NEWSLETTER

President's Address

2009 is now behind us and hopefully the end of last year brought good fortune and happiness to you all. As we travel into this new year, the committee would be interested in feedback regarding the events held during 2009. If you have any suggestions or ideas, please have a word to any committee members or myself. We also appeal to the 2nd generation members of the club for ideas which would encourage participation by families. Any and all suggestions will be considered in our endeavour to develop the wellbeing and attendance of members and friends to our club. Teamwork is a powerful and motivating way forward.

Our first major event of the year was our Cultural Day held on 14th February. It was fabulous to see the large number of people in attendance. The day began with a BBQ lunch followed by informative talks about Slovenian culture led by Ivan Legiša and Vida and Frank Končina. A thank you to our commentator for the day, Rosemary Poklar. Thank you also to the choir conducted by Adrian Vatovec, whose program in both English and Slovenian keeps alive our memories of our Slovenian heritage through beautiful music and lyrics. A big thank you also to the people who worked from early in the day to late afternoon in the kitchen and around the BBQ to provide us with great food and our traditional 'Pustne krofe.'

The celebration of Carnevale was a small feature of this day. As a committee, we are looking at ways this can be developed so that next year, it is bigger and better.

If you are a regular attendee of the club, you may like to take a moment to have a look at the changes being made to the entrance foyer. When entering a venue, first impressions are very important.

Club bookings for the months to come are looking good. We are currently making contact with different associations in order to make connections and to advertise our club in the hopes that even more bookings will be made.

On behalf of the committee, 'Happy Birthday' to our hard working members, Milan Vrabec (January), and in February Cvetka Jamnik, Danica Kaluža, Branko Kresevič, Marjo Jenko and Katica Segulin.

I extend our warmest wishes to all members and friends here and in different Slovenian organizations around Australia and the world.

Looking forward to seeing you in the club.

Spoštovane Slovenke, spoštovani Slovenci, drage prijateljice, dragi prijatelji, prišel je čas slovesa.

Jutri - v petek, 12. februarja 2010 namreč zaključujem svoj mandat začasnega odpravnika poslov na Veleposlaništvu Republike Slovenije v Canberri. Prav tako jutri bom sedel na letalo in odletel proti domu. Delo na Ministrstvu za zunanje zadeve Republike Slovenije v Ljubljani bom nastopil v ponedeljek.

Priznati moram, da se v domovino vračam vesel. Vesel, da bom spet lahko posvetil več časa družini, in vesel, ker sem v zadnjih treh in pol letih v Avstraliji srečal in spoznal veliko čudovitih ljudi. Med temi čudovitimi ljudmi so Avstralke in Avstralci, prijateljice in prijatelji iz diplomatskega zbora, predvsem pa je med temi čudovitimi ljudmi veliko vas - Slovenk in Slovencev, ki ste mi vedno izkazovali osebno in profesialno naklonjenost in razumevanje. Menim, da ni potrebno posebej poudarjati, da sem vam za to iskreno hvaležen.

Po mojem odhodu bo položaj začasne odpravnice poslov veleposlaništva prevzela prijateljica in kolegica Mojca Nemec Van Gorp, ki bo v bodoče med drugim skrbela tudi za potrebe slovenske skupnosti povsod po v Avstraliji. O tem, da bo svoje poslanstvo opravljala odlično, ne dvomim. Kontakti veleposlaništva ostajajo enaki - z izjemo mojega, ki se skupaj z mano seli v Slovenijo.

Želim vam vse dobro in upam, da se naše poti še prekrižajo.

Prisrčen pozdrav,

Gregor Kozovinc Začasni odpravnik poslov, Veleposlaništvo Republike Slovenije, Canberra Ministrstvo za zunanje zadeve Republike Slovenije 11 Februar 2010

POSEBNE TRAJNE PRIZNAVALNINE UČITELJEM SLOVENSKEGA DOPOLNILNEGA POUKA V TUJINI

Informacije v zvezi s postopkom dodelitve posebne priznavalnine lahko dobite:

URAD ZA SLOVENCE V ZAMEJSTVU IN PO SVETU Komenskega ulica 11 1000 Ljubljana Telefon: 01/230 80 00 Telefaks: 01/230 80 17 E-pošta: urad.slovenci@gov.si

Zakon o odnosih republike Slovenije s Slovenci zunaj njenih meja (ZORSSZNM, Ur. list RS, št. 43/2006) v 2. in 3. odstavku 85. člena določa, da Republika Slovenija dodeli posebne trajne priznavalnine učiteljem in učiteljicam slovenskega dopolnilnega pouka, ki za poučevanje niso prejemali plačila, ter da se podrobnejši kriteriji za dodelitev in višino priznavalnine določijo z uredbo.

Na podlagi te določbe zakona je bila sprejeta Uredba o posebnih trajnih priznavalninah učiteljem slovenskega dopolnilnega pouka (Ur. list RS, št. 99/2008). Uredba se uporablja od 01.01.2010.

Uredba določa pogoje in postopek za dodelitev posebne trajne priznavalnine učiteljem slovenskega dopolnilnega pouka v tujini.

