

Dawson, 5/5 1924

Dear Mici!

Accept my affectionate greetings, my dearest love. How are things over there and how are you? We were expecting you yesterday but with no luck so what is the reason you have not come here to Dawson?

So today I will send you those 50 dollars I have written you about. I will send them to Tone Novak and he will give them to you. So for this money you buy whatever you need, that is, a dress but not the dress for the wedding. Because we will buy the wedding dress when I come there. But with the money that you have, you buy some underclothes and a nice skirt so you will be dressed nicely before the wedding, and just do as you think best.

Today I am going to order the dress here for that beautiful day that we have been waiting for for such a long time. Write to me how things are there and if there is anything new.

I send my greetings to everyone and especially You.

May God be with you,

Ivan Bizjak
