SCRAMBLINGS

BY JOURNAL JESSIE

Well! The Interlodge League has finally started to play! Some very fine teams have been entered—and there ought to be a lot of keen competition!

While we're still on the subject of the Interlodge we wish to urge our baseball fans to attend the games and cheer for their teams!

Members of the teams would particularly like to see the young ladies out there on the side-lines! Girls—you have no idea how much just a smile or a cheer or two will help the boys win! So—do your bit! Attend the games!

Sunday evening, May 17th, the independent singing society, "Zarja" is giving a grand spring concert at the Slovene Auditorium! The very fine selections which the singers have been preparing for this concert, plus the good voices, is enough to insure us a very pleasant evening.

Oh—these Spartans! What gay times they're having. Last Saturday evening, one of the Slovene Home clubrooms was just jammed with Spartans and their guests!

Music for dancing was furnished by Tony Trinko. Frank Ilc and Co., entertained those present with dancing and vocal selections!

Say—Spartans—when are you going to have another social! Soon? That's great!

(They certainly know how to entertain!)

Lodge "Priatelj" No. 225 S. P. Z. is planning a great celebration in conjunction with the blessing and unfurling of their new flag.

This great event will take place at Strumbly's Park on Bliss Rd., next Sunday, May 17th!

Mr. Bozidar Jakac left for home this week!—he's gone home to Novomesto, Jugoslavia! We hope he has a pleasant time during the entire homeward trip.

We enjoyed having you with us, Mr. Jakac, and really hope you'll visit us again! Some time very soon!

Members of the "St. Joseph's Lodge" No. 110 K. S. K. J., will no doubt, have one great time at their dance, Saturday night, May 16th!

Where? At the Slovene Home on Holmes Ave.

Everybody's invited!

The Community Welfare Club held a very successful card party at Mervar's Hall last Wednesday evening.

As usual, there was dancing and refreshments, and, of course, prizes for each table.

Proceeds obtained at this affair will be used to aid the poor.

The Beacons of Newburgh, probably are the first to give a weiner roast this spring.

They are holding this big "Hot-Dog" party at Silk's farm, on Saturday night, May 16th.

Refreshments will be served and a short program will next be in order. Mr. Matthes S. Beros of Bukovnik's Studio will exhibit motion pictures taken while on a visit to Jugoslavia sometime ago.

Mr. Michael J. Horvath, of Pittsburgh, Editor of the English Section of "Zajednicar" official C. F. U. organ, is expected to address the group.

B. Jakac Feted by Senior School

Party Given in Token of Friendship Which Mr. B. Jakac Has Shown

PRESENTS TWO PICTURES

Slovene School Board and Members Speak Sentiments in Leave's Taking

With a beautifully decorated table on which a replica of a boat stood, as a background, the members of the Slovene School held the farewell party for its guest artist, Mr. Bozidar Jakac, who has been the special friend of the Slovene School since he has come to this country on a visit. Members of the classes of the Slovene School and the officers and the teachers of the School were the only ones who were present at the party which in a formal way was intended as the farewell party for the artist.

All Slovene
It was intended to be a very gay party but the occasion would not permit gaiety such as one would expect. Every member of the party felt that it was a solemn occasion and though the German brothers were there offering the most enticing polkas and waltzes, no one was over anxious to dance on the evening which was intended to say farewell. The supper began at 11 o'clock with a supper after which the invited guests of the Slovene School were called upon to address the audience. Mr. Frank T. Subadolnik was the

WOODMEN CIRCLE HONORS MRS. ALBINA NOVAK

Initiation and Surprise Party Make Event Outstanding in Mind of Mrs. Novak

St. Clair Grove, No. 98, Woodmen Circle held a reception in honor of Mrs. Novak in the lower hall of the Slovene National Home, last Monday evening, May 11th.

The reception was preceded with an initiation of three candidates into the order. They were: Misses Madeline Zupancic, Frances Bencin and Bradac of Hecker avenue. The initiation was aided by the Radiant Guards who later in the evening were renamed the Mayme Hippler Guards. It was the first time that the Guards took part in an initiation. The exemplification was so well done that it received an ovation.

Mr. Bodecker, the district manager of the Woodmen Circle presented the National and State officers each of whom returned with a few remarks. Dr. F. J. Kern, Mr. Jno. Gornik and Mr. Jno. Rozanc were among those present. As the representation of the St. Clair Grove, and as a token of appreciation, Mr. William Ruess presented Mrs. A. Novak

JUNIOR MEMBERS TO BE GUESTS OF PIONEERS

After the regular routine business is disposed of at the Pioneers' meeting on Friday night, May 15th, the meeting will be adjourned and the members will get down to the more pleasant task of entertaining 50 or more youngsters; members of Nest 55 Junior Order of the Croatian Union.

Refreshments will be served and a short program will next be in order. Mr. Matthes S. Beros of Bukovnik's Studio will exhibit motion pictures taken while on a visit to Jugoslavia sometime ago. Mr. Michael J. Horvath, of Pittsburgh, Editor of the English Section of "Zajednicar" official C. F. U. organ, is expected to address the group.

OPERA SINGERS IN JOINT CONCERT AT S. N. H.

Last Concert of Mr. Svetozar Banovec Before his Departure For Europe

Last Wednesday night a few hundred people heard the last concert of Mr. Svetozar Banovec before he will depart to take up his position with the Royal Opera in Ljubljana. Mr. Banovec sang in a joint concert with Mr. A. Subelj, baritone.

The program included some standard concert numbers of Slovene music, as well as scenes from operas, of which the scene "Prodana nevesta" was best, due to the adaptability of both Mr. Banovec and Mr. Subelj to the parts in hand.

The third part of the concert was devoted to Slovene folk songs in which generous applause was accorded the singers. Miss Jeanette Perdan accompanied at the piano.

Interminable pauses accompanied the changing of scenes so much so that the people were forced to applaud for the curtain to rise.

CHILDREN TO HONOR PATRICK OF ST. VITUS

School Children to Entertain With Performance on Sunday, May 24th, at S. N. H.

Various organizations of St. Vitus Parish are making arrangements for the observation of the Silver Jubilee of the Rev. B. J. Ponikvar who has been ordained to the priesthood by Most Rev. John Ireland, of St. Paul Minn., on June 1, 1906.

The school children are making the initial step in the celebration of the event. The St. Vitus School children are preparing a program of sixteen numbers, half of which will be in the Slovene. An afternoon performance for the school children is being planned to take place at the Slovene National Home on St. Clair Ave., on May 24th. The same performance will be repeated in the evening for the adults. The admission for the children will be 10c, for the adults 75c.