Po Uredbi so do priznavalnine upravičene tiste osebe, ki:

- so dopolnile 70 let starosti, in
- so najmanj 15 let dokazano brezplačno poučevale slovenski jezik med Slovenci zunaj Republike Slovenije.

Slovensko državljanstvo ni pogoj za pridobitev priznavalnine.

Vlogo za pridobitev priznavalnine vloži učitelj ali njegov pooblaščenec na Urad Vlade Republike Slovenije za Slovence v zamejstvu in po svetu (Urad). Vlogi je potrebno priložiti dokazila o dolžini brezplačnega poučevanja slovenskega jezika (v kolikor se je pouk vršil znotraj slovenskega društva ali sorodne organizacije v tujini, si lahko pomagate z obrazcem) in listine, iz katerih so razvidni rojstni podatki (izpisek iz rojstne matične knjige) in podatki o prebivališču v času poučevanja. Vlogi priložite tudi kratek življenjepis s poudarkom na obdobju poučevanja.

O vlogi za dodelitev priznavalnine z odločbo v upravnem postopku odloči Urad. Priznavalnina se odmeri v višini 60%-90% zneska osnove za odmero dodatnih pravic po predpisih o pokojninskem in invalidskem zavarovanju. Odvisna je od dobe poučevanja:

- za 15 do 20 let poučevanja 60% osnove
- za 20 do 25 let poučevanja = 70% osnove
- za 25-30 let poučevanja = 80% osnove
- nad 30 let poučevanja = 90% osnove

Priznavalnine po Uredbi mesečno izplačuje Zavod za pokojninsko in invalidsko zavarovanje Slovenije. Evidenco prejemnikov priznavalnine vodi Urad.

KORISTNI NASVETI:

1. Izpisek iz rojstne matične knjige

Če ste rojeni v Sloveniji, Vam izpiska iz rojstne matične knjige ni potrebno priložiti vlogi.

Če pa je listina (izpisek iz rojstne matične knjige) sestavljena v tujem jeziku, je potrebno v skladu s prvim odstavkom 177. člena Zakona o splošnem upravnem postopku in Haaško konvencijo iz leta 1961 predložiti tudi overjen prevod listine s pečatom APOSTILLE (razen listin, izdanih na mednarodnem obrazcu – v skladu s Pariško oz. Dunajsko konvencijo).

2. Pooblaščenec

Tistim, ki bivate v tujini, predlagamo, da v postopku dodelitve posebne trajne priznavalnine določite pooblaščenca v Republiki Sloveniji, ki Vas bo zastopal v tem postopku. Ni nujno, da je to odvetnik, kajti pooblaščenec je lahko vsaka polnoletna oseba, ki je poslovno popolnoma sposobna. Dejanja postopku, ki jih opravi pooblaščenec v mejah pooblastila, imajo enak pravni učinek, kot če bi jih opravili sami. Določitev pooblaščenca v Republiki Sloveniji lahko pospeši postopek, predvsem pri vročanju. V kolikor boste v postopku dodelitve posebne trajne priznavalnine določili pooblaščenca, je potrebno vlogi priložiti pooblastilo, da ga pooblaščate za zastopanje v tem Pooblastilo je potrebno postopku. lastnoročno podpisati. Ni potrebno, da podpis overite pri notarju ali na sodišču.

3. Sprememba naslova

Če med postopkom spremenite svoje stalno ali začasno prebivališče oziroma naslov, ki ste ga navedli v vlogi, morate o tem obvestiti Urad Vlade RS za Slovence v zamejstvu in po svetu.

Idrijski žlikrofi Get Special EU Status

STA, 14.01.2010

Brussels - The European Commission has registered idrijski žlikrofi, a type of ravioli from the western Slovenian town of Idrija, as a Traditional Specialty Guaranteed (TSG).

The status highlights the characteristic composition and preparation of the foodstuff, rather than its geographical origin.

Apart from the TSG list, products and foodstuffs can also get registered as Protected Designations of Origin or Protected Geographical Indications. All three lists currently comprise around 880 products or foodstuffs protected under the EU legislation.

According to information available on the European Commission website, the only other Slovenian product or foodstuff registered in such a way is the extravirgin olive oil from Slovenian Istria, which has a Protected Designation of Origin.

Several other Slovenian traditional foodstuffs are waiting to be registered by the European Commission, among them several types of cheese, ham, honey, pumpkin seed oil, prosciutto and cakes.

The legislative procedure for the registration is quite demanding. The petition for idrijski žlikrofi was filed as early as 2004.

Idrijski žlikrofi

Recipe Ingredients

Up to 300 g of white flour, 1-2 eggs, oil, some water or milk to make the dough softer

Filling

500 g of potatoes, up to 50 g of lad or chopped smoked pork fat, up to 50 g of onions, spices: chives, black pepper, salt, marjory.

The preparation process

The making of žlikrofi takes a lot of time and has several stages. The first one is that of making the dough. It is followed by the preparation of the filling – made of potatoes, minced lard of smoked bacon, onions, spices and herbs. The filling is formed into balls of the size of a hazelnut. The dough is rolled out into a thin layer and the balls of filling put on it. The dough is folded over the filling and pressed together between the balls, so that a sort of ear shape is gained. The upper end of each of the žlikrofi should be pressed down slightly, so that their characteristic hat shape is gained. The making of žlikrofi are strewn into boiling salty water, stirred and cooked in a covered pot. When they float and boil again, they are ready. Idrija žlikrofi are served with cracklings as well as various meat and other sauces. is thus ended, with only the last phase remaining – that of cooking.

