the second part of the motet (b.61).

B.67, T I: the first note C sharp, otherwise cross-relation with C I.

B.69, C I: the first note probably C sharp, as at the parallel point in the second part (b.69).

Secunda pars:

B.67, C I: the first note probably C sharp, as at the parallel point in the first part (b.67), hence C sharp in T II as well.

LXXXII. Miserere mei, Deus, secundum magnam misericordiam

B.26, C I: in the original edition the third note is a minim.

B.38, C I: in the original edition a sharp is given before the first A.

B.40, A: in the original edition G.

B.48, C I: in the original edition a sharp is given before the first A.

B.55, B: in the original edition the second note C, hence parallel octaves with C I.

Tertia pars:

B.32, T II: in the original edition the last note is D.

B.47, C I: in the original edition the first note C; A: in the original edition the first note E, hence parallel fifths with T I.

LXXXIII. In Domino speravit cor meum

B.39, A: in the original edition the last note is not dotted.

Secunda pars:

B.48, C II: in the original edition a half bar pause is missing.

B.50, C II: in the original edition the second note is G, and the fourth C.

LXXXIV. Domine, quando veneris iudicare

B.26, A: the last note probably G sharp, as at the parallel points in bb. 24 and 25.

LXXXVI. O bone Deus, ne proicias nos

B.17, B I: in the original edition the last note is G, hence parallel octaves and cross-relation with A.

B.34, C: in the original edition the third note is B; T I: in the original edition a half bar pause is missing.

B.35, C: in the original edition a half bar pause is missing.

LXXXVII. Eripe me de inimicis meis, Deus meus

B.21, A: in the original edition the third and the fourth notes are crotchets.

LXXXIX. Nolite confidere in principibus

B.33, T I: in a consistent transcription the triplet would be rendered in quavers.

XC. Peccantem me quotidie

B.24, A: in the original edition the first note is F, E appears at the parallel point in the second part of the motet (b.21).

XCI. Verbum iniquum et dolosum

Secunda pars:

B.12, C: in the original edition the last note is F.

- XCII. O bone Iesu, illumina oculos meos
 B.55, B: in the original edition the last note appears as a quaver.
- XCIII. In tribulatione mea inyocavi Dominum
 B.43, T: in a consistent transcription the triplet would be rendered in quavers.
- XCVI. Quoties illum considero
 B.67, A II: in the original edition the first note is F sharp, hence cross-relation with C; an F sharp in this voice would incur a step by a diminished fourth.
- XCVII. Scio enim, quod redemptor meus vivit
 B.36, A: in the original edition the last note is F. In order to avoid cross-relation with C,
- it would require a chromatic sequel to F sharp.
- XCIX. In principio creavit Deus coelum et terram
 B.8, T: in the original edition the first note is rendered as a quaver.
- CII. Deus, in adiutorium meum intende
 Secunda pars:
 B.5, B: in the original edition the sixth note is rendered as a quaver.
 B.6, T: the fourth and the sixth notes are probably C sharp, otherwise cross-relation with C.
- CIII. In nomine Iesu omne genu flectatur
 B.22, A: in the original edition the third note is C.