Every effort will be made to felicitate the pastor of St. Vitus who for the last twenty-five years has labored among the Slovene people. Rev. B. J. Ponikvar began his work in the Cleveland diocese in 1907 in Lorain where he had been pastor of Sts. Cyril and Methodius Parish. Shortly after he came to St. Vitus, which

ANN'S LITTLE AFFAIR WINS ENTHUSIASTIC APPLAUSE OF HALL

Sodality and Holy Name Co-operate in Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Celebration

Well casted and excellently performed, "Ann's Little Affair" a three act comedy written by Samuel Franch, will be a real event in the minds of the people of St. Mary's Parish in commemoration of the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the parish. The play was presented with the co-operation of the Young Ladies' Sodality and the Junior Holy Name Society last Sunday evening at the Slovene Home on Holmes avenue.

Under the direction of Josephine Bernot and the supervision of Rev. George Hovanec, the players were well chosen for the respective parts and the players themselves responded with an excellent interpretation of the parts which they had. The most difficult part was portrayed by Mr. Frank Erzen as Peter Reynolds, the hero, a charming and rich young man. Opposite him Miss Ann Lozar portraying the part of Ann Lane did equally as well. Their performance was the real event of the evening.

However, it must not be said that the supporting cast was any poorer than the leading parts. It really depended upon the co-operation of Miss Mary Prince, as Mrs. Crosby Bonner, and adapting herself to the part, as well as Miss Frances Samson, as Geraldine Bonner, Mr. Joseph Bizjak, her father; Mr. Frank Jerson, as the son; Mary Ostanek, as Mrs. Creswell and Albert Gornik as the famous sleuth who gave a real interpretation of their respective parts that the performance was the great success it was.

Delightful interruption in the intermission was supplied by Mr. Joseph Sodja and his banjo, on which he played into the people's hearts to such an extent that they demanded encore after encore.

A dance was held in the upper hall of the Home, with the Arcadian Melody Pilots performing.

YOUNG LODGE TO UNFURL NEW FLAG

Mr. Vatro J. Grill, Supreme President and Mr. Charles Ely to Speak

Lodge "Priatelj", No. 215, S. S. P. Z. will have its great evening next Sunday, May 17th, when they will dedicate their new flag at Strumbly's on Bliss road, where festivities will take place.

On the program are scheduled some speakers who are very well known to Cleveland people. Mr. Vatro J. Grill, supreme president of the S. S. P. Z. has been chosen as one of the speakers for the evening. Mr. Charles Ely, Mayor of Euclid, Ohio, has also been invited and has promised to say a few words. The lodge has invited other lodges to attend the celebration which will mean so much to the young lodge. Mr. Vatro J. Grill and Mrs. Fanny Pusnar will be the sponsors for the new flag.

The program will take place at 2:00 P. M. and will be followed by a dance at which Kalister's orchestra will supply the music.

CLOSE SEASON WITH CONCERT NEXT SUNDAY

Soloists and Augmented Chorus in Splendid Shape For Finest Concert of Season

Slovene song in all of its beauty and all of its inspiration as it is interpreted by the singing society "Zarja" will be heard for the last time this season when the club will hold its last concert of the season, next Sunday evening, May 17th at the Slovene National Home.

It will be the last time that the singers will appear in a public concert as a unit that they are. And for this occasion they have spared neither work or hours of diligent practice to make it one of the great things besides the opera "Gorenjski slavček" which they have performed last fall and winter.

A greatly augmented chorus with some real talent in it will be evident, plus all of the old soloists who will appear on the program with some of their songs which they know how to sing. It will be a gala occasion and the public is invited to hear the last concert of the season.

Mr. John Ivanush, the director of the group is confident that it will be the finest group concert that has been staged in the locality. Mr. Louis Belle, Mr. Frank Plut, Mrs. Mary Ivanush and other favorite soloists will appear on the program.

Ivan Zorman Club Holds Annual Banquet

Two Guests Receive Permanent Chairs at Unique Club's Session

RETURN TO EUROPE

Group Discusses Important Movements in Slovene Life in America

Thirteen members of the "Ivan Zorman" club and four guests were present at the annual banquet which was held by that club last Wednesday evening, May 6.

It is a very unique club indeed. It has no officers, no constitution, no by-laws, nothing is regular except the name "Ivan Zorman." Yet, in spite of the irregularity it is a real club, so real that none of the members have been missing since the first banquet three years ago. There is a chairman for the occasion. Coincidentally the same one has served the three years in that capacity but even the long service does not say that he cannot refuse if he so desires. The only other job that is regular and that because it has become traditional, is the position of the secretary who does nothing else but arranges for the annual banquet which is held on or very close to Mr. Ivan Zorman's birthday. Other things live by word of mouth, rather than by some forbidding set of rules which one must follow.

But there is no need for rules (Continued on page two)

SLOVENE PROVES SELF A LINGUIST

Thirty pupils of the Cleveland schools were the cause of much perplexity to the judges of the best linguists in the city. Among the thirty pupils who participated in the competition which was judged last Monday, Miss Vida Shifer, Slovene young lady, participated and succeeded in getting the first prize in the Junior High Division. The prize of $15 was awarded with the honor.

In an account of the contest, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reports that "it was no easy matter for the judges to pick the winners in the oral contest, and time after time the contestants were recalled by the committees to answer more questions put to them in the various languages or translate passages read to them."

The linguistic tests given to the contestants were given in French, German and Spanish. Miss Vida Shifer competed in the French.

Miss Vida Shifer attends Fairmount School where she has been one of the finest scholars of French in the School. She also attends the Slovene School of the Slovene National Home and has participated in the play given last Saturday night. Being very interested in journalism, she has contributed a journal of her trip and impressions she received on her trip in Europe a year ago.

SLOVENE WINS HONOR

In a competition in which all the applicants to the West Point Military Academy must participate, Mr. Herbert F. Gusdanovic was notified that his application has been accepted and that he has earned a definite appointment to the Military Academy. His appointment came from Congressman Charles A. Mooney.

Herbert C. Gusdanovic is the son of Mr. Gusdanovic, owner of several theatres operating in Slovene districts. He is a graduate of Cathedral Latin High School and at present a freshman at Cleveland College. While at Cathedral Latin, Herbert P. Gusdanovic was the school's skating champion and was also a member of the track team.

SLOVENE SCHOLARS PERFORM WELL

Show They Have Learned Lessons of Teachers Well

Whatever pessimism may have been existing in regards to the future of the Slovene language, was temporarily dispelled last Saturday evening when the junior division of the Slovene School presented its regular annual Spring performance. Two plays, "Povodni Moz" and "Domisljiva mica" were presented from the stage of the Slovene Auditorium on St. Clair Ave.