Slovenian Heritage Collected in Digital Encyclopedia

Ljubljana - A beta version of the digital encyclopedia of Slovenian cultural and natural heritage was launched in February in Ljubljana. The encyclopedia seeks to include all types of heritage, as the knowledge on them is intertwined, Mateja Smid Hribar, who participated in the project, told the press.

The encyclopedia includes information on tangible and intangible cultural heritage and natural heritage. Its final version will include comprehensive information on some 350 sites, from those officially listed in heritage registries to those which do not exist anymore or those that are in line for proclamation as heritage sites.

Users can use the data to create personal thematic collections, as a teaching tool or in presentations to business partners. Data on nearby heritage sites will be just a click away.

Project manager Daniel Vladusic noted that the encyclopedia could enable virtual trips through heritage sites in the area in the future.

He noted that participation of the public would be of key importance. It will be possible to add photos, videos or audio recordings to the descriptions of individual sites.

The project, which can be accessed at www.dedi.si, will be presented to the general public at the end of September, the Ministry of Higher Education, Science and Technology said.

Partners in the project include the Science and Research Institute of the Slovenian Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National and University Library, the Ljubljana Faculty of Arts and the Surveying Institute.

KNJIGE – BOOKS

Finding Slovenia: A Guide to Old Europe's New Country tells the success story of a stunningly beautiful land that lifted from a feudalistic past to lead the European Union as an independent nation in the space of two generations.

Fleeing imperial Austria before the scourge of two world wars, the author's grandparents could never have imagined their homeland as a free nation. Centrally-situated in Europe, Slovenia's towering Alps, sun-drenched Adriatic coast, Old-World capital Ljubljana, castles, thermal springs and vineyards remain unspoiled.

The book presents an inside-outside view, exploring centuries-long favorite places like Ljubljana and Bled, but also lesser-known parks, trails and footpaths. The reader learns how to share Slovenia's love of nature in hiking, skiing, swimming, fishing, boating, climbing, outdoor dining and wine, as well as how to stay in tourist farms, hot spring spas or historic castles.

Stanford-educated Attorney Jacqueline Widmar Stewart's new book portrays the natural and cultural history of the green gem, long hidden away in Central Europe. With full-color photographs, maps, charts and illustrations, the 200-page hardbound book is being published in Slovenia by Mladinska knjiga založba.

Award-Winning Finalist in the National Best Books 2009 Awards Travel Category by USA Book News!

The 2009 London Book Festival has selected Jacqueline Widmar Stewart's new book Finding Slovenia: A Guide to Old Europe's New Country as runner-up in its annual competition honoring the best of international publishing.

Slovenia, 1945: Memories of Death and Survival after World War II By John Corsellis and Marcus Ferrar (published 2005)

John Corsellis has written widely on Slovene refugees, having experienced at first hand their camps at the end of WWII. Marcus Ferrar is a writer and independent communications consultant and teaches at business schools in Switzerland and Slovenia.

In 1945 Slovenia, 6,000 civilians and 12,000 members of the anti-Communist Home Guard, the "domobranci", fearing punishment for their wartime resistance to their Partisan enemies, fled to southern Austria. But there, the British 8th Army loaded them into trucks, purportedly to take them to Italy, only to deliver them straight back to Tito's Partisans. The Partisans tortured and then executed them. The remaining civilians were spared due to the revolt of the British Red Cross and Quaker aid workers. John Corsellis witnessed and took part in these protests and in this book reconstructs the survivors' stories. These are vivid tales of wartime cruelty, of the revival of battered communities in refugee camps, and of emigration to Argentina, the U.S., Canada and Britain.

This group of Slovenes, including a significant number of intelligentsia, were looking to come to Australia as a group but were not able to obtain the shipping transport capacity. The Vatican played a role in searching for a country to take these refugees. The Slovenes wanted to go as a large group so that they could preserve their way of life (schools, singing, theatres, workshops and churchgoing) in view of one day returning back to Slovenia. General Juan Peron, Argentina's dictator, welcomed them to Argentina because as a rightwing populist he was engaged in a public battle of opinion against the communists. He was thefore delighted at the prospects of receiving a group of 10,000 Slovenian Catholics.

