Faith or Fear

By J. Edgar Hoover, Director Federal Bureau of Investigation

This is published in the interest of Brotherhood Week, February 19-26, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Prejudice and intolerance, hate and fear, are diseases as infectious as a virus. The general increase in organized prejudice is most disturbing. It includes anti-Protestant, anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish and anti-Negro individuals and groups.

All the various forms of bigotry exist, either dormant or active, in every community — large or small.

We must be ever alert to the evil influences of groups which spread hatred and bigotry. We cannot have full citizenship for others. We must all work together to dispel intolerance and promote brotherhood among all men.

America was carved out of the rugged wilderness by the heroic efforts of men and women who made great sacrifices that they and those to come after them might live in freedom under God. Faith, courage, devotion to a noble cause; these were the driving forces which spurred the early settlers to blaze new trails through virgin forests, across uncharted mountains, into valleys, where civilized man never before had trod.

Our forefathers had a great vision of a nation where men could live together and worship together without fear. Today, we hold this same vision for the future — the faith and determination to insure that America remains the beacon of freedom and promise for the oppressed peoples of the world.

Freedom is not the absence of discipline but the use of disciplines which will enable us to enter into our inheritance and accomplish our destiny.

When man surrenders his ideals, he dies spiritually. Only by protecting America's God-given heritage of liberty and justice for all can we preserve this Republic for generations yet to come to live in "freedom's holy light."

SHORTS on SPORTS

Clipper Will Help Young Yanks: Retired Yankee uniform No. 5 will be brought out of moth balls next month when Jolting Joe DiMaggio, the Bombers' all-time Hall of Fame center fielder, joins the New York spring training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla. as a special guest of the club.

Dykes Will Miss Aspromonte: Ken Aspromonte said he was particularly disappointed to find his name on the list of players made available to the new A. L. teams, especially after a talk with Cleveland Manager Jimmie Dykes.

No Conflicts in L.A. Ball Dates: The trend toward one-team cities is being reversed this year with the American League's invasion of Los Angeles, but the schedule-maker has arranged to avoid any conflict in home dates between the Angels and the Dodgers.

Jolting Joe Nixed 100-Grand Pact to Retire: When Joe DiMaggio hung up his spikes, following the 1951 season, the Yankee outfielder turned down a contract calling for $100,000 a year.

West Hartford, Conn. — Sue Kontner, 12, cracked open a five yolk egg while making scrambled eggs. University of Connecticut poultry experts said a five yolk egg was one of a dozen brown eggs produced at a local super market.

Waynesville, N. C. — When Mrs. Matilda Rogers celebrated her 110th birthday, many of her 278 descendants turned out for her party. She has 5 sons, 4 daughters, 65 grandchildren, 79 great grandchildren and 125 great-great-grandchildren.

Chester, Pa. — Louis Rota, 64, slipped on the tracks at the Pennsylvania Railroad station in this city, just as a train pulled in. "I looked up, saw I wasn't killed and lay there," he said after emerging unscathed from between the rails.

North Gray, Maine — To keep bossy contented over the winter, a group of farmers showed home movies in a cow barn near here. The cows mooded happily as the movies pictured waving alfalfa fields — and they mooded even louder when some bulls flashed on the screen.

Boston, Mas. — It wasn't really Senator Hubert Humphrey's aide Herbert Waters who showed up at a swank Boston hotel for "a short rest after the Inaugural" and went on a paid-by-check spree of buying clothing, liquor and jewelry. The real Herbert Waters, hard at work in Washington, told police sadly that someone had stolen his checkbook.

McKeesport, Pa. — When chubby teenagers Christian Duran and Peggy Woistman squeezed into a street-corner telephone booth in this city, to make a call, they found they were in so tight that they couldn't get out. Police finally rescued them an hour later.

