UPPER CLASS RULE

Former Ambassador Gerard's list of 159 men, later extended to 64, who rule the United States is significant for a number of reasons. Thirty years ago the mere suggestion that a handful of capitalists and bankers ruled us would be denounced as revolutionary propaganda. The statement is now made without this reaction. Millions of people accept the fact without understanding its significance.

One criticism is made of the list. It is declared to be faulty because men like Hoover are not included. The criticism ignores the fact that when presenting the original list Gerard explained that the office holder is not independent of the power behind the throne. Andy Mellon was included not because he holds political office but because he heads the Mellon empire of important investments.

A study of the list shows that oil, banks, steel, railways, utilities and electricity bulk large and all the great corporations are so intimately tied together through directorates that they constitute one soviet of capitalist rule. Some sections of this empire are family dynasties. These include the Rockefeller, Morgan, Mellon, Ford, du Pont and Guggenheim houses. A few publishers are included in the list, but they are only six out of 64. Considering the vast power of the huge banking and capitalist holdings in this empire we are inclined to think that Gerard included William Green and Matthew Woll as a bit of humor. They were not on the original list.

So here are the royal houses of oil, banks, steel, railways and utilities that rule the nation, an upper class with vast power and wealth. Below millions of workers carrying this empire on their backs. When the masses know their power and use it the dominion of the capitalist and banking soviet will end.—

INTERNATIONAL

EXECUTIVE MEETS

An international conference on unemployment between labor and socialist bodies, including the L. S. I. and the International Federation of Trade Unions, was one of the proposals made by the Executive of the Labor and Socialist International at its Zurich meeting last month.

Other resolutions dealt with the problem of India, Finnish Fascism, the Kurdish question and a program of action for disarmament. The Saar situation will be studied by a commission of French and German Socialists.

The labor parties of the British Commonwealth and the Socialist party of Brazil were definitely invited to send representatives to discuss affiliation at the Vienna congress next summer. Other parties will be invited later.

The Administrative committee was given power to accept the affiliation of the "Bund" and it was announced that the Ruthenian party had merged with the Czech Social-Democratic party, and the entire memberships of Communist organizations in Czechoslovakia were going over to the Socialists.

The Indian resolution recalls the Berlin action and renews the suggestion for immediate political amnesty and success at the October Round Table.

The slaughter of the Kurdish people by the Turkish government was the subject of strong resolutions which also condemned the capitalist governments for not having taken measures protecting the Kurdish people from the extermination which threatens them.

Commendation of the action of the Socialist Youth International in organizing anti-war demonstrations on International Youth Day was expressed. October 5 is the date of these meetings.

HIGH TIME

When a country faces the fact that its annual mortality in peacetime from one source alone is nearly equal to its total mortality during the great war, despite all sorts of safety first propaganda, it is high time to take stock of the situation—and endeavor to strike at the root of the evil. The American statistics may well serve as a warning to us in Canada. Our own casualty list each year is a staggering one.—The Star, Montreal, Canada.

FAME

The soul asks honor and not fame; to be upright, not to be successful; to be good, not prosperous; to be essentially, not outwardly, respectable. Does your soul ask profit? Does it ask money? Does it ask the approval of the indifferent herd? I believe not. For my own part, I want but little money, I hope; and I do not want to be decent at all, but to be good.—R. L. Stevenson.

EUGENE V. DEBS

We read and hear of great men with kind hearts and noble heads,
But in my humble judgment none of them surpass Eugene V. Debs.

If ever there lived a man upon this sphere,
Who gave his time to the workers whom he loved so dear,
It was he with sincere voice and mighty pen
Cast fear into the robbers' den.
And for being honest, sincere and brave
They put him into prison, thinking that would send him to his grave.

As in the past so today,
Rulers punish those who try to usher in the brighter day.
So in the fight for the freedom of all,
Remember the man behind the prison wall.

—Thomas Johnson

Do You Know

By JOHN LOKAR JR.