It was a delight to watch the children do acting which while it was acted by children had some very brilliant spots in it. In places one wished that the tempo could be kept up for acting, pronunciation, clear enunciation which the children have exhibited was indeed one of the excellent parts of the plays. A great deal of the success of the plays, no doubt, goes to the patient and skillful teachers, Mrs. Antoinette Simic and Mrs. Mary Ivanush. It must have been some of their spirit that the children caught and performed in a manner which would have done credit to people many years their senior.

To mention every one who did good work one would have to mention all the names on the program. Suffice it to say that Max Germ and Miss Pauline Tavear were the outstanding in the "Povodni moz", while Miss Vida Shifer gave a wonder portrayal of Baroness Vojevska. Misses Victoria Spelic, Martha Modic and Mary Modic gave an excellent portrayal which has caused much admiration among the people in the audience.

During the intermissions, children of the various classes sang Slovene songs. They were accompanied by Miss Anne Erste.

What the pupils under the direction of the teachers learned, cannot be measured in exact terms, but it is certain that they will remember what they have been taught and be proud of the language of their parents, which will consist in the greatest awards the teachers will receive for their work.

MAY FROLIC

The Pioneers are inviting all members of the Interlodge League and the rest of their friends to attend their May Frolic, Saturday May 16th in the Slovene Auditorium. The Arcadian Melody Pilots will furnish the music and the admission is 50c. Confetti and serpentine will be distributed.

An ambitious schedule has been arranged for the summer in which the Pioneer baseball team will play games with several out-of-town lodges in their fight to retain the C. F. U. Title. The proceeds of this dance will be used to defray the expenses of the team in their out-of-town games.

BEACONS TO OPEN SEASON WITH WEINER ROAST

Saturday night, May 16th, will be the opening of the season with a Weiner Roast which the Beacons will hold at the picnic grounds of Silk's Farm. This roast comes as a demand from the people who have become acquainted to the hospitality and the good times which may be had when the Beacons are in charge.

Tickets are being bought early and with good reason since they are only 35 cents. For this occasion the Beacons will offer a "snappy" Trio to furnish the music with plenty of tasty refreshments. It should be a gala night for everyone. A roundup of all who are going will be made before 8 P. M. at the Slovene Labor Auditorium at Prince Ave. and East 109th St.

Monday Morning in Police Court

BY JOURNAL JESSIE

Thru the kindness of my good friends, Mr. Joe. P. Jaglenski and Mr. John J. Prince, assistant county prosecutors, I had the very great pleasure of meeting the Hon. Judge Martin L. Sweeney of the Municipal Court of Cleveland.

The pleasant and accommodating Judge Sweeney invited me to listen to some of his many cases. I was then honored by having the privilege of sitting on the bench with him.

After the usual formalities, which are necessary to open court, the Judge was confronted with 189 cases! Most of these cases were based on intoxication charges.

Here are some of the interesting cases which were brought up for Mr. Sweeney's good judgment.

When the Judge asked one of the men how it happened that he was arrested on a charge of intoxication, he gave this excuse: "Well—you see—Judge, my best friend's wife was visited by the stork, who left a little baby boy! So naturally, my friend and I went out to celebrate! And—I guess I had one glass too much!"

The Judge replied, "So you had to celebrate with your friend—eh? His first son? O. K. You're discharged! Do a little less celebrating in the future!"

Next case! Judge asked the defendant how long it was since he appeared in court last. John said, "Two years, your honor." Judge looked at him a while, and replied, "Well—go home and stay away for two more!"

One man told the Judge the policeman who arrested him did not know the difference between intoxication and neuritis! He explained that he was a victim of neuritis and under the care of a physician.

The Judge believed him and discharged him.

Tony, a young Italian boy then appeared. The Judge asked him what kind of stuff he had been drinking.

Tony answered, "Wine."

Judge then asked, "What kind of wine?"

"Dago red!" confessed Tony. "Well—let Dago red alone from now on! Alright—go on home and straighten up and stay away from here in the future!"

Helen, a woman who has a different husband and name every time she comes to court, was asked if it was a long time since she was arrested on account of intoxication.

"Oh yes—Judge!"

"How long is it?"

"Oh—quite long—Judge! About 4 or 5 weeks, I guess!" (Gosh—some of these people are used to arrests, charges and etc. Doesn't seem to bother any of them very much!)

A young colored man, who was practically barefooted, when asked what he did with his shoes, replied, "Well—to tell the truth—I lost them in a crap game!"

"SLOVENE"

Possibly it was with a purpose that Miss Fanny S. Copeland has used the word "Slovene" both as a noun, as well as an adjective, in her book "Beautiful Mountains" which was published only a few months ago. Throughout the book there is a continual use of the word "Slovene" as it is applied in the use of adjectives and as a direct noun when she referred to the people who live in the part of Yugoslavia termed Slovenija. We do not know what her purpose would be, or whether she would be allowed to use the term in writing about the people and their beautiful country, unless she had a real basis for her terminology.

Throughout the book one finds expressions such as; Slovene pagan trinity (Triglav), Slovene under-graduates, Slovene immigrants, Slovene Alpine Society, Slovenska Smer or the Slovene Route, Slovene Alps, Mountaineering as a sport was little cultivated by the Slovenes. Slovene hunters, with a Slovene for guide, luckless Slovene. These are expressions which are found on almost every page in the book, and doubtless, Miss Fanny S. Copeland, the author of the book, certainly was sure of her terminology so that she continually used the term.

Further, in a letter to the editor, Miss Fanny S. Copeland, in telling of the book states, "I am not a Slovene, because I come from Scotland, and am here to teach English at the University of Ljubljana where I have learned to love the town, the people and the country. . . This year I also at last found a Slovene artist, Mr. Edo Držaj, who fully entered into my thought and has furnished my text with pictures. . ."

For us to say any more than what has already been said about the word "Slovene" or "Slovenian" and their respective uses, would be useless and futile if the authority of a person such as Miss Fanny S. Copeland is not sufficient to carry the weight of authority in the use of the word. It is certain that nothing we can say will change anyone's ideas on the subject. For a clear understanding of Miss Fanny S. Copeland's uses of the words, may we explain that she is the teacher of English in the University of Ljubljana where she occupies the Chair of English. Certainly her authority and the use of the word would be sufficient to convince the most obstinate in the use of the word. If a professor of a language in the focal point of all Slovene interest is of no avail than it is certain that no further argument will be of any use.

"Beautiful Mountains" was written by Miss Fanny S. Copeland and was published by the Jugoslav Bureau, in Split (Yugoslavia).

