Vedeli so, da je Gospod

Učenci so ob jezeru hitro prepoznali Gospoda - po dveh prikazovanjih so bila njihova srca že pripravljena na vero.

Pri vstajenju je Gospodov angel prek žena posredoval apostolom Jezusovo sporočilo, naj gredo v Galilejo, kjer ga bodo videli zato so se apostoli odpravili v Galilejo. To je bilo povsem naravno, saj so bili vsi iz Galileje.

Po njegovem naročilu so bili do binkošti v Jeruzalemu, nato pa iz Jeruzalema ven začeli uredničevati Jezusovo naročilo: »Pojdite...« Apostoli so bili po veliki noči zelo gibljivi. Niso bili vezani na en kraj. Bili s v Galileji, nato v Jeruzalemu in od tod so se razšli po svetu. Pravi apostol mora biti gibljiv in oznanjati evangelij, kjerkoli je potrebno.

Jezus se je ob tej priložnosti že tretjič prikazal apostolom po vstajenju. Prikazal se jim je na obrežju Galilejskega jezera, ali kakor so mu rekli domačini, »Tiberijskega morja". Tam je pri obali skalnata ploščad, kjer naj bi Jezus pripravil učencem obed, zato se že v starih romarskih knjigah imenuje Mensa Domini. Tam so bili samo Jakob starejši in evangelist Janez in dva neimenovana. Najbrž ta dva sploh nista bila iz kroga dvanajsterih, ampak iz vrst Jezusovih posebnih privržencev. Ta mešanost ljudi kaže, da so se apostoli res vrnili v vsakdanje življenje. To spričuje tudi ribarjenje. Spet so se oprijeli poklica, ki so ga opravljali, preden jih je Jezus poklical k sebi.

Vendar je apostolsko življenje tudi zdaj prihajalo do izraza. Pobudo za ribarjenje je dal Peter in on je tudi vodil ribarjenje. Peter je prikazan v vlogi, ki jo je imel v apostolskem zboru; on je vedno na prvem mestu. Prav pri tem čudežu mu bo Jezus izročil ključne nebeškega kraljestva in ga postavil za poglavarja svoje črede z besedami: »Pasi moja jagnjeta«.

V nedeljo, 7. aprila 2013 smo se predstavniki društev Niagarske koordinacije zbrali na rednem spomladanskem srečanju. Ker bo klub Sava letos gostitelj SLOVENSKEGA DNEVA, je bilo srečanje pri njih. Že ob dvanajstih so pripravili kosilo, nato smo imeli sveto mašo in po maši smo v zgornjih prostorih novega prizidka imeli naše srečanje. Vsi navzoči so se na kratko predstavili, prebrali smo zapisnik jesenskega srečanja, svoje je dodala predsednica ga. Magda in potem se je razvil pogovor, kjer je vsak predstavil svoje mnenje. Dopolnili smo naslove in tudi listo dogodkov za tekoče leto. Nato smo prebrali navodila za Slovenski dan, ki je pred nami. Razvila se je tudi kratka razprava o trenutnih problemih, tako v društvih kot tudi v slovenski skupnosti in kako naj bi k pristopili k rešitvam.

Moški zbor bo gostoval v naši župnijski cerkvi v soboto 4. maja. Pel bo pri večerni maši, po maši pa bodo dodali še kakšno pesem iz svojega bogatega repertoarja.

Vokalna skupina Območne obrtno-podjetniške zbornice Šmarje pri Jelšah

Vokalna skupina Območne obrtno-podjetniške zbornice Šmarje pri Jelšah deluje deveto leto. S svojim petjem razveseljuje ljubitelje petja v obrtniških krogih, pa tudi poslušalce na drugih prireditvah. V skupini pejejo aktivni in upokojeni člani zbornice, skupina šteje 18 članov.

Njihov repertuar obsega narodne in umetne pesmi od renesanse, baroka, do modernih stvaritev.

Od svoje ustanovitve skupina vsako leto nastopa na reviji obrtniških pevskih zborov in na območni reviji v Šmarju pri Jelšah, vabljeni so na prireditve izven našega področja, pa tudi v tujini so že gostovali.

