Rosemary Arrives On Democrat Thanksgiving

Surprises Everyone But Mother and Dad!

By Uncle Stan

Uncle Stan

Ely, Minn. — Sitting around a table in a popular downtown cafe last Thursday evening was a group of happy-go-lucky youngsters...

Long legged Stan twisted himself free from imposing table legs, walked to the phone booth. Seconds later he returned to resume his place at the table...

"Gosh! I'm an Uncle!" First time, too! Gosh it felt good. Intermittently Uncle Stan interrupted conversation to repeat, "Gosh! I'm an uncle!"

It was too late to dash up to see the little lady and it was all Uncle Stan could do to hold himself back 'till morning came so that he could see the little tyke!

So taken in was Uncle Stan with everything, he almost forgot his faithful promise to his little niece that he would be her press agent...

PUBLIC NOTICE Richards Productions Company Ely, Minnesota Announces the Release of the new late 1939 Richards "Baby Girl" Rosemary — "Honey-lamb to you" Six pounds — 10 ounces "Eddie" Designer and Chief Engineer "Mary," Production Manager. The New Model, the first, was released Thursday, Nov. 23, at 7:05 p. m. ... features ... Two-ling power — Economical Feed — Free Squealing Changeable Seat Covers — Scream-lined body Water Cooled Exhaust The Management assures you that there will be no new models during the balance of the year.

Since first news of arrival of Rosemary, Uncle Stan tore loose over a dozen sets of buttons. Someone ventured to question: "Wonder what would happen if Uncle Stan became a daddy?" But not having risen to such great heights, only a bright and vivid imagination could answer that.

Deep down underground in the Sibley mine, Eddie Richards, the daddy was putting in his usual shift with other iron-ore miners. He figured something was about to happen any day. Tired from a hard day's work, Papa Richards arrived home to find the little house cold, and mama nowhere around...

There was another proud fellow. Recuperating from injuries in a fall, and still in a cast, Daddy Joseph Pechaver, father of Mrs. Richards (Mary), was all wrapped up in smiles when he was informed his moniker had been changed from "Dad" to "Grandpa"!

Uncles for the first time, with Uncle Stan of course, were his brothers, Little Al, Louis, Joseph and Frank Pechaver, the latter two with the United States Army in Fort Baker, California. Wait 'till they find out! Uncle Sam better set up a special guard around the booming cannon — cause that's cause for celebration when five Peach-Avar brothers become uncles at the same time!

Cousin Margaret Turk who is employed with the hospital gave Uncle Stan a new slant on the affair.

It indicated that Rosemary is slated to be a very tactful and shrewd politician. For the little lady timed her arrival to the minute, after all Democrats had finished eating their Thanksgiving Dinner. She arrived on Thanksgiving night set by the Democrats, and will be able (Uncle Stan thinks) to have a piece of white turkey meat on the regular Thanksgiving as observed by most Republicans.

It seemed that the fates ruled Uncle Stan should learn of his title several hours after the blessed event. For after turning out a record issue of the Shopper, he ate with Doc and Art, thence to the bowling alleys to see the Gopher girls drub the Kay Jay girls three straight. Meantime, that sweet nurse, Miss Katherine Kapsch burned the wires seeking the thrilled Uncle's whereabouts. But Cousin Margaret Turk saw him earlier that evening, and she called the cafe, and sure enough, the news was broken! Gosh! I'm an Uncle! Gee Whiz!