DISCUSS CHARTER

The zero hour is approaching, when the electors of Euclid will decide, on what form of government will be in effect in January 1st, 1932.

There are some who favor the present system of government, others who favor the council ward system with elective mayor by the voters, and still others who favor the manager form of government.

The charter as drawn by the charter commission, advocates or indorses the manager form of government, and a council of seven elected at large, presumably of the candidates in the field the seven receiving the highest amount of votes to be elected.

The commission argues that the manager plan has proven successful in quite a number of towns all over the country, that may be true, but? For example to Euclid, by our friendly neighbor Cleveland, we could hardly believe, that it worked such wonders.

The bad feature of this charter is the election of the council-at-large. It extends an opportunity to a political machine to form a small slate, and with ardent support towards its election, thereafter controls the whole situation. It robs the community centers of true representation, as all councilmen may be elected from one locality, and all of the rest would be deprived of their rights and representatives.

The Jugoslav Progressive Club upon considering these two main points in local government, has decided to hold several open meetings on the local charter issue.

The first of these meetings will be held, tonight at Noble School, Babbit Rd., at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The next meeting will be held at Roosevelt School on E. 200th St., on the following Friday, May the 22nd, also at 8 o'clock in the evening.

There will be speakers to explain the situation to the voters, and the voters are invited to attend these meetings, as they are for their own interest and good.

The Jugoslav Progressive Club

Collinwood News

By Lindy Lokar

A large crowd was on hand at the Concert and Dance sponsored by the Collinwood S. D. Z. lodges, Saturday evening at the Slovene Workingmen's Home on Waterloo Road. The net profits from the affair will be shared by the S. D. Z. unemployed members.

Thunderous applause was the way the crowd answered to the singing of the Lausche-Udovic Duet.

The stamp of approval for their fine work was also given to the performance of Mr. Frank Plut, Mrs. Mary Ivanush, Dr. William J. Lausche, the singing societies "Zarja" and "Soča" with generous applause.

We must not forget our "own" Collinwood Sokol who opened the program with a bang. They were under the personal direction of Mr. Wally Lampe and Mrs. Anna Vadnal. They certainly showed the crowd that attended what hard training and patience can accomplish.

Mr. John Rozanc acted as the master of ceremonies for the evening. Mr. Primoz Kogoj was the main speaker.

Last Sunday evening the Slovene National Home on Holmes avenue witnessed a real evening of entertainment when the Young Ladies' Sodality and the Holy Name Society presented a play "Ann's Little Affair," a comedy sketch in three acts. The play was presented on the occasion of the 25th Anniversary of St. Mary's Parish.

Miss Anna Lozar played the leading part as Anna Lane, being ably assisted by Mary Princ and Frank Erzen.

Joseph (Joey) Sodja, alias, "Banjo Buddy," entertained the audience during the intermission. The applause he received confirmed that he was well liked.

The Holmes avenue Slovene Home was packed to the doors. Even standing room was not available and many were turned away.

The Arcadian Melody Pilots furnished the music for the Holmes avenue presentation while the Strugglers' Harmony Aces and Eddie Simms supplied the numbers for the Waterloo celebration.

Last Saturday night, the Strugler Quacks celebrated their 1st Anniversary at the Home of Mr. William Perusek. It was in the form of a card party. Although a few of the "Ducks" were missing, their names account for their past disappearances.

The Strugglers' Harmony Aces returned last week end from Girard, Ohio, where they played for the Golden Eagles Dance.

Don't forget, Decoration Day must find all Slovene in Euclid, Ohio, America's "Bela Ljubljana" where another of their famous anniversaries will be celebrated. Decoration Day is the time when the officials of "Ljubljana" will be selected. Strugglers' Harmony Aces will furnish the music.

All of the Strugglers who have made reservations for the trip to Canton on Saturday, May 16th, (Tomorrow) are urged to be in front of Mandel's Drug Store not later than 5:30 P. M. Bus will be there at 5 o'clock. Come early and get the pick of seats. Louis Simoncic will furnish the accordion music while the singing will be done by the Quacks, singly and collectively.

JAKAC FAREWELL

toastmaster for the evening. Every thing was conducted in Slovene and all of the talks except that of Dr. F. J. Kern, who made the initial talk and that of Mr. Eddie Rebol were in English all others were in Slovene. In the list of speakers were included: Dr. F. J. Kern, president of the school board; Mr. Louis F. Truger, teacher; Mr. Frank Oglar, member of the board; Mr. Anton Terbovec, another member; Mr. Ivan Zorman, poet and teacher of the school; Mr. Eddie Rebol and Mr. Frank Truden, both officers of the Slovene School classes.

Gives Two Pictures

Mr. Bozidar Jakac, the last speaker on the program, told of his impressions of America and what it meant to him to be a visitor in America. He praised the activities of the youth and especially the interest they took in their mother language which he said was significant for the future of the language and Slovene culture in America. In response to the gift which the Slovene School made to its friend, Mr. Bozidar Jakac reciprocated with a picture of Rickard Jakopic and Milan Jarc. The former is the dean of Slovene artists and the latter, one of the promising Slovene poets. Mr. Bozidar Jakac made the presentation as the beginning of the gallery of famous Slovene men which he said the Slovene School would gradually build so that it would be a representative collection in time.

To Entertain in Europe

Mr. Bozidar Jakac also expressed himself as being sorry to leave this country especially after he has grown to love it and have so many personal friends who have been so good to him on his stay in America. In a personal talk with some of the students he expressed the hope that he would be able to entertain the whole group when it came to Europe.

There were thirty-four people at the gathering consisting of the members of the Slovene School classes, exclusive of the guests who consisted of Dr. and Mrs. Kern, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Truger, Mr. Ivan Zorman, Dr. J. W. Mally, Mr. Terbovec and Mr. Fr. Oglar.

IVAN ZORMAN CLUB BANQUETS

when the club itself stands not only in honor of Mr. Ivan Zorman, but also as an expression of everything that is best in Slovene life in America. It is a club that fosters progress and real interest in Slovene affairs and Slovene progress in America. Every year each member is called upon to express his opinions of the progress in the past year and some very interesting opinions are raised and very original ideas propounded which serve as food for thought and possible action during the ensuing year.