Vokalna skupina je doslej posnela tri zgoščenke, od tega leta 2002 zgoščenko z naslovom »Zadoni nam iz src, napev krepak«, naslednje leto »Mnoga leta srečni bili«, ob svoji petletnici pa »Sem zaljubljen bil«.

Vokalna skupina je letos nastopila na slovesnosti v okviru Dni obrti in podjetništva v Portorožu-na podelitvi priznanja Obrtnik leta. Vokalno skupino vodi od ustanovitve g. Franci Plohl.

V mesecu maju bomo imeli še enega glasbenega gosta. LUKA DEBEVEC-MAJER iz Argentine, ki je bil na gotovanju pri nas pred dvema letoma na spomladanskem banketu. Kanadski slovenski kongres ga je za 11. maja povabil na Brown's Line. Pri nas bo nastopil v soboto, 18. maja 2013 pri večerni maši; potem pa nam bo zapel še kakšno primerno. Vabljeni!

Sunday's Readings

3rd Sunday of Easter

Response: “I will extol you, Lord, for you have raised me up.”

First Reading Acts 5:27-32, 40-41

Peter puts obedience to God before obedience to men.

Second Reading Apocalypse 5:11-14

The Lamb that was sacrificed and conquered is worthy of universal worship.

Gospel John 21:1-19

The risen Christ empowers his disciples and calls Peter to a new mission.

“Then he said to him a third time, ‘Simon son of John, do you love me?’”

Illustration

A priest celebrated a family funeral in France, soon after the end of the Second World War. He realised that the family members were deeply divided. On one side of the church there were those who had fought for the Resistance during the war and on the other side were those who had collaborated with the Nazis through the Vichy government. He realised that he could not really celebrate the Mass and just completely ignore the fierce hostility that existed between the two groups. And so he told the congregation that he would not begin the Mass until they had exchanged the kiss of peace.

There had to be some attempt at reconciliation or the Mass would sound like hollow words. There would be words of belief but no actions that put those beliefs into practice. How could they pray for the resurrection of their brother if there was not even a glimmer of its transforming power in their own hearts?

Gospel Teaching

Today we read from the twenty-first chapter of St John’s Gospel. For many scholars it looks as though this chapter has been added on to the finished Gospel. The Gospel seems to have ended with the appearance of the risen Christ on Easter Day, the gift of the Spirit, and Thomas’ acknowledgement that he did indeed believe that the risen Christ was his Lord and God. Why now do we have this additional chapter, which begins with Peter and the other disciples back home with their nets by the lake of Galilee? They have gone back to their old jobs. Does not their belief in the resurrection make any difference to their lives?

The point of today’s Gospel is to show us that belief in the resurrection is not enough unless that belief is translated into actions that transform our lives. The resurrection does indeed mean that Jesus rose from the dead and appeared to his disciples. That is what happened to him; but perhaps more important is what the resurrection does for us.

As dawn breaks, Jesus appears to the disciples after they have spent a fruitless night fishing. He commands them to cast their nets again and this time they are full to bursting. The risen Lord's work of transforming their lives has begun and now Peter recognises that it is the Lord and, impetuous as ever, he jumps into the sea. Then Jesus invites them to a meal of fish cooked on a charcoal fire and shares food with them as he did so often before.

But now we are to see the transforming power of Christ at work in Peter. Recall an earlier charcoal fire where, despite his claims that he would die for him, Peter had denied his master. On Easter Day Jesus had accepted him back without recrimination, but now Peter is given a second opportunity to affirm his faith. Jesus asks Peter three times, "Do you love me?" Peter's failure is not taken lightly, for he had denied Jesus three times. Now he asserts his love three times as he experiences Christ's forgiveness. The resurrection has the power to heal painful memories that we bury within us unexpressed.

The resurrection for Peter means not only forgiveness but a call to action. The fisherman is given the new task of caring for Christ's Church by imitating the Good Shepherd. The criterion for caring is Jesus' own love. Now Peter will once again have the opportunity to prove that love by laying down his life, as he once had promised to do, when he will stretch out his hands in martyrdom.

We celebrate Easter for fifty days because it is the centre of our faith. It proclaims the great mystery that Jesus has overcome death and promises eternal life. It gives us the power that heals our memories and forgives our sin but it also calls us to live out the resurrection in our lives.