Some other interesting points from the book –

• The Slovene refugee camp elders in Austria were encouraging everybody to go to Argentina in order to preserve cohesion as a Slovene group. An ulterior motive, rarely stated openly, was to preserve a

- Slovene non-Communist political movement capable one day of resuming influence in the home country.
- Argentina was not quite the 'melting pot' of North America, where newcomers swiftly adopted the local culture. The Slovenes in Argentina continued to nurture a community spirit based on Slovene identity, religious faith and family life. Every Sunday, they congregated before and after Mass in the courtyard of the church exchanging news, advice and assistance. They published Slovene periodicals, reviews and schoolbooks. Always in the back of the minds of the community leaders was a belief that they represented the real Slovenia. Exiled, but upholding the true values of the nation. 'In these early times, we lived as in our own republic. We were not much interested in anything to do with Argentina then,' said one.
- Marko Kremžar described how they cherished the spirit of the refugee camps of Austria when they arrived in Argentina: Our teachers gathered the children of school age together as soon as we arrived (in Argentina) and, although they'd the same difficulties over jobs and food as we had, taught them every Saturday as in the refugee camps. Some families with a little money sacrificed it for the school, and the teachers taught without any kind of payment -atradition that persists until Small cooperatives were soon buying land in the suburbs and so 'Slovene hearths' started, and often families without houses of their own helped set them up. They provided bases for the Saturday schools with classrooms, a chapel and a multi-purpose hall for theatre, athletics and dances. Then we built a Slovene Cultural Centre which brought all the 'hearths' together, and the teachers combined their study programmes and adapted them to new needs. Later we started secondary education and then a

- university. So we divided our lives between work and study during the week; and between study, family and community at the weekends.
- As Stane Snoj put it: 'We simply started up again and adapted to our new circumstances the customs and activities we'd brought with us from Slovenia and from the camps. Today a Slovenia in miniature exists which has become famous abroad.'
- The Slovene community in Argentina however, was not homogenous. The Catholic newcomers found 25.000 Slovenes already living in Argentina, and the two groups did not get on well. The earlier arrivals lost their homes in 1920 when western Slovenia was ceded to Italy by the Treaty of Rapallo. These people were naturally anti-Fascist, and were happy that Slovenia regained part of the lost territory at the end of World War II. They gave credit to the Partisans. For many years, this older community cold-shouldered the Catholic refugees – and vice versa. When the Catholics were disembarking in 1949, a number of the previous refugees were heading in the other direction, returning to Slovenia to reclaim their homes on the Adriatic.
- Marko Bajuk, grandson of the school director in the refugee camps in Austria, says: 'Some people say we are hardened about the events in the war. It is not emotional hatred, but we feel we have a mission. We miraculously saved ourselves and we must bear witness to what we know. It is our prophetic mission, a fight for the truth. We lost our country which was so beautiful and is superior to Argentina. We need to find some meaning. This is our life force, what keeps us together.'
- The passage of time will inevitably lead to change. The strong characters who spent their formative years in refugee camps are now in their seventies and eighties. The next generation is likely to be less committed to maintaining a tightknit Slovene community. That loss may be balanced by more relaxed relations with compatriots at home.

- On the independence of Slovenia in 1991. The Argentine Slovenes interpreted independence as confirming the collapse of Communism and setting Slovenes free to decide their destiny. But what destiny? By the logic of the Slovenes in emigration, it was the moment for their compatriots at home to re-embrace the ideals that they had preserved abroad (to restore the old values). They hoped society would return to Catholic family values. But the people and the country the refugees had left 45 years earlier were no longer the same. Many Slovenes at home had different aspirations and concerns from those who left then. The newfound freedom only served to highlight the divisions between them.
- Numbers at the Slovene school in Buenos Aires are rising, with over 500 attending at primary level and 160 in the middle school. The continuing commitment of teachers, parents and children to preserving Slovene culture is impressive.

Most of the Slovene children attending the school here go to summer school in Slovenia – paid for by the Slovene state.

Memory in Alzheimer's mouse model revived

University of Texas Health Science Center researchers say they have successfully reversed Alzheimer's-like memory deficits in a mouse model of the disease. The researchers, led by Assistant Professor Salvatore Oddo, said they used rapamycin -- a drug that keeps the immune system from attacking transplanted organs -- in rescuing the learning and memory deficits. Oddo said the study offers the first evidence the drug might be valuable in treating Alzheimer's patients. http://www.lef.org

V Mestnem muzeju v Idriji hranijo eno najboljših besedil o žlikrofih, ki ga je okoli leta 1950 spisal Karl Bezeg, ki se je ukvarjal z raziskovanjem navad in običajev v Idriji in okoliških krajih.

"Najboli priljubljena in daleč naokoli najbolj znana idrijska jed so žlikrofi. Podobni so dunajskim Schlikkrapfertin, majhnim testenim zavitkom z vloženimi krofki, toda s posebno vsebino. In prav ta vsebina je največja skrivnost in umetnost pravih žlikrofov. Po idrijsko se tem vloženim krofkom reče kugelce. Idrijčanke prav v njih denejo vse svoje kuharsko znanje, ljubezen in hrepenenje. Dobro uspeli žlikrofi poravnajo družinske spore, dajo praznikom poudarek, ponudijo odhajajočim in vrnivšim pozdrav, proslavijo rojstvo, god in svatbo ter utešijo bolečine v primeru smrti." V zapisu najdemo tudi podatek, da je bila v Idriji včasih ena sama gostilničarka, ki je znala pripraviti idrijske žlikrofe za vsak in vse okuse. To je bila gostilničarka Harmel v Gasi. V večjih družinah, ki so štele med pet in osem članov, so jih za obrok pripravili tudi do 700 kosov.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Urednik

Dear Friends,

We are delighted to enclose a complimentary copy of the first English-language booklet on Anton Martin Slomšek – our short and all too modest introduction to a great role model for modern times, published as a public service project in 2009 when Slovenians in their homeland and throughout the world celebrated "The Year of Slomšek."

