

KODAK Color Control Patches © Eastman Kodak Company, 1995

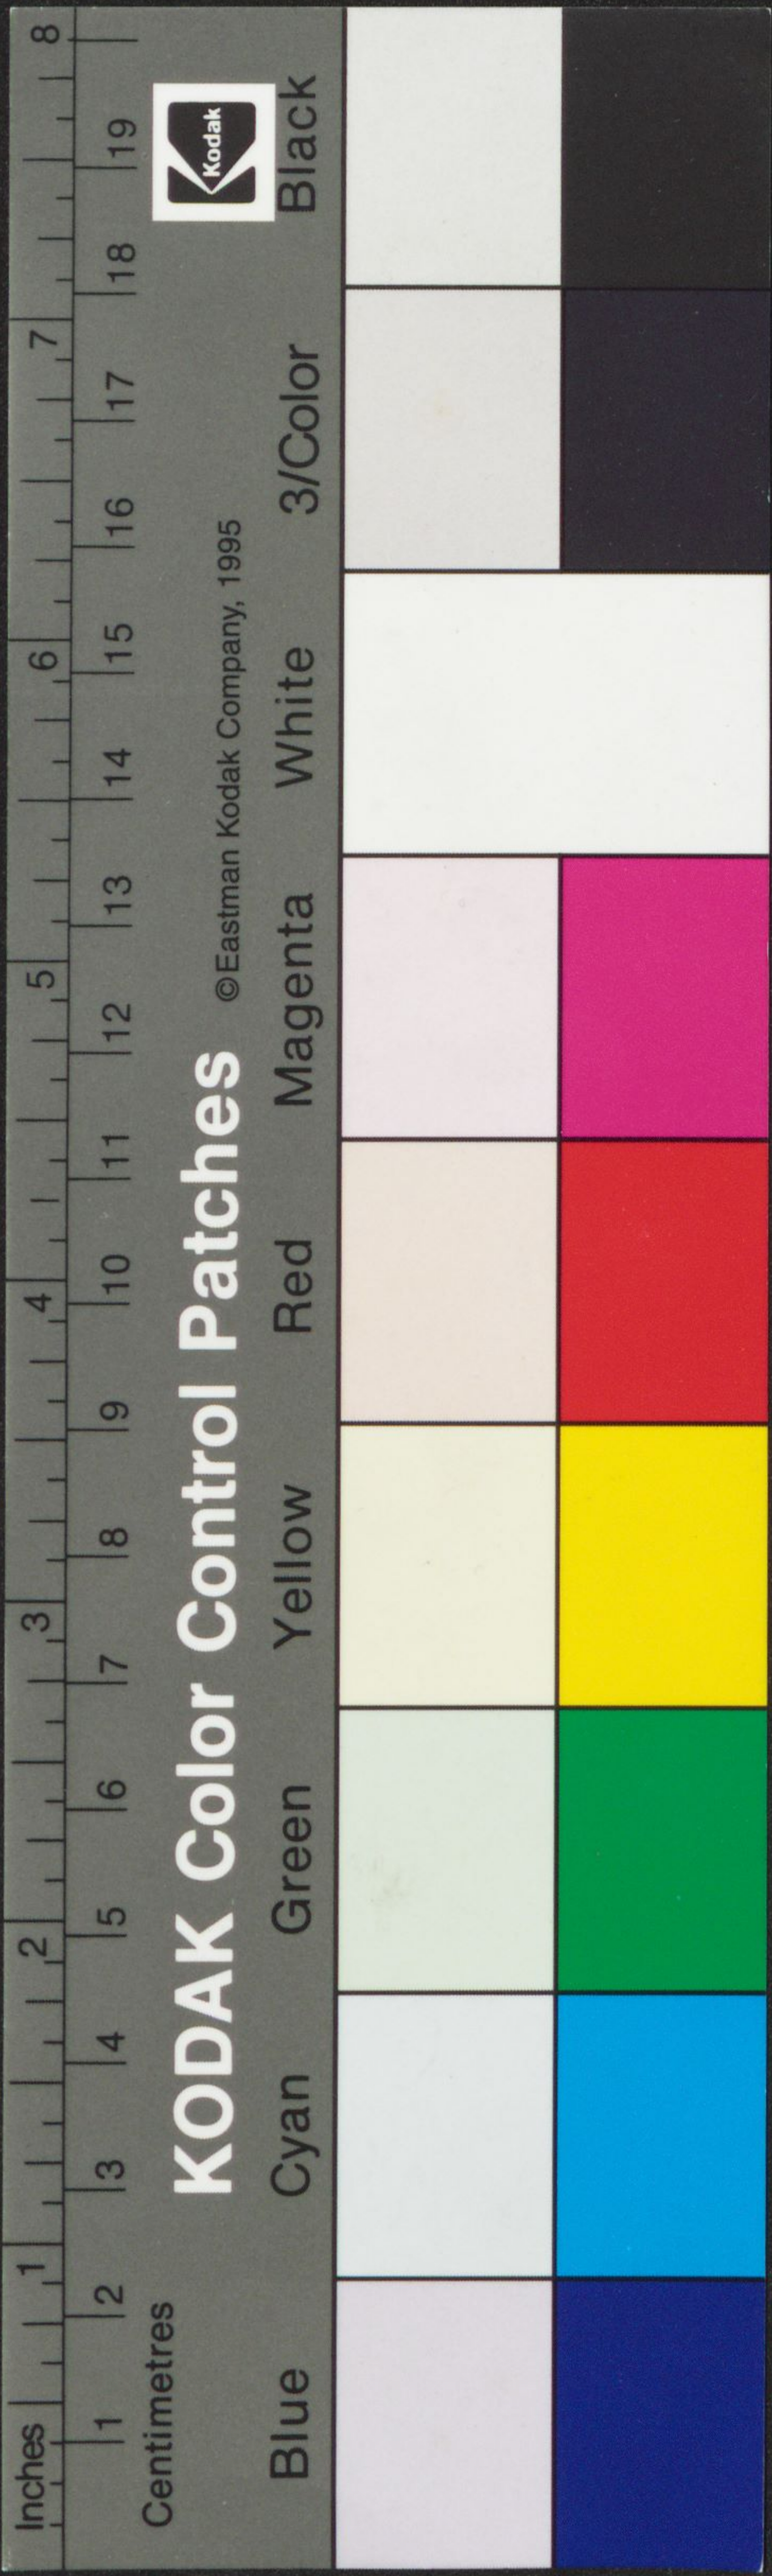

Handwritten Latin text from a manuscript, likely a liturgical book or theological treatise. The text is dense and written in a medieval Gothic script. It discusses the Eucharist, the body and blood of Christ, and the nature of the sacrament. Key phrases include 'panis et calicis', 'veritas carnis', and 'veritas sanguinis'. The text is arranged in two columns on a single page.

KODAK Color Control Patches

©Eastman Kodak Company, 1995

[Faint, mostly illegible Latin text from a manuscript page, likely a liturgical or historical document.]

[Faint, mostly illegible Latin text from an old manuscript, visible in the upper left portion of the page.]