Traditional also, have become the chairs which every member occupies. Each is assigned a number which he keeps as long as he is a member of the club. No more new members will be taken into the club until some of the charter members leave it unoccupied by death. The guests in the proper seating are: Mr. Janko N. Rogelj, Mr. Louis Erste, Mr. A. Plevnik, Mr. Paul Schneller, Mr. Anton Terbovec, Dr. F. J. Kern, Mr. Ivan Zorman, Mr. Tomazic, Mr. Vatro Grill, Mr. John Bukovnik, Mr. Frank Oglar, and Mrs. J. Rotter. The invited guests occupied the next set of chairs around the banquet table. They were: Mr. Bozidar Jakac, Mr. Frank Suhadolnik, Mr. Primoz Kogoj, Mr. Svetozar Banovec and Mr. Louis Belle.

Because Mr. Bozidar Jakac and Svetozar Banovec are leaving for Europe shortly the club has decided by unanimous consent to leave the chairs No. 14 and 17 vacant at all the future gatherings because of their interest in Slovenes in America. This is indeed a very unique honor.

For the first time in the history of the club has a picture of

Newburgh News

A scholarship of $250.00 to be spent in studying this summer, was recently won by Miss Theresa Kodih, 3736 E. 77th. St.

The course, lasting from June 15 to August 15, is for industrial girls and is given at "Bryn Mawr College," near Philadelphia, Pa. Working girls from all over the country apply every year and a small number of them are chosen.

Only three were chosen from Cleveland this year, and these were judged for their personality, their ability as leaders and their industrial experience. To be accepted into the summer course at Bryn Mawr is held to be an unusual privilege. Miss Kodih was born in Newburgh, went to St. Lawrence's School, is a member of St. Lawrence Alumni and also a member of the Craspr Girls' club at the Aetna House of the University Neighborhood Centers and also is the volunteer leader of the "Cushy Girls" club of younger girls. She is moreover one of the leaders among the young people in the St. Lawrence Parish, being very active in social and educational work.

A surprise wedding shower was given last Saturday night by Mrs. Caroline Pluth in honor of her sister Miss Francis Vene. 75 guests were present—received beautiful gifts—refreshments were served. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing. Miss Vene will be married May 20th, at St. Lawrence Church, to Mr. Frank Godec.

"Marzanka" three act musical play, given by the Sponsoring Committee of the University Center Neighborhood clubs, Sunday, May 17th and Monday May 18th at the University center play shop, 7063 Broadway.

Commences at 7:30 P. M. Admission 25c.

Two clubs, "the Craspr Girls" and the "Newburgh Nightgale" are taking part in the program.

The singing society "Zvon" is rehearsing for their concert which they will give in Girard, Ohio, May 30th. The program will consist of male choruses and mixed choruses, quartets and solos.

The solos will be given by Mr. Vincent Zimsek (tenor), Mrs. Mary Mauer (alto), Mrs. Agnes Zagar (Soprano).

Mr. Joseph Kogoy will accompany at the piano. The program is in charge of Mr. Primoz Kogoj.

WOODMEN CIRCLE HONOR MRS. NOVAK

with a gift. A like token was also presented by the captain of the Mayme Hippler Guards. Mrs. Novak responded with an expression of sincere thanks for the co-operation she had received and expressed a hope that she will worthily carry out the trust placed in her.

As a part of the memorable program, Miss Sintich entertained with a dance and also sang. She was assisted at the piano by her sister. Miss Frances Andolsek, Mrs. Julia Glavan, Misses Olga and Vic Koporc also sang.

The program was followed by a luncheon prepared by Mrs. Krizman, mother of Mrs. Albina Novak. She was assisted by Mrs. Kasunic, Mrs. Julia Bradac and Mrs. Misic. Misses Posch and Andolek helped them with preparations.

The reception was planned as a surprise party on Mrs. Novak and was excellently planned by Miss Josephine Bencin and assisted by the Posch sisters, by Mrs. Josephine Seelye, Mrs. Jennie Jeric, Mrs. Mary Andolek and Mrs. Theresa Zelle.

The evening will be one of the outstanding things in the mind of Mrs. Novak as well as all the others, who attended the meeting.

The whole group been taken this year. Mr. John Bukovnik, local photographer, brought his camera and did the work while all of the members and the invited guests were still at table.

OREL CLUB HONORED MOTHERS, LAST SUNDAY

Many Numbers Contribute to Honor Mother

Orel's annual tribute to mothers last Sunday at the Slovene National Home attracted a favorable audience. In the hall could be seen mother after mother taking with tears and smiles the laudations and honors heaped upon them from the stage.

It truly was a Mothers' Day program, for every single part of the program had but one theme—that of mother.

Featuring the celebration was a four-act drama "Bele Vrtnice" a splendid interpretation of a mother's undying love for her son. Incidentally, we have never before seen a play so thoroughly given up to mother and so beautifully portraying her love. It seemed as if the play was especially written for this very occasion.

The acting of the play was first standard. A realistic aspect was given the play by the true characterizations of the actors. Mr. John Zalaznik, portraying Leon the son, although a bit quiet, still showed up well, playing a rather difficult role.

In various stages he had to portray joy, rage and finally death, which he did quite naturally. His mother, Alma, acted by Mrs. Tomazic could be no better—enough said. Mr. Rudolph Antoncic, portraying Debeljak, put on best acting of the evening. A young man, he portrayed an old character, which in itself was quite a task, yet in every move he typified the actions of an old man.

It was a great play, finely acted and greatly appreciated—and no wonder, for every actor was a veteran and offered his best.

By far, the play was not the entire program—much more awaited the mothers. An array of the best known Slovene singers paraded before the astonished audience. Mr. John Bambick, the light of Newburgh, making his appearance on St. Clair rendered some good numbers and was given a warm reception. The Koporc sisters, ever popular, did their song with their usual brilliancy, but disappointed the audience a bit when they would give no encores altho demanded. Besides this, a newcomer crept deep into the peoples' hearts—this was young Rose Miklavz, who made her debut as a soloist on the program and showed that she will be a star among the Slovenes.

She has a brilliant voice, with which she wins over all the people. Let's hear more of you in the future, Rose. However, the mothers were treated to their greatest surprise when Mr. Anton Šubelj, Slovene songbird from Ljubljana, made a surprise appearance and dedicated a beautiful song to the mothers—"Mamica Moja." With his personality, it is not surprising that he carried off the honors for the evening.

Besides this, there were also gymnastic drills, recitations and a chorus of small girls.

Quoting the mothers themselves, the program was worthy of the dedication to mothers, and never before, have the Orels dedicated such a rich and well balanced program to the mothers.

HONOR ST. VITUS PASTOR

was established in 1893 and is one of the largest Slovene communities in America today, with a membership of 1400 families with 1380 children who attend the parish school. The instructions are under the charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame.