It is hoped that "youngsters from eight to eighty" (add or take a few years) will enjoy the story of this extraordinary man. His simple "golden thoughts" of wisdom listed on but a few pages (41 - 44), could be very useful guidelines for persons of any age, religion or nationality. His exemplary life and extraordinaryaccomplishments as a humble priest and down-to earth saintly bishop, an internationally influential educator and trailblazer of ecumenism and advocate of brotherhood among men; his contributions as writer, poet, and composer, his complete dedication to God and neighbor and, according to Pope John Paul II, his example of the desirable kind of genuine, constructive patriotism can inspire all of us also in these modern times, so often characterized by greed, the lack of ideals, confusion of values, morbid ideological excesses, alienation, economic and political crises, and threats of violence and terrorism.

We hope you will enjoy the booklet. Cordially, Edward Gobetz Slovenian Research Center of America, Inc. 29227 Eddy Road Willoughby Hills, OH 44092 USA email: gobedslo@aol.com

VANCOUVER WINTER OLYMPICS February 2010

Kakšen bron, ta kolajna je posuta z diamanti

Majdičeva ima zlomljena štiri rebra Lu.Š., P. Z., STA, 17.02.2010

Petra Majdič se je kot velika junakinja vpisala v zgodovino slovenskega športa. Potem ko je na ogrevanju pred šprintersko tekmo na OI padla v tri metre globok jarek in se poškodovala, je premagala bolečino in kruto boginjo sreče ter osvojila bronasto kolajno!

Ob prihodu v cilj se je Petra Majdič zgrudila od bolečine in utrujenosti. foto: Matej Družnik/Delo Whistler Mt. - Najboljša slovenska smučarska tekačica vseh časov Petra Majdič je končno dobila olimpijsko kolajno, ki si jo je želela vso kariero. In to na kakšen način!

Kljub grozovitemu padcu in poškodbi se je odločila nastopiti na tekmi življenja. Namesto s štartno številko 3 ji je vodstvo tekmovanja dovolilo štartati kot zadnji v kvalifikacijah, v katerih si je pritekla 19. mesto.

V četrtfinalni skupini je začela odločno in takoj prevzela vodstvo, a se ji sprva ni uspelo odlepiti od Finke Saarinenove. Šampionsko je stisnila zobe in v cilj ob ovacijah gledalcev prišla prva.

V polfinalni skupini je začela počasneje in mogla držati tempa Justine Kovalczyk, vseeno pa se je s tretjega mesta kot srečna poraženka skozi šivankino uho uvrstila v veliki finale.

V njem se je spisalo novo poglavje v zgodovini slovenskega športa in olimpijskih iger nasploh. Po vseh tegobah, ki jih je preživela danes in v zadnjih letih, je bil finalni nastop naravnost neverjeten. Majdičeva je pokazala neustrašno in odločno srce, ki jo je popeljalo do kolajne.

Po prihodu v cilj izgubila zavest

V ciljnem prostoru je Majdičeva za trenutek izgubila zavest, trener Ivan Hudač in drugi člani ekipe so jo morali odnesti s prizorišča. V najpomembnejši tekmi svojega življenja je članica ŠD Atrans s Trojan doživela vse »od pekla do nebes«, kakor je lani opisala vzpone in padce v svoji karieri.

To je bila prva kolajna za Slovenijo na 21. zimskih olimpijskih igrah v Vancouvru, deveta slovenska kolajna na zimskih olimpijskih igrah in prva v smučarskem teku.

Nova olimpijska prvakinja v klasičnem šprintu je Norvežanka Marit Björgen, ki je v zaključku zbrala več moči in hitrosti kot vodilna v svetovnem pokalu Kovalczykova, ki se je morala zadovoljiti z drugim mestom.

Grozovit padec skoraj uničil sanje

Potem ko je pred štirimi leti v Torinu imela slabe smuči in je za nameček vanjo trčil neprevidni nemški serviser, je pred lanskim SP v Libercu zbolela, boginja Fortuna pa ji je tudi tokrat obrnila hrbet. Zaradi premehkega snega se je bila najprej prisiljena odpovedati nastopu na 10 km.

Na ogrevanju pred šprintom, v katerem je bila pred OI velika favoritinja, pa se ji je zgodila največja smola v karieri. Na ostrem levem zavoju jo je zaneslo s proge, Slovenka pa je zgrmela iz nezavarovanega dela v globok jarek in se poškodovala.

Petro Majdič so morali odnesti s prizorišča.

foto: Matej Družnik/Delo

Vodja tekaških ekip Marko Gracer je v prvem odzivu menil, da je le malo upanja za Petrin nastop, a so slovensko smučarsko tekačico po kvalifikacijah odpeljali v mobilno bolnišnico, kjer so opravili rengen in ugotovili, da rebra niso zlomljena. Bolečine so bile kljub temu hude in zdravniki so Petri prepustili odločitev, ali bo tekmovala ali ne.

