Strokovno izhodišče mag. Slađane Matić Trstenjak temelji v likovni akademiji v Širokem Brijegu, ki so jo ustanovili priznani hrvaški likovni ustvarjalci in pedagogi z namenom prežarčiti bogato tradicijo zagrebške ALU tudi na področje BiH, še posebej v kraje v večstoletno katoliško tradicijo (frančiškani), pri čemer se je srditost minule bratomorne vojne na tem območju globoko zarezala tako v zavest kot podzavest mlade likovne ustvarjalke, ki na mariborski, pa tudi na širši slovenski likovni sceni, predvsem zaradi svojega izobrazbenega profila, neobičajnega osebnega sloga in etničnih korenin, predstavlja pravo redkost.

Zagotovo ji je prav zaradi posebnih okoliščin vojne v nekdanji skupni domovini iz nacionalnih in verskih povodov tematika holokavsta toliko bližja in jo tudi neposredno zadeva. Sistematično uničevanje soljudi bodisi zaradi drugačnega svetovnega nazora ali vere bodisi zaradi rasnega ali nacionalnega porekla je žal tudi v današnjem svetu grozljivo aktualno. Na slikah Slađane Matić Trstenjak se holokavst simbolno manifestira kot brezdušni golem, grozeče dvigajoč se kot ogromna temačna gora v ozadju brezskrbno učinkujocih pejsažnih upodobitev.

V umetničinem prepoznavnem likovnem izrazu se po eni strani presenetljivo zrcalijo odmevi nemškega ekspresionizma ob izraziti ploskovitosti, deformiranim oblikovtorju in krepko, pogosto črno konturo, po drugi strani pa gre za individualne variacije na temo geometrijsko stiliziranega, znakovno simbolnega upodabljanja krajinskih motivov s poudarkom na gozdovih ali posameznih drevesih ter izmenjujočih se poljih in hribih.

Četudi posreduje likovna celota izrazito dvodimensionalen, mestoma celo grafično ploskoviti vtis, pa je zaradi prekrivanja likovnih objektov in toplo hladne modulacije, h kateri bistveno prispevajo intenzivne črne partie, čutiti precejšnjo globinsko prostorsko iluzijo.

Kot posebnost nastopajo na slikovni površini kolažirani vložki v obliki iztrganih papirčkov, porisanih z abstraktno ogljeno ali grafitno akcijsko oscilirajočo risbo. Drevesa so praviloma upodobljena kot znaki s črno obrobo, kratkim debлом in krožno krošnjo, ki je lahko dopolnjena z na glavo obrnjenim vzorcem ribje kosti, pri čemer gre za skorajda edini neposredno prepoznavni detajlirani likovni objekt, saj so prevladujoča polja, gore in vode zasnovane skrajno asociativno abstraktno, kot nepravilni geometrijski liki v smislu neskončnega kompozicijskega omrežja, nadaljujočega se z ene slikovne površine na drugo.

Umetnica tako očitno številnokrat upodabla izreze ene in iste domišljiske, malodane otroško retrospektirane pokrajine, ki jo lahko kot neskončno zgodbo spremljamo po stenah razstavnega prostora, pri čemer opazovalcem prepušča, ali bodo slikovno dogajanje neposredno doživljali na primarnem perceptivnem nivoju, kot abstraktno harmonijo likovnih elementov ali pa na višji ikonografski stopnji prepoznavali vsebino likovnega dela.

Umetnica se v novejšem ustvarjalnem obdobju rada odziva vabilom na sodelovanje pri različnih likovnih kolonijah, kjer se prilagaja drugačnim ustvarjalnim okoljem, tako je na primer na XV. Mednarodni likovni koloniji Lija Lent 2013 morda prvič v svojem opusu v kakšno krajinsko kompozicijo doslikala prepoznavni arhitekturni detajl, in sicer spominsko cerkvico na Kalvariji, ki jo je opazovala iz ateljeja v šestem nadstropju dijaškega doma, ali pa duhovito naslikani lik vragca na I. Mednarodni likovni koloniji v organizaciji Mladinskega kulturnega centra Maribor na temo Leto hudiča istega leta.