That between 5 and 6 million wage earners are today without jobs. That industry and society should be obligated to prevent workers from starving. Therefore the unemployed should be protected by unemployment insurance. So back this important issue. Industry must protect your family as it protects families of your bosses.

The former ambassador to Germany, James W. Gerard has spoken plainly when he said that 59 financiers and capitalists rule America, and he knows.

In ancient Athens a philosopher stated the slavery must always exist. But man's genius supplies him with slavery of steel, moved by steam and electricity far beyond imagination. Professor Roe who teaches industrial engineering in the New York university says that machinery in the United States alone generates power equal to that of 12 million workers. He further says that if the population of the earth were multiplied by five, and if all were adult workers, there would be lacking four billion workers to do the work that machines in the United States now do.

To our readers of Cleveland and nearby vicinity, the Strugglers invite you to attend their annual mask dance on Saturday, Oct. 1, at the Slovans Workers Home or Waterloo Rd.

On Saturday, Nov. 15, the Quacks Opening Frolic will be held at the same place. For further information watch Prosveta.

I regret on not the being able to meet our active comrade Jane Fradel of Latrobe, who was in Cleveland during my absence. Lets hope she and comrade Aggie Oblock of Detroit continue their good work.

Why Change the Name?

The desire comes to us again to have the Socialist Party change its name. The proponents of this new party do not reflect to facts and the experience of the Socialist Party in 1924. The Socialist Party in that year sacrificed its own political standing for the sake of Progressive movement. At present the proponents for the new name are trifling with somewhat similar, if not the same fire that burnt the Socialist Party so severely in that year. Workmen did not respond to our agitation and propaganda as much as our comrades had expected. When you look back upon the result and response of the workers in the Progressive campaign, I consider it the greatest humiliation our movement has ever experienced. These are the facts that require our most sincere consideration.

To build up the Socialist Movement, the changing of its name is not going to hasten class consciousness among the toilers. If anything, it will create mistrust in the integrity of the real Socialist movement. We would have a much healthier movement today if we had kept away from the alliance of the Progressive and adhered to our own party.

The trade unions and the A. F. of L. were more powerful during this campaign than they are to day, and from these sources must a Labor party be formed. The current facts show conditions of the trade unions as a very poor source for such a formation. Why be doubtful in the principle of Socialism? No other political party has a fundamental truth for its basis as our own. Why look for something new? Stand by the name Socialist party that withstood the bombardments from capitalists and the slurs and virulent lies from the communists.

Michael Ladewich, Br. 20, JSF.

Detroit's Election

The most spirited election ever held in Detroit was the recent election for Mayor. The recall of Mayor Bowles last July made the election necessary and for the present term Frank Murphy was elected. During his campaign for this office he did not accept more than one dollar donation for campaign purposes from any one person. Thousands of workers volunteered to work for him, and gathered 70,000 names even before he thought of running for Mayor.

The vote cast in this election was the largest ever with Murphy leading his opponents by a margin of 12,431. The total vote received was 106,442. Raymond, the Communist candidate, received 3,544. Murphy when elected said, "It's the people's victory, not mine. The people of Detroit have captured the city government without a campaign slush fund, and that Detroit can again lift her head proudly amongst the cities of the nation because her citizens have proved their intelligence to have a clean city". He further said, "I shall be Mayor of and for the people. In no other way may I hope to justify the peoples faith as expressed at the polls."

As he was elected only to finish the term of the recalled Mayor, he has but a short time to prove his statements. How sincere he may be for the people's interest, the near future will tell.

SEARCHLIGHT

By Donald J. Lotrich

Friday night is meeting night for members of Club No. 1 J. S. F. Our club generally has good attendances at its meetings but it is hoped that the cool weather will bring out the usual increase that the fall and winter months carry with them.