Majdičeva: Čudeži se dogajajo

»Želja je bila večja od bolečine. Padec je bil zelo hud. Poškodovane so mišice, na srečo pa ni prišlo do zloma kosti. Upam, da bom lahko nadaljevala s tekmovanji na teh igrah,« je najprej za TV Slovenija izjavila Majdičeva in nadaljevala: »Do treninga je bilo vse super. Tudi razmere na stezi so bile ugodnejše kot v preteklih dneh. Po padcu v trimetrsko luknjo sem kričala, da grem na štart, ne glede na vse. Po pregledu sem dobila tablete proti bolečinam. Med kvalifikacijami, med katerimi sem vso progo tulila od bolečin, so me spodbujali prav vsi trenerji, kar sem doživela sploh prvič. Ob prihodih v cilj sem se kljub temu zgrudila od bolečin in utrujenosti. A zavedala sem se, da sem v to vložila 20 let življenja in nisem se hotela vdati, tudi zaradi ljudi, ki so bili v vsem tem času ob meni. Zame to ni bronasta kolajna. Posuta je z diamanti!«

Za konec je 30-letna Majdičeva iz Brinja pri Ljubljani dala še nasvet rojakom, ki so v nočnih urah zanjo držali pesti in mnogi med njimi po začetni zaskrbljenosti potočili tudi kakšno solzo sreče: »Nikoli se ne predajte. Čudeži se dogajajo!«

Majdičeva je kasneje na novinarski konferenci izjavila, da bo nastopila le še na 30 km klasično: »Za preostale tekme so bolečine prehude.«

Poleg Majdičeve sta bili na štartu še Vesna Fabjan in Katja Višnar, ki se jima ni uspelo prebiti iz četrtfinala. Višnarjeva je zasedla 16. mesto, Fabjanova pa 23.

Izidi finalnega teka:

- 1. Marit Bjorgen (Nor) 3:39,2
- 2. Justyna Kowalczyk (Pol) + 1,1

Petra Majdič Wins Olympic Bronze Medal

Thursday, 18.02.2010

Vancouver – Cross-country skier Petra Majdič won bronze in the women's classical sprint at the Vancouver Olympics Wednesday, making a heroic comeback after breaking her ribs in a nasty crash in the warm-up.

Gold went to Marit Bjoergen of Norway, who finished the 1.4-kilometre distance in 3 minutes 39.2 seconds, beating Poland's Justyna Kowalczyk in a frantic finish by 1.1 seconds. Majdic was 1.8 seconds adrift.

Running in severe pain and collapsing after crossing the finish line, the 30-year-old Majdič won her first Olympic medal and the first for Slovenia at the Vancouver games.

"For me this bronze is gold scattered with diamonds," an elated Majdič said after the race.

In the warm-up Majdič skidded off the track in an icy left turn and plunged into a small gorge several metres deep, breaking both her skies and poles.

She had to be taken to hospital for X-rays, but she was cleared to compete after doctors determined that no bones were broken.

"After the crash I thought that it was all over. But at that moment a part of me told me not to give up. So I started screaming 'I want to go to the start'. I realised these Olympics were my last chance."

Despite the severe pain Majdič managed the quarter-finals and squeezed through the semis on the lucky losers' ticket. She was in so much pain she had to be accompanied to the podium by her coach Ivan Hudac.

"In the qualifying I was screaming from start to finish. I think this was the first time in my career that all coaches from all countries rooted for me. They heard how painful it was for me to run," Majdic described her pain.

Majdic has had an unlucky streak at major competitions. In Salt Lake City in 2002 she had the wrong kind of skis, the same problem she had in Turin four years later. At the World Championships, meanwhile, she caught a stomach bug.

"I said before the race that I'm always out of luck at major events and look what happened today. I really don't have luck," Majdič added.

Congratulations to Petra Majdič, who won the first medal for Slovenia at the Vancouver Olympics, are coming from all parts of the country, the Slovenian Olympic Committee said, among the first being also President Danilo Tuerk, who expressed his »"sincere congratulations on your exceptional heroics, courageous fight and great success at the Olympic Games. What an incredible race. It included a whole spectrum of feelings, from dismay to extreme happiness.

»We cannot even imagine what unstoppable competitive spirit and perseverance are needed for a human to be able to and manage to accomplish what you have accomplished," Tuerk added.

In his message of congratulations, Prime Minister Borut Pahor said that with her perseverance and competitive spirit, Majdič had shown to the whole world that she was a true fighter and an exceptional athlete.

"Slovenians are proud of Majdič and are celebrating her medal together with her and her team," said the PM. He also wished her a speedy recovery from the injury and a safe return home.

Tina Maze srebrna v superveleslalomu

Vancouver, 20.02.2010, 22:18 | M.J./ I.K./B.S./STA

Tina Maze je na olimpijskih igrah v Vancouvru v superveleslalomu osvojila srebrno medaljo. Boljša od nje je bila le Avstrijka Andrea Fischbacher, ki je Črnjanko prehitela za 49 stotink sekunde. Bronasto medaljo je osvojila zmagovalka smuka, Američanka Lindsey Vonn.

