FOR GOD, HOME AND COUNTRY

By FATHER KAPISTRAN This week, for diversion, Father Kapistran turns in a lighter vein to EPIGRAMS.

An epigram is defined: a short poem treating concisely and pointedly of a single thought or event, now usually ending with a witticism often satirical.

The epigram seems to be dying out; it should be revived. Perhaps the editor of Our Page might even sponsor an epigram contest.

The usual length of an epigram is from two two eight lines.

The following epigram describes an epigram:

The qualities all in a bee that we meet In an epigram never should fail: The body should always be little and sweet, And a sting should be felt in the tail.

Appropriate for Ember days and Lent is the following:

The miser fasts because he will not eat; The poor man fasts because he has no meat; The rich man fasts with greedy mind to spare; The glutton fasts to eat the greater share; The hypocrite does fast to seem more holy; The righteous men to punish sin and folly.

Advice for vacationers: He who a watch would keep, This he must do: Pocket his watch And watch his pocket, too.

Here is an old epigram written about a pale-faced lady whose husband's drinking habits showed themselves on a very prominent part of his face:

Whence comes it that in Clara's face The lily only has its place? Is it because the absent rose Has gone to paint her husband's nose? Perhaps the same husband wrote this one:

TO A BOTTLE 'Tis very strange that you and I Together cannot pull; For you are full when I am dry, And dry when I am full.

ON SUICIDE When all the blandishments Of life are gone, The coward sneaks to death, The brave lives on.

ON A LADY WHO SQUINDED If ancient poets Argus prize Who boasted of a hundred eyes, Sure greater praise is to her due Who looks a hundred ways with two.

Some epitaphs are written in the form of epigrams. Here is one from an English graveyard:

Ereath this stone, a lump of clay, Lies Isabella Young, Who on the twenty-fourth of May Began to hold her tongue.

Sir John Strange was a well-known barrister. On his tombstone is this compliment:

Here lies an honest lawyer; And that is Strange.

Mr. Stanley Zupan will call up the stone-cutter to make sure he isn't preparing one like this for the manager of Our Page:

Here lies an Editor, Lord rest the knave; He lied for a living, Now he lies in his grave.

This one is said to come from Philadelphia from the grave of William Wright:

Here lies the body of W. W. Who never more will Trouble you, trouble you.

Reopen Strike-Bound Plant

La Salle, Ill.—Of interest in local circles is the contract signed by the Matthiesen & Hegeler Zinc Co. workers, who have been on strike since Jan. 20 of this year.

It is edifying to see the men go up and sign the contract, for signing the contract means a regular pay-check again after many months without work.

Among these employees are numerous Slovenian men, and they are all mighty glad to get back to work again.

KSKJ MEMBER RANKS HIGHS ART STUDENT

Sheboygan, Wis.—Theodore Prislend, KSKJ member, has made an enviable name for himself in the art school of the Milwaukee State Teachers' College, from which he graduated in June.

Mr. Prislend took a four-year course in the art school, has been art editor of the Echo Weekly, student newspaper, and was the art staff of the college year-book.

Expo Spelling Winner Is Latin Student

Cleveland, O.—Winner of the Great Lakes Exposition spelling championship and possessor of a $250 award to further his education this week is a 15-year-old pupil of Cathedral Latin School.

He is John Dowling of 2088 E. 89th St., who survived a gruelling two-hour elimination Wednesday, July 7, which caused 14 other finalists to drop by the wayside.

Original contests to determine entrants to the spelling bee were held several months ago and resulted in selection of 24 pupils from schools in the Great Lakes region. Tuesday's semi-final bee eliminated nine contestants.

Other winners were: Clara Mohler of South Akron, national champion of 1935; Elfrieda Kertzman of Kendallville, Ind.; Maurice J. Spillane of Leroy, N. Y., and James Kehoe of Cleveland.

Would You Believe It?

Suppose A tells a dirty story to B in January, and A and B each tell the same story to two other persons in February, and in March each of these four tells the story to four others.

Continued in this way throughout the year, the one little seed of a dirty story planted in January, will harvest the unbelievable crop of more than 4,000 sins in the month of December. That means, the hellish spark ignited by the dirty story told by one person burned and blackened over 4,000 souls for which Christ shed his precious Blood!

That single germ of spiritual leprosy spat out so carelessly and with shameless laughter inoculated over 4,000 souls with deadly poison!

And would to God that these four thousand souls committed only the sin of listening to these dirty stories. But people, especially the young, harbor them in their mind, repeat them to others to all kinds of immoral thoughts, desires and even actions.

On account of the dangerous germs he carries about with him, a consumptive is segregated, the leper quarantined. Should then foul mouths that infect immortal souls with the deadly germs of spiritual disease be endured? A little spark of fire is hastily extinguished lest it lead to a great conflagration.

Should then the hellish spark of dirty stories remain unheeded when it devours countless souls for which Christ gave His life on the cross? No wonder our Lord said: "Woe to that man by whom scandal cometh (Mt. 18,7) and again, "It were better for him that a milestone should be hanged about his neck and that he be drowned in the depth of the sea" (Mt. 18,6). Certainly, a dirty heart is far worse than a dirty face. But how dirty must that heart be that delights in telling dirty stories, since Christ says, "Out of the bundage of the heart, the mouth speaketh" (Mt. 12,34).

YOUNG MEN TRIUMPHANT IN PARISH CONTEST

Louis Martincich Wins King Laurels

Joliet, Ill.—Louis Martincich Jr., 1410 N. Center St., is the new KING of St. Joseph's Parish. This royal honor is part of his reward for having won the Parish Supremacy Contest which closed July 5 on the last night of St. Joseph's annual parish carnival.