The German election surprised the world. Although the Socialist party came out of the elections as the leading party again, with 143 parliamentary seats and over eight and a half million votes, they are conscious of the menace that can be caused by the Fascist party which gained 96 seats. It is hard for us to account for the great increase in the Fascist and Communist vote. Monarchism and reparations payments were probably the main issues. But it would seem to us that there must have been other domestic reasons for the tide. Whatever else it might have been, the election will inspire European Fascism which can cause no end of trouble for progressive governments.

Everybody is all "afutter" in Wisconsin because the Progressives with Phil La Follette at the head, "licked" Governor Kohler so prettily in the primary election for governor that Kohler's manager's don't know what its all about yet. News of Kohler's defeat was received with a shock at the National Republican Headquarters. To us it is only an indication of what can happen elsewhere. And while we think La Follette is by far the better man for his principles we hope that our own candidate for governor, Metcalf, will not suffer because of the enormous landslide. Wisconsin is the most progressive state in politics and the people take pride in that. We hope our comrades in Wisconsin will pug away and beat out many of the reactionaries.

One could enumerate many reasons for the lack of interest in the S. N. P. J. Federation doings at Milwaukee last Sunday. The weather was ideal for a trip into the country. Perhaps that may be the main cause. Our folks on arrangements should know their conditions and avoid programs Sunday Afternoons until the weather gets to where afternoon affairs will be permissible. The scheduled talks, vocal and musical selections, and two one act comedies, one in English and the other in Slovene, were late in getting started because of the small attendance. Besides Albert Hraat, John Ermenc and Frank Schneider, Yours Truly also spoke.

Our Courts are sometimes a Chinese Puzzle or better still "all Greek" as a man of five languages said when asked what languages he could talk. "It was all Greek to him." Here in Illinois the reorganized miners obtained an injunction to bar John Lewis from "hijacking" and "monkeying" and otherwise destroying the remains of the Illinois Miners Union. And what do you know about that. Another court, upon petition of Lewis's flunkies issues another injunction to stop the Illinois Miners Union leaders from carrying on the work of reorganization. The second injunction is a complete violation of the first. So the poor rank and file are without any organization, without leaders. What else can this last injunction do but disrupt the organized miners. We hope that some day the courts with their presiding judges will be able to established themselves so that they will not conflict. They certainly should not be misled by gunner tactics such as Lewis's crew has been pursuing.

May we suggest to States Attorneys in and about Springfield to look into the gangster rule of the Lewis machine? In Chicago they have found plenty of evidence to present to the grand jury. If any organization should be investigated Lewis' old rotten machine should go through the searchlight or the microscope.

What is hard to explain: We know that the new union is in the right, we know that Lewis' machine has been crooked through and through, and yet the decent honest organization cannot go ahead; and yet Lewis and his crew of wreckers are permitted to go ahead. Where is justice? Where is the miner? But we understand: Guns and terror are mightier than justice and the miner. But they would not be if the public officials were honest.

Our Socialist Club in Sheboygan, Wisconsin is sponsor for a political massmeeting Saturday evening, Sept. 27. Speakers in Slovene and English will appear to further the cause of the Socialist candidates.

Lessons From the German Election

BY NORMAN THOMAS

He is, indeed, a blind fool who does not see what striking proof the German election gives that the day of capitalism is done and that the attempt to build peace on the insecure foundations laid at Versailles is vain. It was to be expected that Communists would increase their vote in Germany because of the terrific unemployment. It was less to be expected that the German Fascists or National Socialists whose jingoism is far deeper than their socialism should poll so many votes. As matters stand, the German people have certainly declared against capitalism because the socialists, communists and national socialists, all of whom have declared against capitalism, however sharp the differences between them, polled well over half the vote. Communists and Fascists whose young men have indulged in murderous brawls nevertheless agree in opposition not only to democracy but to the Young Plan. Fascists gained more than Communists. The results shows the strength of nationalism in Germany and the precariousness of peace based on the Treaty of Versailles.