Tina Maze je na superveleslalomu v Whistlerju Sloveniji priborila jubilejno deseto kolajno na zimskih olimpijskih igrah in šesto v alpskem smučanju. Zasedla je drugo mesto, s čimer se je izenačila z Juretom Frankom in Matejo Svet, ki sta z iger v Sarajevu oziroma Calgaryju domov prav tako prinesla srebro. "Poplačan je ves trud, vsi moji boji skozi kariero. Občutki so enkratni, moram pa reči, da sem v to verjela, odkar sem tu," so bile prve besede Črnjanke, ki je tako osvojila tisto, kar je pred igrami glasno napovedovala. A zdaj so napovedi še bolj pogumne: "Kolajno imam, a moj cilj sta dve. Imam še dve priložnosti in upam, da to ni moje zadnje odličje." Petindvajsetletna Slovenka je s progo opravila res odlično. Ni storila niti en same napake, bila je samozavestna, izvrsten rezultat je moral priti: "Mislim, da je to moj najboljši superveleslalom kariere. Naredila nisem niti ene napake, druge so jih delale, to je bila moja prednost. Verjela sem v sebe, nisem bila obremenjena, sprostila sem se in storila tisto, kar sem si želela. Saj ni tako težko, kot je videti. Mi ponavadi stvari otežujemo," je svoj nastop opisala Mazejeva.

Najvažnejše je bilo, da se je znebila strahu, ki jo je je spremljal pri pri obeh smukih: "Ni lahko, ko spremljaš vse te padce. Mislim, da strah ni nič čudnega. A danes sem na njega nekoliko pozabila, se povsem osredotočila na svojo vožnjo," je dejala Mazejeva, ki je uspeh posvetila vsem poškodovanim tekmovalkam, tako slovenskim kot tujim, pri tem pa je omenila imeni Nadie Fanchini in Švicarke Lare Gut. V uspeh je verjela že pred tekmo, o tem, da pa bo res osvojila kolajno, pa ni hotela biti prepričana vse do zadnje tekmovalke. To, da je na cilju zaostala le za Andreo Fischbacher, premagala pa Lindsay Vonn, ji je dalo vedeti, da bo v vrhu, a je vseeno napeto spremljala tekmovalke, ki so startale za njo. Nekajkrat je bila na trnih, predvsem po nastopih Kanadčank in Italijank, a si je na koncu vendarle lahko oddahnila. Osvojila je kolajno, ki jo je imela v rokah že v superkombinaciji: "Težko sem se sprijaznila, da je nisem osvojila že v kombinaciji. Bila sem jezna, a mi je pomagalo." Še bolj napet je bil v ciljni areni njen trener Andrea Massi, ki dolgo časa ni in ni mogel verjeti, kaj se je zgodilo: "Občutki so posebni, olimpijska kolajna pri športniku šteje največ. Ker je ni osvojila v kombinaciji, se je pritisk povečal, toda njena reakcija je bila fenomenalna." Italijanski strokovnjak je priznal, da je v taboru Črnjanke vladala velika napetost, saj so veliko delali za medaljo in so si jo močno želeli. Sam je zato tudi večkrat odreagiral: "Hočem, da je napetost v našem timu vedno visoka, tu nismo turisti." Ob tem Massi spominja, da doseči takšne rezultate kot majhna država in z minimalnimi sredstvi "šteje dvakrat več".

Tina was greeted by her fans – who came all the way from Slovenia – other athletes, the President of the Slovenian Olympic Committee, Janez Kocijančič, Minister Igor Lukšič, and a crowd of local and international journalists. The Slovenia House was packed to capacity. Congratulations poured in from Slovenia, and everyone rejoiced with Tina in the excited atmosphere.

"Are you happy? Because I sure am!" said Tina, laughing as she addressed the crowd. "It's been a great day, and a great race. I'm happy I made my dreams come true. I'm happy for my team and, of course, for myself. I know that you're going to stay up late and celebrate my medal, but I have to train tomorrow," said Tina with a grin.

Tina's coach, Andrea Massi, and her ski technician, Andreja Jezeršek, shared their enthusiasm with everyone else. Tina was also presented with a cake for her Olympic silver.

Mr Janez Kocijančič congratulated Tina Maze on behalf of the Slovenian Olympic Committee. "This is Slovenia's first silver medal in the winter Olympics, and the greatest success for our winter Olympians," he said, adding that Slovenia is celebrating with her athletes. "I believe these are the most successful Olympics for Slovenia to date," concluded the SOC President.

The Minister of Education and Sport, Dr Igor Lukšič, also congratulated Tina and her team. "Today is a big day for Slovenia, Slovenian skiers and Tina Maze. We are all delighted with the success we have been waiting for all these years," said the Minister, adding that, "Small countries may often feel inferior, but as we stand on the winners podium, we feel that we are big and strong." The Minister stressed that this was how national consciousness was built. "Flags are there for us to raise. Thank you, Tina, for raising our flag today."

Tini še eno srebro, skovano v dveh dneh

Tina Maze: »V petek pa na zmago v slalomu!«

P. Z., čet, 25.02.2010

Tina Maze je osvojila še drugo srebrno kolajno na XXI. olimpijskih igrah. Po sobotnem superveleslalomu je bila druga tudi v paradni disciplini - veleslalomu. Prva zlata kolajna za Slovenijo se ji je izmuznila za samo štiri stotinke sekunde.