Precedenčno se je posvetila tudi zgodovinski tematiki sarajevskega atentata, na povabilo Štajerskega deželnega zavoda za kulturo iz Gradca, v organizaciji galerije Modri atelje (Blues Atelier) je februarja lani, ob obletnici pričetka prve svetovne vojne, samostojno predstavila dela iz ciklusa Nebo nad Sarajevom (priči z upodobitvijo neposredno prepoznavne figuralne kompozicije atentata), posvečenega vsem herojskim prebivalcem BiH, ki so skozi stoletja trpeli zaradi neprestanih vojskovanj, a nikoli izgubili poguma in volje za nadaljevanje življenja tudi v najbolj skrajnih pogojih. Ne nazadnje je treba omeniti tudi letošnje umetničino sodelovanje na likovni koloniji in skupinski razstavi v Istanbulu s tematiko obletnice bitke pri Gallipoliju (Çanakkale).

Mag. Sladana Matić Trstenjak's professional starting point is based in the Academy of Arts in Široki Brijeg which was founded by recognized Croatian artists and teachers with the intention to beam the rich tradition of the Zagreb Academy of Arts to the area of Bosnia and Herzegovina, especially to the places with centuries-long Christian tradition (the Franciscans), whereby the fierceness of the past fratricidal war in this area was deeply engraved both on the consciousness and subconsciousness of the young artist who especially due to her educational profile, unusual personal style and her ethnic origin represents a real rarity on the Maribor artistic scene, as well as on the wider Slovenian one.

Certainly just because of the special occasions of the war in the former common republic from national or religious reasons, the topic of holocaust is even closer to her and relates to her directly. Systematic destruction of people, either due to their different view of life and religion or due to their racial or national origin, is unfortunately still a dreadful topical issue in today's world. In Sladana Matić Trstenjak's paintings, holocaust is symbolically manifested like soulless golem, threateningly rising like an enormous gloomy mountain at the background of a landscape with a contrasting carefree effect.

On the one hand, in the artist's recognizable artistic expression, echoes of the German expressionism are surprisingly reflected next to explicit flatness, deformed morphology and bold, often black border, while on the other hand, there are individual variations on the topic of geometrically stylized symbolic representation of landscape motifs with the emphasis on forests or individual trees and alternating fields and hills.

Even though the artistic whole conveys an explicitly two-dimensional and partly even graphically flat effect, due to overlapping of artistic objects and warm-cold modulation, essentially characterized by intensive black portions, considerable deep spatial illusion can be experienced.

As a specialty, collaged pieces in the form of little torn-out papers appear, painted with abstract, charcoal or graphite, action oscillating drawing. As a rule, trees are represented as signs with black border, short trunks and circular crowns that can be complemented with a fish bone pattern turned upside down, whereby trees are almost the only directly recognisable detailed object, since the predominating fields, mountains and waters are designed extremely associatively abstract, like irregular geometrical shapes in the sense of endless compositional network, continuing from one painting to another.

Obviously, the artist thus many times uses clips of one and the same imaginary, almost childishly retrospected landscape that can be followed as an endless story on the walls of the exhibition hall, whereby she lets the observers decide whether they will experience the happening in the painting directly on the primary perceptive level, as an abstract harmony of artistic elements or they will interpret the content of the artistic work on a higher iconographic level.

In her recent creative period, the artist likes to participate in different artistic colonies where she adapts to different creative environments, thus she for instance added a recognizable architectural detail into a landscape composition perhaps for the first time in her opus, namely the memorial church on Kalvarija which she observed from a studio on the sixth floor of the dormitory at the XV Lija Lent 2013 International Artistic Colony or a wittily painted little devil at the 1st International Artistic Colony in organization of the Youth Cultural Centre Maribor on the topic of the Year of the Devil in the same year.

Precedently, she devoted herself also to the historical topic of the Sarajevo attempt at the invitation of the Styrian Country Institute of Culture from Graz, in organization of the Blaues Atelier gallery where she last year in February, on the occasion of the anniversary of the beginning of the World War I, presented works from the Sky above Sarajevo cycle (first time with the representation of directly recognisable figural composition of the attempt), devoted to all heroic inhabitants of Bosnia and Herzegovina who due to ceaseless warfare suffered for centuries but never lost courage and will for continuation of life even in most extreme conditions. Lastly, one should mention the artist's participation in the artistic colony and group exhibition in Istanbul with the topic of the battle of Gallipoli (Çanakkale) this year.