New Orleans, La. — At Louisiana state penitentiary Inmate Ernie Richards felt a bit miffed when the governor's office notified him that his three-year sentence was commuted to 15 years, instead of the 15 months he had hoped for. "With a lawyer I could have gotten life," said Richards, commenting on what was apparently a clerical mistake.

Little Rock, Ark. — The Arkansas Supreme Court has affirmed a $200 judgement for Mrs. Maddox Brewer of North Little Rock against a finance company, which seized her auto while she was taking a bath and was, thus, unable to protest.

Buffet Setting ... FOR A LENTEN LUNCHEON

The accent in Lenten entertaining is on simplicity, but when menus are simple you'll want to give special attention to attractive table settings.

Sterling silver, nicely arranged, is the key to tasteful tables. Sparkling silver, together with lovely china and an imaginative centerpiece will add a gracious note to even the most unpretentious Lenten menu.

Here, for instance, a pyramid of fruit and flowers, in a silver bowl, makes a charming background for a simple buffet luncheon featuring a curried tuna casserole served with rice and mixed vegetables. The pyramid is simply a tier of apples interspersed with rosebuds. Try for interesting color contrasts by combining pink sweetheart roses with yellow apples—or greenings; or use yellow blooms with rosy red fruit. If you cannot obtain fresh fruit or flowers, just substitute some of the extremely natural-looking artificial varieties that are available.

REPUBLICANS ASSIGNED TO RULES COMMITTEE

The Republican Committee on Committees has named Representatives Katharine St. George of New York, Elmer Hoffman of Illinois, and Allen Smith of California to fill existing vacancies on the Rules Committee. About 90 percent of the legislation that comes before the House must first pass through this committee for a rule. Mrs. St. George has the distinction of being the first woman to be named to this important committee since it was established in 1789. She is a very able, hard-working legislator—now serving her eighth term in the House of Representatives. During the 86th Congress Mrs. St. George served on both the Armed Services and Post Office-Civil Service Committees. At the 1960 Republican Convention she was the Parliamentarian.

WHITE HOUSE TOURS

Lawrence F. O'Brien, Special Assistant to President Kennedy, has informed all House Members that the early morning Congressional Tours of the White House will continue under the same general procedure which existed in the Eisenhower Administration. For those visiting Washington who would like to see a bit more of this historic mansion than can be seen in the public tours, arrangements may be made by writing me here in Washington or contacting my Cleveland Office in the Federal Building. Each Congressman is allowed a very limited number of permits for each tour, so reservations must be made a week to ten days in advance. When requesting admission, each

GROTTO CIRCUS

GODDESS OF FLIGHT is Princess Tajana, whose skill on the trapeze is responsible for one of the big thrills in the 32nd annual Al Sirat Grotto Circus, which opened in Public Hall on Thursday, February 16th, for a 10-day stand.

The Al Sirat Grotto Circus, Northeast Ohio's greatest winter event, presented its 32nd edition at Cleveland Public Hall, beginning a 10-day stand on Thursday, Feb. 16th. "It's truly bigger and better than ever," proclaims General Chairman George E. Hoffman, who has assembled the Grotto Circus for his 32nd consecutive year.

Fifty acts will perform in the big three rings and in the air above them. Most of the acts will be seen for the first time, but a number of perennial favorites will be back. World-famed Clown Emmett Kelly gives a repeat performance and the local food terminal has been alerted to having on hand extra supplies of cabbage for the star to munch on.

A new headliner will be Captain Eddy Kuhn and his renowned lion-taming act. The captain will perform in a specially built steel cage that is 36 feet in diameter and 12 feet high. He will put a mixture of bears, lions, leopards and Skeeter the Puma through their paces. The thrills of the high wires and the trapeze will be imparted by many of the performers, including the incomparable Princess Tajana, the Goddess of Flight.

Other exciting acts include the Four Kelroys, masters of the trampoline, who are on a world tour, the famed Jinx, the Chimp, with almost human traits, and the death-defying Ronnie Lewis Trio, who hang from the sky by their feet.