For twenty-five year, Rev. B. J. Ponikvar has been in charge of spiritual as well as temporal welfare of the people trusted to his charge, executing those offices which he was entrusted. These, no doubt, are a source of comfort to him at this time. The outstanding achievement is the new church, which is being built now. It will be a monument to untiring labor on his part and a tribute to him and the Slovene people of St. Vitus.

TO TELL OF TRIP TO BATTLE FRONT

William J. Kennick, Slovene attorney and member of the American Legion, will speak at the meeting of the Lake Shore Post, Thursday evening. In his two years of travel in Europe and America, Mr. Kennick visited some 40 states and countries. Mr. Kennick will also tell of the bicycle trip he made to the battle front in 1920, and every legionaire is urged to attend the meeting.

SAFRANS SURPRISE

Last Saturday evening (and a good part of the morning, too) the Safrans of 1001 E. 62nd St. entertained with a real old fashioned house party. The occasion was the 49th birthday of daddy Safran. And what a pleasant surprise it was for him. So Bill ("Sharkey Boy") and Co. (Vera, Louise, Justin and Mai) arranged the whole thing. Included among the eighteen guests were Augie Hecovar, the Kober brothers, Ernie and Eddie, Mr. Fiftol, the Sternish sisters with brother "Lefty," "Froggie" Jonas and Anthony Milavec.

The Safrans believe that variety is the spice of life and planned their party accordingly. The informal dinner included meats, vegetables, fruits, cakes and beverages of every description. Yes, there were cigars, too. (It isn't safe to add "for the men"). And music and dancing, of course.

Some of the gifts were decidedly novel. Mrs. Safran presented her husband with a big, bulky package heavily wrapped. Everybody guessed that it was one of those little Austin cars. After removing numerous layers of paper, Mr. Safran coaxed out a nice shining gold-piece. Son Bill produced a box of cigars, (tailored to order) with the cigars ranging in size, so as to correspond exactly with dad's 49 years. Some clever wag (anonymous, and thus the world loses a genuine sneaked in a pair (pink) of silver mesh "unmentionables".

A jolly good time there was till near daybreak. Here's hoping Mr. Safran sees the half century mark next year, and that he keeps right on going for another half!

MONDAY MORNING IN POLICE COURT

(These darkies sho' love the ole game—eh?)

Two shop-lifters were brought in! In the presence of the May Company store detectives who made the arrest, they denied the charges and called the detective a "liar!"

(Yes, you're right! They were sent on a vacation out on a farm, which bears the name of "Warrensville").

A goodlooking, athletic looking was asked why he had been drinking.

"Well—Judge—the baseball team of which I am a member played a game yesterday and after the game, we all had something to drink, and I guess I had too much!"

"Who won the ball game, Joe?" asked the Judge.

"We did—your honor. Congratulations, Joe! I hope you win a lot more games, but do less celebrating after the games! Alright—you're charged!"

So you see—Judges are really human and understand most of the people they deal with! They know bad characters from first offenders. They're not really "hard" as you think!

After a young boy had been sent home, Judge Sweeney whispered to me, "That's what prohibition has done! We didn't have such young boys appearing before us on intoxication charges before prohibition!"

FRANCES T. GERBEC

CONCERT

"Zarja" the outstanding singing society in our community will present a concert next Sunday evening, at 8:00 P. M. at the Slovene National Home, St. Clair and East 65th St.

Following the men's and women's chorus, there will be a few selections of national folk songs, acted in costume and amid national scenery.

Mrs. Mary Ivanush and Mrs. Josephine Millavec have promised a duet and Mrs. Antoinette Simic will sing Ivan Zorman's "Pomlad." Mr. Louis Belle and Mr. Frank Plut, our popular artists, will also give solo selections.

Mr. Valentine Turk's orchestra will furnish the music after the program.

HONORED GUEST

There was a breakfast given at Hotel Cleveland honoring Mr. Anton Cujan, secretary of Chamber of Commerce of Zagreb, and representative of the Yugoslav government at the recent International Chamber of Commerce meeting at Washington, D. C.

Besides Mr. Michael Cerrezin, Atty., who officially received Mr. Cujan in Cleveland, the guests included Mr. J. Mihaljevic, Mr. Mark Kasunic, secretary of the Custodian Savings and Loan Co., in Collinwood and Mr. Paul Schneller, secretary and manager of The International Savings and Loan Co.

Mr. Cujan has come to America primarily to examine the American methods of finance and industry. He was very curious about the Slovene National Home in Cleveland, as he had heard very much about it in Europe. He was anxious to visit our Slovene factory, here, in Cleveland, and was especially interested in the Slovene and Croatian fraternal organizations and our financial institutions.

He showed remarkable interest in the American Slovene youth, and questioned the leaders what move could be made to keep a closer national relationship between the two countries. He felt that heretofore the Yugoslav people, as a nation, were very busy building one national out of three, and that fact prevented them from getting a closer contact with the promising new generation in America.

Mr. Cujan will visit Detroit and Chicago and then leave for Yugoslavia.

BRIDGE PARTY

Miss Jennie Kokal was the hostess at a bridge party given at her home, 1197 East 176 St., May 5, 1931.

The guests were, Misses Caroline and Anne Budan, Theresa Kovacic, Lillian Novak, Mrs. Al. Glicker, Mrs. Frank Kramer and Miss Honey Kramer. Miss Kovacic won a beautiful piece of imported pottery.

Some very interesting plans were made for outings and the first one was scheduled for June 7th, at Fidel's farm in Madison, Ohio.

The luncheon consisted of combination salad, maple nut cake and coffee.

This group has been meeting every two weeks for the last four years. It is headed by Miss Honey Kramer, who is the chairman.

DANCE

St. Paul's Choir is sponsoring a dance next Sunday evening, May 17, at St. Paul's Auditorium on East 40th St., at 7:30 P. M.

The Balkan Tambourines will furnish the music.

Don't forget. Sunday evening at St. Paul's Auditorium.

Our National Costume

It was Sunday morning.

The rose-colored light of dawn in the dark blue heavens permeated the black silhouette of the long night and obliterated the shadows that crept up, here and there, as strange ghosts that had lost their way or refused to be cajoled back into their dark dungeons. The balmy air was fresh and smelt sweetly of dew-decked hay. The flowers were yet too tired to open their sleeping faces and exhale their perfumed breaths, but the strong brown stanchions of trees, filled with noisily chirping nestlings were already half-lazily waving the morning's greetings, with their glistening and fluttering leaves. The sadly melodious notes from the red steeple of the little white church on the isle again proclaimed another day.

Peace reigned supreme as grandmother and I tiptoed to the oak chest by the window. I can distinctly remember how sadly and sweetly my grandmother smiled as she reverently unlocked the heavy lid and produced first one piece of loveliness, then another.

