»Tukaj sem ...«

Današnji odlomki govorijo o skrivnostnem božjem klicu vsakemu človeku in o njegovem odzivanju na ta klic. Tako slišimo v prvem berilu, kako mladi Samuel prepozna božji klic in se po nasvetu duhovnika nanj tudi pravilno odzove: »Govori, Gospod, tvoj hlapec poslušá!« Včasih je potrebno veliko časa, premišljevanja, molitve, prepoznavanja, da mlad človek spozna, kaj je njegovo življenjsko poslanstvo, življenjska pot.

Tudi apostol Pavel v drugem berilu razmišlja ob božji zamisli človeka, ki je skrivnostna celota duše in telesa. Obenem pa je človek polovično bitje, ki se dopolnjuje z drugim človekom drugačnega spola. Božji načrt dopolnjevanja moškega in ženske je velika mojstrovina, ki jo človek more živeti a tudi zlorabljati. Zato nas vabi k globljemu dojetanju človeka, spoštljivem odnosu do telesa vsakega človeka: »Ali veste, da so vaša telesa Kristusovi udje? ...tempelj sv. Duha!«

V evangeliju Janez Krstnik s prstom pokaže iščočima: »Glejte, Jagnje božje!« Glejta, to je odgovor na vajina vprašanja, on je pot, ki jo iščeta in ki je tudi vajima pot. Jezus jima pride naprosto s preprostim vprašanje: »Kaj iščeta?« Pomagal jima je, da sta sama sebi povedala, kaj pravzaprav pričakujeta. V zadregi sta vprašala: »Učenik, kje stanuješ?« Jezusov odgovor je zelo preprost: »Pridita in pogledjta!« Z drugo besedo, pridita in se na lastne oči prepričajta. In šla sta in videla, kje stanuje in tisti dan sta ostala pri njem. Poznejši apostol Andrej, eden izmed dveh učence, pa pridobi svojega brata Petra in ga pripelje h Kristusu.

Bog navadno kliče prek ljudi. Tako je stal pred Kristusom bodoči prvi papež: »Ti se boš imenoval Kefa«, skala. Vsaka človekova pot, ki je po božji volji, je mala skala ali opora tudi za druge. In vsakega človeka Bog pozna v dno duše, pa zato dobro ve, katera pot je zanj najboljša.

The ways we are called and how we respond are unique to each of us. If we look at our last two popes and their first feelings about being called to the priesthood, we find quite different stories. Benedict XVI recalled playing at making altars and celebrating Mass with his brother from an early age. Pope Francis, though coming from an equally devout background, took a different route. It was not till he was in his late teens that a conversation with a trusted priest friend led to him considering the idea of a priestly vocation. In fact at the time he was considering proposing to his girlfriend! Even then, the pathway was not straightforward. His father was pleased at the thought of the priesthood, but his mother, perhaps with the premonition mothers often have about the demands that would be made, was not keen at all. He was then taken gravely ill with an infection to the lung and underwent a serious operation. His first attempt at a vocation was with the local diocese, and it was only gradually that he discovered his true home with the Jesuits: quite a complicated path, but reassuring to us as we try to sort out what God is asking of us in our lives.

Of course, God’s call to us is not restricted to the priestly or religious life. By baptism we were all called to follow Christ as priests, prophets and kings. That calling can be worked out in the choices we make of our careers, our partnerships and our friendships. Each of our paths is unique; the only thing we can be certain of is that God will be asking something of us.

Gospel Teaching

John’s version of the calling of the disciples is concerned with how we grow in faith and so become disciples. As in today’s first reading, about the calling of Samuel, it is a process. First of all John the Baptist passes on two of his disciples to Jesus, repeating his declaration from the time of Jesus’ baptism that this is the “lamb of God”, the one who takes away the sins of the world. The disciples move towards Jesus but address him as “Rabbi”, a respected teacher. Jesus has turned towards them, and they ask him where he lives as a way of discovering where he gathers his teaching groups together. They want to learn. He invites them to come and see. They then spend the day with him, as a result of which Andrew is able to tell his brother Simon that they have found the Messiah. Jesus is not just a teacher. He confirms this by his recognition of who Simon is, where he has come from and who he will be.

In John's Gospel, faith is at times expressed as a coming to Jesus, and seeing in depth is compared with being blind or missing the point. This is how we too grow in faith. If we come to Jesus and spend time with him, we too may go beyond thinking of him as just a teacher and come to see him as the Messiah and more. But it is always Jesus who leads us; it is he who names us and reveals our true selves to us as he does with Peter.

Application

To discover our true calling and how to be a disciple we are called to follow the same pattern described in John's account. We may not come from an appreciation of the Old Testament and the knowledge his disciples brought. That does not matter. We bring ourselves, with whatever our particular strengths and weaknesses may be. We can know that we are invited to come to Jesus himself and spend time with him. This may be time spent in prayer, in learning about him, in just giving time to being with him. It is this gift of ourselves that will allow us to grow in our understanding of him and also of what he has in store for us.

We may not be the rock Jesus calls Simon Peter to be, but we will have a significant role to play. Our close acquaintance with Jesus, our living with him, our allowing him to touch our lives is what will lead us into both understanding and action. If we find it difficult to believe God has this special interest in us, we can also help each other discover our callings.

VZDRŽEVALNA DELA

V naši »hiši« nikoli ne zmanjka vzdrževalni del. To -krat smo se lotili zamenjave neonskih luči v spodnji dvorani. Potrebno je bilo zamejati stare transformatorje pri neonskih lučeh, pa smo ugotovili, da je bolj ekonomično kar zamenjati celotno luč, saj se njihova življenjska doba izteka, poleg varnosti je tudi boljši izkoristek.