Readers of this page will remember a challenge to a parish supremacy contest issued by the Blessed Virgin Mary Sodality of Joliet to the Young Men's Holy Name Society of the parish, last April. The young ladies would put up a candidate from their sodality to run against a young man of the Holy Name group. The one to collect the larger amount of offerings for the parish would be declared winner. In the April 28 issue of the Glasilo there appeared the acceptance of this challenge by the "boys."

At the close of the contest, July 5, at Rivals' Park in Joliet, it was announced that Louis Martincich had returned the amazing total of $1,077.97 for the parish. To send more quivers up the spines of the fans came the announcement that Miss Dorraine Kalcic had returned $988.97. The King, Lucky Lou, had won by the small margin of $89. It was a record-breaking contest. All credit goes to the two contestants who worked so hard for the parish. Each received valuable souvenir gifts as a reward. Long live King Louis Martincich of the Young Men's Holy Name Society.

Outdoor Library

Cleveland, O.—A gay bit of the old world makes its appearance in the small park just east of the Main Public Library on Superior Ave. at E. 3d St. A brilliantly colored beach umbrella of gigantic proportions shades a green table and chairs on the walk that runs north and south through this little park. What better spot than this for the site of the Cleveland Public Library's new open-air reading room. This new service will combine the use of books with reading in the open air. Books and magazines may be read there without charge and no library card is needed to use this new innovation. The open-air reading room, which made its bow to the public on Thursday, July 8, is under the supervision of the Main Public Library and the Stations Department, of which Miss Edythe Prouty is the head.

Y.—Miss Mary Gallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallo of Brooklyn, became the bride of Michael Jurkovich of Brooklyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jurkovich, in a ceremony performed Saturday, June 26, in St. Brigid's Church in Ridgewood. About 150 guests attended a reception following the ceremony at the American Slovenian Auditorium.

VACATION

La Salle, Ill.—The Misses Ruth Schneller and Mary Shutte of Kansas City, Kas., spent a two weeks' vacation in this vicinity. While here they made a tour of Starved Rock, Illinois State Park, and of Deer Park, both spots being a part of Midwestern's scenic wonderland. They were also the guests of Miss Pauline Legan and Mrs. Frank Kernz of Oglesby, Ill.

BARAGAS WILL SPEND DAY IN OUTING

Milwaukee, Wis.—There are some members of the Knights and Ladies of Baraga who, because of their lack of interest toward the monthly meetings, would ordinarily have to seek more information regarding an outing this coming Sunday, July 18, at Army Lake.

At the June meeting the discussion of this outing was brought up and immediately a committee was put in charge of details. The committee, consisting of the Nite Owls, who incidentally seem to be the only group to "put over" anything they attempt and do it successfully, have made the necessary arrangements.

This affair will be held the Sunday, July 18, at Army Lake, with the group leaving Walker Square at 9 a. m. sharp. We will arrange transportation for as many as possible, and if your return post card is not in the mail by July 15, we will not be held responsible for lack of room. The fee will be approximately 50 cents.

Every member may bring a friend, that is to say, you ladies and men who are keeping company with someone outside the lodge may bring him or her along.

Be sure you mail your reservation so that the committee will know how many are going to attend and answer the question. Bring your lunch and meet at the above mentioned place at the specified time. There will be bathing, boat-riding, baseball, and refreshments. Do not forget to bring your own lunch! The Committee.

WAUKEGAN LODGE BILLS PICNIC

Waukegan, Ill.—The annual picnic of the St. Mary's Society, No. 79, will be held on July 25 at the Wire Mill Grove. The program will start shortly after 12:30 p. m. The committee in charge is now preparing a program so that all may enjoy themselves. An indoor game is also on schedule.

Every member of the lodge must be present on the grounds during some part of the afternoon. J. A. Cankar, Pres.

THANK YOU

For the Young Men's Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Parish, Joliet, Ill., as well as for myself, I wish to thank all those kind people who by their donations helped me to win the 1937 Parish Supremacy Contest. Louis Martincich Jr.

La Salle, Ill.—The members of the Holy Name Society of St. Roch's Catholic Church and the Rev. Father Leo, beloved pastor, wish to thank the members of the parish who helped to make the picnic, held by the Holy Name Society for the benefit of the church, such a huge success.

Especially noted was the spirit of good-fellowship and comradeship that prevailed at the picnic—a real parish gathering. It is hoped that St. Roch's, under the able guidance of the Rev. Father Leo, has the occasion of again sponsoring a parish picnic in August, for the feast of St. Roch, which falls on Aug. 16.

ST. ANNE

What a perfect mother Saint Anne must have been! We often hear the saying, "Like father—like son," but let's interchange that for, "Like mother—like daughter." Saint Anne, the mother of the one who is mother of all! Without Saint Anne we would have no Blessed Mary. For, it was Saint Anne who was the mother of the Blessed Virgin.

How pure must have been the soul of Saint Anne! How God-like must have been her life! For, were it not, she surely would not had been capable of possessing a daughter purer than the purest of lilies—rarer than the choicest gems. It would be pleasing, indeed, to Blessed Mary, were we to honor her holy mother. And, how grateful we ought to be for the opportunity of paying tribute to the greatest of all parents.

July 26 is St. Anne's day! Why not allow her to know that we love her with all our hearts! Why not invoke her, with an abundance of faith that she will be so pleased with our confidence as to assure us of a hasty response to our prayers.

And then, as a fitting termination to our prayers, would it not be appropriate to beseech Saint Anne as the "Mother of the Queenly Virgin," to intercede for us so that, some day, those of us who find it our vocation, may become like her, a truly saint-like mother!

Anne I. Jevitz, in the Hail Mary.

Following the ceremony and reception the couple left for a two weeks' motor trip, after which they will be at home in Brooklyn.