"Do you see the long white piece of finely embroidered white linen, edged with the thin wide ruffled Cluny lace?"

Ceremoniously she folded the three corners into a tie about her head. The effect produced an elongated crown that gave distinction to the proud face, and a superiority to the dark blue, full-skirted long dress of heavy silk with its high collar and long sleeves, embellished with thin ruffled inch-wide lace. Black slippers and hose, a long, full apron, a metal belt fastened with a bright ribbon, earrings, a small brooch at the collar, a pendant on a fine gold chain, and a prayer book completed her costume.

"How proud you look, grandma. It seems as if this very minute you were living over your youth. I know. You are thinking of the young mountain lads who courted you. Why, you are actually blushing!"

"Yes, dear, I am thinking of all that and I am thinking of much more. I am listening at my mother's feet as she is telling the weird and cruel tales of the Turks when they came to spill our blood as we maintained a bulwark for civilization. Yes, I am dreaming of your grandfather during the Austro-Italian War. He came to me one evening when I thought he was at the front, and showed me his gruesome face with its slashed jaw, bleeding and hanging open."

"How terrible!"

"But I mustn't frighten you, child. There are some lovely memories too. How thrilled your grandfather was when he first heard you speak Slovene. I believe you couldn't understand that there were old people in this world and you asked him, 'Zakaj pa imate Vi tako popentane mustafe? Jakob jih pa nema.' One night as he lay on the cot, tired after the day's thrashing, you cried yourself to sleep because he wouldn't dance with you. Do you remember when he scolded you for spilling the whole churn of cream? When you had gone out to play, again, he told me, with a shaking voice, how dear you were to him, and tears gathered in his eyes."

"Look, grandma, just look at that lovely red shawl," I managed to say, hiding my face.

That one was purchased in Trieste, where it was most probably brought from Venice or the Orient. Shawls are folded diagonally and worn over the white linen blouses, with their collars of soft ruffled lace, and their wide pleated sleeves with lace cuffs. The long full skirts of dark green violet, brown, or dark deep red, heavy silk are adorned

RECITAL

The Yugoslav Art Exhibit is being held at the Main Office of the Cleveland Public Library, including contributions made by Miss Sunderland of the St. Clair and E. 55th St. Library and Miss Irma Kalan.

There are two embroidery pieces from the school of embroidery at Zagreb and three from a bazaar in Sarajevo, a hand made gold bracelet from Belgrade, a pendant from Split and a lovely lace centerpiece from Ljubljana.

The exhibit will be held for possibly two more weeks, and may be visited on the third floor of the library.

DESSERT BRIDGE

A bridge party was held at the home of Miss Genevieve Schneller, 463 East 120 St., last Sunday, May 10, 1931.

Misses Anne and Mary Orenck, Frances Drassler, Irma Kalan, Rose Basca, Maxine Steinitz and Mrs. Mesner were the guests of the evening.

Miss Drassler won a dance handkerchief as the first prize and Mrs. Mesner, a chocolate bottle of champagne.

Menu: strawberry and pineapple sherbert with whipped cream. Cookies and chocolate.

It may be mentioned that Miss Schneller has an unusual tact and ability to provide her guests with the most pleasant and enjoyable evenings.

PRIVATE BANQUET

A private banquet was held on May 6 at the Hotel Cleveland dining apartments celebrating the third anniversary of the Terminal Garage, supposedly the largest in the world.

Mr. Ralph Cook of WJAY accompanied by Mr. Don Beutel on Violin sang a few selections. The popular Gerald Jackson, negro tap dancer, danced and sang the blues.

Mr. Frank Gerbec furnished the piano accompaniment.

with three rows of narrow black silk or velvet. The bodices, fastening in front with gold or black cording are made of the same material as the skirt, in some sections, but in others, velvet or brocade is used. A black silk apron, edged with lace is worn covering the front ends of the shawl and fastened with wide black silk ribbon that reaches almost to the hem. The 'avba' a head-piece of white, thin and fine ruffled material, lined with red taffeta, supported in front by a wide band of black velvet or silk and decorated with gold spangles and raised cording, is tied in back with a narrow ribbon which falls over the shoulders and reaches the waistline. The bride usually wears a wreath of flowers pinned on the upper portion of the band of the Avba and the 'debutante' in most parts affects a braid about her head. The style discouraged the use of much jewelry, but gold earrings were sometimes used, and, later on, gold pendants on gold chains or velvet ribbons were worn.

We were both loath, my grand mother and I, to put aside and lock up those beautiful memories again, but the clock in the kitchen dispelled all our dreams as we hurried into our street clothes and wended our way. I with my unsecure and free gait and my grandmother with her hard and faltering tread, holding each other, bracing each other, past the crucifix by the stony wayside, past the tall pines that softly murmured over us, past the rocky and difficult descent into the valley, into the small boat, and up again, over the craggy steps that led into the beautiful little white church, one Sunday morning.

BUS RIDE

Comrades will leave on a bus in front of the Slovene National Home, East 65th St., promptly at 6:00 P. M. Saturday, May 16. Approximately thirty-five members are going to attend the initial dance of the newly organized S. N. P. J. lodge "McKinleyites" in Canton. Members are requested to be prompt in order to avoid unnecessary delay. Bus load of Strugglers from Collinwood will also make the trip.

ART

A few of Mr. Bozidar Jakac's recent masterpieces are in exhibit at the Cleveland Museum of Art.

There is one pastel "Industry" three drawings, "On the Hill," San Francisco, Cal., "At Night," Washington D. C. and "An Alley," two relief cuts "Judas Iscariot" and "Illustrations" to book of poetry by Ivan Zorman, which received honorable mention.

"On the Hill" won third prize in drawings.

SOCIAL

Sixty Comrade members and guests were present last Thursday, May 7th, at the St. Clair Neighborhood Center. They played Sixty-Six, Bridge, Pinochle and danced to the music of Jack Zorc's accordion. Monthly socials sponsored by the Comrades were concluded last Thursday.

DINNER

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Vatro Grill at Roland Road in Lyndhurst, Ohio, was the scene of an informal dinner honoring Mr. John Dolcic and his mother of Girard, Ohio, and Mrs. Mary Oblak of Youngstown, O.

The evening, under the expert supervision of the lovely Mrs. Grill was a distinct success.

LAKE RIDE

Private outings are planned by Comrades for June and July. The popular Lake Rides of 1928 and 1929 will be revived on August 27th. Another harvest dance is scheduled for October 4th.

VACATIONIST

Miss Julia Mramor, of 1523 East 173rd St., a nurse in training at Western Reserve is at home for a two weeks' vacation.

