PITT BOOSTERS COMPLETE PLANS; GALA TIME PROMISED

St. Joseph's Band Concert, Girls' Drill Team, Speeches to Feature Program

Pittsburgh, Pa.—There is not very much time left now until we have the opportunity of attending one of the grandest affairs of the Pittsburgh (metropolitan area) KSKJ Day held by the Pitt KSKJ Boosters and the lodges in this area on Sept. 5 at Schuetzen Park, Millvale.

There was a meeting held last week which was attended by all the secretaries and other members of the different lodges in this area, at which time a more complete program was outlined. This appearance of the secretaries and members encouraged the KSKJ Boosters to such an extent that we will do all we can, with their co-operation, to make this one of the biggest and grandest KSKJ Days in the history of our KSKJ. The representatives promised us every co-operation and that is what we have always desired—we know that they will encourage all their members to attend this KSKJ Day.

The St. Joseph's Band and the girls' drill team, 41 in all, will be here Sunday morning, definite time as yet not known—and they promise us a program of concert and band music and drills of all kinds.

Also we hope to have some supreme officers present, especially Mr. Frank Opeka, supreme president of the KSKJ.

The bus transportation will be provided for the small fee of 10 cents round trip. The first bus will leave 57th and Butler St. at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 5, and another at 2:30 p. m. from the Sarah Heinz House in North Side district, and at 2:30 p. m. a second bus will leave the corner of Bridge and Butler St., Etna (at Klobuchar's furniture store).

At 3:30 p. m. the two busses will be back at 57th and Butler Sts. to take the passengers to the picnic grounds: Schuetzen Park. This will be the last trip by the busses to the picnic. The bus drivers are instructed to pick up passengers along the way, so just hail the bus as it passes and you will be taken to the picnic to attend the greatest affair of the season.

Join in with the crowd and meet us at Schuetzen Park Sunday, Sept. 5.

Frances Lokar.

PAGE ABSENTEES

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Speaking about members who attend every meeting, St. Joseph's Society, No. 57, has one member who attends meetings regularly and he is Joseph Kobe, who is spending his vacation in New Jersey, but never forgets the first Saturday of the month, and after the meeting he returns to brother member, Paul Kapš, again and stays with him for the rest of the month. Keep it up, Joe.

A new KSKJ member today means a bigger KSKJ tomorrow. A bigger KSKJ tomorrow means better KSKJ. A better KSKJ should be the aim of every member!

Three La Salle KSKJ Members on Sick List

La Salle, Ill.—Miss Ann Budgen, member of St. Ann's Society, No. 139, is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, where she submitted to an operation for appendicitis on Aug. 12. Miss Budgen is getting along fine after her ordeal.

Mrs. Frank Widowski, member of St. Ann's Society, No. 139, is a patient at St. Margaret's Hospital in Spring Valley, Ill., where she underwent major surgery a week ago. Mrs. Widowski is expected to return to her home in La Salle this week some time, and her condition is reported as satisfactory.

Mrs. Anthony Gergovich, 1404 Crosat St., member of St. Ann's Society, No. 139, is very ill at her home. A week ago she underwent a blood transfusion, which was necessary to aid her in her fight for her health. The donor of the blood, Mrs. John Romano of La Salle, said she was glad to offer hers for such a critical case.

Novel Event Awaits Ambridge Jays, Friends

Moonlight Picnic, Dance Is Newest Venture

Ambridge, Pa.—The Ambridge Jays seem to awaken from their summer slumber, as they announce the moonlight picnic and dance to be held at the Ambridge Boro Park on Friday, Sept. 3, featuring the Kaiser's Red Hots (not frankfurters), who will commence swinging at 8 o'clock D. S. T.

This is a new venture for the local Jays and they anticipate the co-operation of the Jays in this district, especially the younger element.

The setting, namely the Boro Park, is a natural wooded park, recently improved by the WPA, who developed the driveways, dance floor, and ample parking space.

The Kay Jays from Canonsburg, Presto, Beaver Falls, Aliquippa and Burgettstown are cordially invited as well as the local Slovenians and vicinity.

Remember Friday, Sept. 3, at the Boro Park at Ambridge, and we guarantee you will remember Ambridge.

Guild's Lake Cruise Draws Record List Of Merrymakers

Choppy Seas Only Add to Thrills of Jaunt

Waukegan, Ill.—Setting a new high for the attendance record on an outing, the Actors' Guild of the Mother of God Church placed 41 reservations for their cruise across Lake Michigan on Sunday, Aug. 22. The trip was made on the excursion steamer S. S. Roosevelt across Lake Michigan with a stop at St. Joseph, Mich., where the members spent about four hours at the Silver Beach amusement park. At this park a picnic lunch was enjoyed by the members and their guests.

The steamer left the docks at Michigan Ave. bridge in Chicago at 9:30 a. m., steamed into the harbor at St. Joseph at 1:30 p. m.; left at 5:30 p. m. and came back to Chicago at 9:30 p. m. The members report of one of the most thrilling lake trips over stormy, choppy waters.

Miss Marie Grom, secretary of the guild, was general chairman of the committee making arrangements. Assisting her were Millie Gerchar, John Grom, Ed Swete and Anton Kolens. This excursion was the organization's annual outing.

Next month will mark the beginning of the guild's fall dramatic season.

New plays are being reviewed by the officers and board members, who will report soon on the first play selected. This will be presented sometime in November.