Whistler - Slovenska smučarska kraljica Tina Maze je z drugo srebrno kolajno na olimpijskih igrah v Vancouvru postala najuspešnejša slovenska zimska olimpijka doslej in edina, ki je na enih igrah osvojila dve kolajni.

To je bila po tretjem mestu še ene slovenske junakinje Petre Majdič v smučarskem teku že tretja kolajna za Slovenijo na teh igrah in 11. v zgodovini ZOI. Skupaj so slovenski športniki na olimpijskih igrah, letnih in zimskih, osvojili že 50 odličij.

26-letna smučarka iz Črne na Koroškem je bila v sredo na prvi progi peta in je za vodilno Kathrin Zettel zaostajala le za 27 stotink sekunde, kar je bilo odlično izhodišče na naskok na zmagovalni oder. Na današnji preloženi finalni tekmi je pred štartom pljunila v sneg, nato pa se odločno podala v strmino. Na zadnjem vmesnem času je imela 12 stotink prednosti, v cilj pa prišla le štiri stotinke za mlado Nemko Viktorio Rebensburg, kasnejšo zmagovalko, ki je štartala tik pred njo s šestega mesta, in zdelo se je, da bo načrtovana kolajna za Mazejevo težko uresničljiva.

Toda za Tino so nato na vse slabši progi zaostale vse štiri tekmovalke, tudi drugouvrščena Francozinja Taina Barioz in vodilna Zettlova, ki se je v spremenljivih razmerah na koncu morala zadovoljiti z bronom.

Na tekmi je odlično nastopila tudi Ana Drev in s 26. mesta napredovala na 19.

Kot je znano, so v sredo izvedli le polovico veleslaloma, saj je finale preprečila gosta megla, zaradi katere so odločilno tekmo nekajkrat preložili, opolnoči pa jo dokončno odpovedali in prestavili na danes. Mazejeva je tako za srebro morala garati dva dni, jutri pa jo čaka še ena preizkušnja - v slalomu, kjer bo sodeč po rezultatih v tej sezoni in trenutni formi prav tako ena izmed glavnih favoritinj za odličja.

V slalomu pa na zmago!

»Zelo sem zadovoljna, vesela sem tega rezultata. Dve kolajni, to je nekaj neverjetnega! Škoda je teh štirih stotink, ki so mi zmanjkale za zmago, saj menim, da sem sposobna osvojiti zlato kolajno. Bilo pa je težko tekmovati in napadati. Proga je bila dolga in uničena. Glede na druge tekmovalke pa sem še dobro opravila. Zdaj je na vrsti še slalom, potem pa se bomo lahko poveselili,« je za TV Slovenija kmalu po prihodu v cilj povedala Tina Maze in samozavestno dodala: »Jutri pa na zmago!«

Prikupna Tina, ki drugo sezono uspešno sodeluje s trenerjem Andreo Massijem, se lahko pohvali tudi s sedmimi zmagami v svetovnem pokalu (šest od teh veleslalomskih, ena smukaška) ter srebrnim veleslalomskim odličjem z lanskega svetovnega prvenstva v Val d'Iseru. Lani se je zaradi nezadovoljstva z odnosom vodstva Smučarske zveze Slovenije odločila za samostojno pot zunaj reprezentance in ustanovila ekipo Team to aMaze. In res nas je presunila

Tini Maze sta takoj po današnji tekmi med drugimi čestitala predsednik Danilo Türk in premier Borut Pahor.

Another medal for Tina, while Petra Majdič visits the Slovenia House

Friday, 26.02.2010

It was particularly pleasant at the Slovenia House today – we were visited by Petra Majdič, and rejoiced when Tina Maze won another silver medal. Petra Majdič came to the Slovenia House in good spirits and said she felt much better. In the late afternoon, she gave a few interviews to foreign journalists in the congenial setting of the Slovenia House, which was followed by a lively evening.

Because the silver-medal winner Tina Maze had another run the next day, she did not participate in the celebrations, but focused on the competition. The changed time of the second run of the women's giant slalom changed our plans a bit, but did not influence our good mood.

Therefore, the queen of the night was Petra Majdič, who now feels well enough to celebrate her 'golden' bronze. "We've already celebrated this medal once, and did not know whether to be happy or sad. It was the first time that the winner of the medal could not attend the celebrations," said Janez Kocijančič in his opening speech. He stressed that Petra's medal came out of pain, and sincerely thanked Petra for what she gave us. "We haven't had such a beautiful medal for a long time." He also said he would like Slovenians to learn something from Petra, particularly her positive energy. "Congratulations, Petra!"

Petra Majdič told us how much pain there had been in winning the medal. "In life, beautiful things are born out of pain," she said, adding that the medal was here also thanks to the team. "I'd like everyone to put their hands together for Tina. She is the first Slovenian woman to win two Olympic medals." Petra congratulated Tina Maze on the silver in the giant slalom. Petra's coach, Ivan Hudač, added that they would try to ensure such results in the future.