DEATHS

Mrs. Ivana Kromar, 998 E. 63 St., died last Thursday morning, May 7, 1931, at St. Luke's Hospital, and was buried at Calvary cemetery.

Our sympathy!

MENU SUGGESTION

Have you a waffle iron? Then try this suggestion for your next bridge.

Mix a batter of:
3 eggs
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup milk
3 teaspoonfuls of baking powder mixed with 2 cupfuls of pastry flour and 1/2 teaspoon of salt.

Be careful to fold in the whites of the eggs just before using the mixture. Nuts may also be added, if they are preferred.

Every iron is in different working condition and the hostess is the best judge in preparing this delicious delicacy.

If butter is served with waffles, warm cocoa is delicious.

On the Avenue

Who ever dreamt that brown and white would be the leading season's color contrast?

Shopping yesterday, I saw a brown crepe dress with long sleeves. White collar and cuffs embellished the costume. The model wore a brown felt hat with white gloves, brown hose and slippers. A brown leather purse was carried.

The effect was smart and chic.

Marriages

Mrs. Frank Luzar

The marriage of Miss Christine Trepel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trepel of 723 East 156 St., Cleveland, Ohio to Mr. John Urh of Waukegan, took place on May 9th in St. Mary's Church in Collinwood. Rev. Vitus Hribar officiated.

The future residence of the couple will be 1120 Adams St., N. Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Anthony Mlakar
—Bukovnik Studio

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laurich of 1177 East 58th St., Cleveland Ohio announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna to Mr. Anthony Mlakar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mlakar of 1045 E. 61st St., which took place on May 9th, 1931 at St. Vitus Church, Rev. B. J. Ponikvar officiating.

A reception was held at the groom's home for relatives and close friends. Following a wedding trip they will be at home at 6710 St. Clair Ave., after May 15th.

SHOWS MOVING PICTURES

Mr. Bozidar Jakac showed moving pictures of his travels through America. There were winter scenes from Idaho, views of Yellowstone Park, Niagara Falls, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Lorain, Cleveland, pictures of the Washington Monument and Potomac River, and scenes of Broadway at night and New York in general.

This display was made at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Janko Rogel, 6207 Schade Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

The guests were Misses Julia Mocnik, Irma Kalan, Anne Erste and Messrs, Frank Oglar, Heinie Martin, Frank Suhadolnik, Anton Druzina and Louis Levstek. Mr. and Mrs. Birk Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Erste were also present.

FAREWELL BANQUET

The senior division of the Slovene School showed its appreciation of the esteem as well as genius of Mr. Bozidar Jakac by honoring him with a farewell party on May 7, 1931 at the school rooms in the Slovene National Home.

A small boat, with "Bon Voyage" affixed in writing was placed at the seat of honor. Beautiful yellowish white roses and tall white candles with yellow butterfly bows decorated the speakers' table and streamers of yellow and green ribbons were appended from the side tables to the center of the main table.

Mr. Frank Suhadolnik presided, in very good Slovene, as the master of ceremonies. The speakers of the occasion were: Dr. F. J. Kern, Mr. Louis Truger, Mr. Janko Rogelj, Mr. Frank Oglar, Mr. Anton Terbovec, two class presidents of the Slovene School and Mr. Ivan Zorman.

The music was furnished by the popular Germ boys.

Before leaving, a toast was made to the honor of Mr. Jakac and a few national folk songs were sung.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petrovic, of 682 East 162nd St., announce that plans are being made for the marriage of their daughter, Josephine, on June 6th, to Mr. Jack Baltus of 15710 Holmes Ave.

SHOWER

Miss Josephine Petrovic of 682 East 162nd St., was honored with a surprise shower given by her friends, Thursday evening, May 7, 1931.

About fifty guests were present.

The Zimmerman boys were the musicians for the occasion.

RECUPERATING

BIRTHS

Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Surtz, of 14506 Shaw avenue on the birth of a baby girl, Sunday, May 10th, 1931.

She will be named Denice.

SPORTS

Comrades Cop First One, 5 - 4

Playing on a slow field, owing to the rain earlier in the day, the Comrades repelled the Orioles at Gordon Park, Wednesday evening.

Both clubs began the opening stanza with a barrage of wallops and for a while it appeared that neither of the starting pitchers would complete the game. However, as the game progressed it became plainly evident that both the hurlers, Lauch and Jeray were beginning to pitch things in their own hands and pitched masterful ball.

Comrades Tally Four in Inning

Nick Secolic, who started throughout the whole fray opened the initial inning with a single. Zalokar pushed him in with three base clout. Habian on first when Ed Yerse whiffed. Lauch unleashed a hard double scoring Zalokar and Habian and crossed the plate with the fourth run when Vic Zaletel, Sokol, ketball coach, was safe on an error. It was a bad beginning for Orels and Iggie Jeray, the Comrades making four runs in three hits, three errors, while the whiffed.

Orels Also Enjoy First Inning

The Gymnasts had their share of enjoyment in the opening. Pristov walked, Brinovec batted, Marinko singled sharply right and then Zabukovec, former Loyalties star, clouted a fly ball bringing Pristov to Marinko ahead of him. Mar Orazem, who played right also followed with a hard smashing single. Jarc then applied the brakes and whiffed Kostosek and Zak, ending the first inning. Three hits. Three runs. Three strikeouts.

Both outfits went hitless unless in the second canto. Ash from a hit by Pristov for Orels and another one by Lauch, the Comrades, there was nothing exciting in the third. Jarc fanned the side in the fourth. White Turk was the only batsman to hit safely in the same chapter.

Secolic Connects For Home

Nick Secolic, first man up, the fifth sent a line drive to deep left for a circuit trip. This was the fifth and what later proved to be the winning marker of the S. N. P. J. brigade.

The Orels attempted a rally their half. Brodnik singled. Jeray walked. Pristov forced Jeray, as Brodnik scored Brinovec hit a hard grounder which resulted in a fast double play. That was all for the Orels, holding them hitless for the remainder of the contest. Jarc also began to be more invincible and permitted but three scattered blows in the last four and one in the third inning.

Jeray granted ten hits, fanned eleven. Jarc permitted but three hits and breezed fourteen. Zolokar, Zabukovec, Secolic and Lauch starred at bat.

The Orels were erratic in the field. A little strengthening of the defensive should make these real contenders. The Comrades loom very powerful and should make trouble for the best of them.

LIEBHARDT NOW WITH TORONTO

Gleen Liebhardt, former Cleveland sandlotter who was recently released by the Athletics, has been signed to twirl for Toronto.