The hope, of course, lies in the fact that the Socialists are still the strongest party. They will need wisdom and courage to deal with the situation and they will need some understanding from other nations, including our own, of the fact that Germany cannot be permanently disarmed unless other nations follow suit and that it will not pay reparations for two generations. Neither will the allied nations pay debts to America so long. Sooner or later we want peace that slates must be wiped clean.

Let no one think that what has happened in Germany is an isolated phenomenon. Similar things under similar conditions will happen in other countries. There is no time for drift. Nor is there safety for America in a political conservatism which stands in striking and dangerous contrast to our eagerness to accept mechanical changes. America will do well to heed some of these lessons from the German election.

Nervous Dictators

European dictators are getting very nervous or very brutal, or both. First there was the characteristic Horthy brutality in Budapest. Then there were the Jugo-Slavs charges that the Fascists have killed more than 2,000 Slavs in Italy in the last eight years. Next came Pilsudski's wholesale arrests in Warsaw. I hope that some of our Socialists and Liberal Hungarian friends will understand that Socialists can show no enthusiasm at all for a revision of the unjust peace treaties simply to give the Horthy dictatorship a larger territory to misgovern. I am very pleased to see that this position is strongly endorsed by my friend, Professor Oscar Jaszi, formerly a member of the Karolyi government and by the Second International itself. Professor Jaszi writes me: "The correction of the frontiers under the present terrorist government would mean the extension of the feudal autocratic rule upon those Hungarian workers and peasants who acquired at least a minimum of liberty and a lot of larded property in some of the new states."

Latin American Troubles

Latin American dictators are having an anxious time. Irigoyen has followed the way of his brethren in Bolivia and Peru. There was a time when Irigoyen was something of a radical, but always of a personal and non constructive type. The military bunch who overthrew him are frank conservatives and champions of the wealthy. The most encouraging thing in Argentina is the reported growth of the Socialist Party. A great many rulers in our world are likely to have a headache when they consider the political dangers of economic depression. For economic depression it is which has given the revolutionary juntas their chance. What they will do with the chance is another matter.

LAILLER TOUR GROUP RETURNS

The study tour of Socialism organized by the League for Industrial Democracy and led by Dr. Harry Laidler has just returned with enthusiastic accounts of the acceptance of socialist ideas in Western Europe. "The group was impressed with the wide acceptance of the principle of social insurance against unemployment, sickness and accident and of old age pensions in the advanced European nations; the close cooperation between the trade union, cooperative and political labor movements in all of the countries visited and the advance of public services since the war in many of the countries of Europe and especially the expansion of the function of municipalities in the matter of housing, recreation, health and education," said Dr. Laidler.

The group was warm in its praise of Arthur Henderson's achievements in the British Foreign Office in improving the general European situation; of Vienna's housing and child welfare accomplishments and of Russia's attempt through the Five Year Plan to establish a firmer economic basis for its industrial life.

"The attempt of the Soviets to mobilize a whole population for constructive economic change, particularly in connection with the Five Year Plan; their attempt, through the State Planning Commission, to view the economic system as a whole; their endeavor to revolutionize the basis of agriculture and their search for effective non-profit incentives in industry," declared Dr. Laidler, "constituted, in the eyes of the group, Russia's greatest challenge to the modern world."

Every place the group went they found the Socialist parties growing in strength and following, and the Communist parties declining, altho in Germany probably both the Fascists and Communists will gain in the September 14 elections while the Socialists retain their strength.

Liberty in any sense, positive or negative, is impossible for the mass of mankind while the industry of the world is privately controlled for private profit.—Fred Henderson, M. P.

TWO SIDES TO THIS STORY

"The persistent and steady decline of the wheat market here, in Canada, and also in Argentine, which has contributed to the general business depression, was blamed on soviet Russia last night by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur Hyde." (Newspaper item.) —Yes, but who is to be blamed for the high price of bread, which stays high regardless of low wheat prices? Are they going to pin that on the bolsheviks too?