Proceeds of the Grotto Circus are earmarked for the Cancer Fund and for Cerebral Palsy Programs.

"Al Sirat Grotto is proud to present its 32nd annual circus," said Monarch Howard E. Bodeker, "The opportunity for serving two worthy health-seeking funds as well as providing a ray of sunshine in a community laden with many local, national and international problems is considered most important."

The Grotto Circus will stage 19 performances in the 10 days beginning Thursday, Feb. 16th. These include morning matinees at 10:15 on both Saturdays; the regular afternoon matinees on Tuesday, Friday and both Saturdays.

The Sunday performances for the benefit of the Cancer Fund will be at 1:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. on February 19th and at 2:15 on February 26th. A special matinee also is planned for Washington's Birthday, February 22nd.

Monarch Bodeker will head the procession of civic leaders, Grotto officers and performers in the traditional processional on opening night.

Cheese Anyone?

With Lenten meal planning now at hand, it is time to revive old and try out new recipes which use cheese. Cheese is an excellent substitute for meat, being an inexpensive source of animal protein. Since it is made from milk, cheese contains essentially the same nutrients as milk. Cheese is an excellent source of calcium and phosphorus, minerals which are necessary to build strong bones and teeth and maintain good physical condition throughout life. It is also a good source of vitamins, including vitamin A, thiamin and riboflavin.

In addition to begin nutritious, cheese is very versatile. It can be used in every course of the meal—as an appetizer, in soups, as the main course, as part of the salad, with vegetables and with dessert. The following are some facts to consider when buying, storing, serving and cooking cheese:

When buying cheese, remember that the soft, unripened types such as cream and cottage cheeses are very perishable and should be purchased in quantities which will be eaten in a short time. Aged cheese will keep for a longer period. Since cheese has little or no waste, it provides more nourishment, dollar for dollar, than most meats.

When storing cheese, remember it should be refrigerated. Since it can lose moisture and easily absorb other flavors, it should be tightly covered with aluminum foil, cellophane or several thicknesses of waxed paper. It should not be frozen as this can damage the texture of most cheeses. If a slight mold develops, it can be cut or scraped off and the cheese safely eaten.

When serving cheese, remember it is best to allow it to stand at room temperature for a while as this softens the cheese and improves its flavor. This rule applies to all but cottage and cream cheeses which are best served chilled.

When cooking cheese, remember it is a protein food and should be cooked at low temperatures, or it may become stringy, look separated and lose its natural flavor. Sharp or aged cheeses are often preferred for cooking, as they melt easier, blend well with other ingredients and give a richer flavor than milder cheeses. Remember that one-quarter pound of cheese equals one cup of grated cheese.

Spanish Fondue
Melt 3 tbsp. shortening, add ½ c. coarsely chopped onion, 1 c. whole kernel corn, and 1 c. drained canned tomatoes. Heat well and place in bottom of greased baking dish. Add 1 ½ c. milk to 2 c. soft bread crumbs (packed). When milk has been absorbed, add 1 ½ c. grated cheese, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper, dash of paprika, and 1 tbsp. melted butter. Add 3 beaten eggs and mix well. Pour over hot vegetables in baking dish. Place in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until set about 55 to 60 minutes. Serves 6.

Although cheese is suggested as a popular meat substitute during Lent, do not forget its value and versatility the rest of the year.

TEEN TOPPER — Even teen-agers can go fashionably high hat this season, as proved by 16-year-old Laurie Peters, featured in "The Sound of Music" in New York. She is wearing a pixie peak hat.

NON-SPEAKING LIKENESS—Ricky Nelson, an idol of the teen-agers, is pointing to a painting of himself as he appears in the movie, "Rio Bravo." It was sent to him at his home in Van Nuys, Calif., by a young admirer. The popular Rickey is a co-star of TV's "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," so he is a busy lad these days.