At the September meeting,

CANONSBURG JAYS OFFER ELABORATE ENTERTAINMENT

Speeches, Dances, Singing on Bill

Canonsburg, Pa.—With only a few days remaining, the Canonsburg Kay Jay Booster Club is all set for the great celebration to take place at St. Jerome's Home on Sunday of Sept. 5, and on Labor Day.

The two-day celebration opens with a picnic at Drenik's Park on Sunday at 6 p. m., with music to be supplied by Wassick's Orchestra. The dance will swing well into Labor Day morning and a grand evening of entertainment is promised for all visiting KSKJ members and their friends.

On Labor Day, the program opens at 2:30 in the afternoon. Prominent addresses are to be made by prominent men in public and KSKJ life. Heading the list of speakers will be Frank Opeka, supreme president of KSKJ, which is his first official KSKJ visit to western Pennsylvania. This will be a grand occasion for KSKJ members to get acquainted with Mr. Opeka, who hails from Waukegan, Ill. Completing the official list of KSKJ officials will be Rudman, Gorisek, Lokar, Pavlakovich and Decman.

The affair is also receiving outside recognition. The Hon. Clifford Patterson, state representative and a bulwark of Gov. Earle's administration, will address the audience. Assisting him in this work will be George J. Modrak, assistant district attorney, who will become a KSKJ member at the next meeting of St. Jerome's Society. During the program dancing and singing will be under the direction of Jimmy DiPalma, who will present a troupe of clever dancers and singers. The program will last about an hour and a half, after which a social period will take place. At 8 p. m. the grand ball will take place, with Red Carter and his band swinging the crowd into a happy KSKJ atmosphere.

Ambridge, Presto, Aliquippa, Beaver Falls, Pittsburgh, Burgettstown and many other sections have already signified their intentions to attend this affair, which is a joint sponsorship between the local Kay Jay Booster Club and the St. Jerome's Society. This day marks the first anniversary of the opening of the new St. Jerome's KSKJ Home.

KSKJ members and their friends from all sections are invited to attend this two-day celebration over Labor Day week-end. Two days full of activities have been planned to stir a greater interest in KSKJ.

We welcome you all!

which falls on the 20th, and is the annual meeting, a new executive board will be elected for the coming year.

And then There Were Seven

By A Catholic Mother

(Condensed from Extension Magazine by Catholic Digest)

(Conclusion.)

However, I had to admit that with the four babies, no help, and not too much money, I was somewhat disturbed when I discovered the fifth baby might be on its way. A few weeks later I awoke to the fact that I had lost one little soul without baptism.

Contrary to all predictions, however, I did not experience one minute of trouble previous to the birth of a baby daughter, one year later. She was unusually forward and remarkable in every way, so much so that everyone noticed it and remarked about it. At the age of 14 months God wanted her for Himself and, after an illness of only a few hours, we had to see her go. Only those who have suffered similar losses can appreciate the depth of our grief then. As always, though, we turned to Him who never fails to give us strength to bear our crosses if we but ask Him.

Nevertheless, when a third baby was lost, without ever having enjoyed the light of day, I was thoroughly depressed. The thought of what these little ones were losing in being unable to enjoy the beauty of God's countenance for all eternity was having a decidedly bad effect on the nerves. To make it doubly hard there were those who began to nod their heads and say, "I knew she couldn't hold up under the strain forever."

However, I dismissed my worries and began to enjoy the family I had. Another little girl came along ten months after we buried our little daughter. She was followed by a boy and he by still another girl so that now we have three boys and four girls, the oldest of which is ten years and the youngest ten months. Perhaps the distribution is not exactly right for a football team, which needs a dozen or more substitutes, but, with a couple more there is no doubt about a good baseball team.

Silly little scruples and worries are easily crowded out in a family like ours. There is a real problem in trying to feed and clothe all of these when circumstances are moderate and it is necessary to do all of one's own work. I shan't forget how completely occupied I was with the care of our first baby; so much so that I was positive it would be necessary to have help all of the time when the second one arrived. When that event took place, to my surprised I managed quite well, although I was sure that the third little stranger would make it imperative to find some way to keep a maid. Once more it seemed things went along about as smoothly as before, and after the fourth baby was with us and I was still getting along as well as ever, I concluded that the blessed Mother and the saints must be doing their share. From then on, there was no need to worry about any added work in the future. Today, with seven youngsters, I instruct the little ones in music, since our finances do not permit a teacher, and I am wondering what on earth I did with all my spare time when I had but one!

A great percentage of the objections to a large family come from the mistaken belief that it means the denial of practically all things one would otherwise wish to do. It has been said to me, "I wouldn't worry about getting a new kitchen linoleum if I were you with so many little feet to track it up." They didn't stop to think that to wait until all these "little feet" got to be "big feet" would mean walking on bare floors a long time. Perhaps we mothers of large families are not supposed to have nice looking kitchens. Well, I often have to wait for a kitchen linoleum—but thank God, not that long.

"I wouldn't bother to upholster that furniture until the children grow up." "Where there are small children one cannot have flowers." "Let the painting and varnishing go until the children are older." On and on this advice is poured out until it would seem a mother of small children is not supposed to have anything. We laugh at it all and when the children's feet have kicked holes in the linoleum, a few extra pennies put aside day by day soon gets some new. We paint the walls and woodwork and when the children's fingerprints have it thoroughly blackened, we paint again. I have my flowers and if sometimes they droop, I find it is because I have forgotten to water them. Now that my 9-year-old daughter has taken over their care, they are seldom neglected, and each one of the children, even to the baby, feels
