The Mouth and Cancer

Cancer is a problem we must all face and each person must do his part in the fight against it. Medical science has not yet found a means of preventing most cancers, except by keeping our tissues healthy, but nearly all cancers of the mouth can be prevented and, if treated early, nearly all can be cured.

All irritations of the mucous membranes of the mouth should be avoided. These are usually caused by a jagged or sharp edges tooth, by a badly fitting plate or by repeated biting of the tongue by a sharp edged tooth.

The excessive use of either smoking or chewing tobacco will cause chronic irritations in the mouth and especially pipe smokers may cause a chronic irritation of the lips.

Cancer, it is believed, never develops in healthy tissue, therefore if we keep the tissues of our mouths clean, healthy and free from injury and infection, we should not be afraid of cancers of this type.

The conditions that precede or indicate early cancer about the mouth are an elevated outgrowth on the lip, a fever blister, that does not show signs of healing after two weeks, or a persistent crack of the lip, which does not heal.

If an ulcer or strange condition in the mouth persists for more than two weeks we should get expert medical advice. If our teeth have any rough edges or there is any faulty dental work within our mouths, or if infection about the gums is present, we should consult an efficient dentist.

Cancer of the mouth, if treated skillfully and thoroughly in its earliest stages, can nearly always be cured with little pain or discomfort.

The manner in which we can all help to prevent cancer of the mouth is to keep our mouths clean, have our teeth in the best of shape possible, with the aid of a dentist when needed, and to procure the best medical advice available when we have any strange condition about the mouth lasting more than two weeks.

B Team Swings Into Action

Want to Book Game With Comrades

Joliet, Ill.—SS. Peter and Paul Society, No. 66, SSCU, organized another bowling team and was entered in the Junior City League.

Thursday, Nov. 20, we rolled against the league leaders and took two games from them; also rolling a team high game of 919.

The Harvest Party given by our society Nov. 19 certainly was a great success. A large crowd was on hand.

Saturday, Nov. 22, the Jolly Girls gave an old fashion party in honor of the Jolly Boys.

How about a match game with the Comrades Lodge, No. 193, SSCU, of Waukegan, Ill.

We stand for a bigger SSCU, better loyalty to our Union and for sport activities.

Party Given For Bowlers

A party was given by Mary Opalek for the George Washington bowling team and rooters at her home Thanksgiving eve.

We were entertained by the Opalek sisters, Ella and Josephine, who sang and played the uke for us.

The bowlers wish to thank Mary Opalek, the host, for the grand time shown us; also Mrs. Opalek for the wonderful lunch served us.

Music Critic: How did you like the barcarolle at the musicale last night? Sweet Young Thing: I didn't stay for the refreshments.

Sokols Lead in Athletics Among Slovenes

Are Under Rogelj's Capable Leadership

When it comes to athletics in a class by themselves among the Sloves of the United States. Although it numbers approximately one hundred members, yet through the fine management it is able to spend over a thousand dollars annually in the promotion of athletic activities, engaged in mostly by the younger people.

But how is the revenue obtained, one will ask. The Sokols hold an exhibition in which various stunts on the parallel and horizontal bars are performed; calisthenics and like exercises are systematically and gracefully exhibited by all of the classes, most of which are the offsprings of the members.

Large crowds attend these exhibitions and it is common to see a large number stand through the entire performance. But it takes ingenuity and real hard work to accomplish all this, including the publicity, so essential to all undertakings.

This year the Sokols have a bowling team entered in the Inter-Lodge League, while the girls are entering their championship basketball team in the Inter-Frat League for the second time.

In addition the Sokols have maintained gym classes for a number of years. Two nights of each week are devoted to the young men, while the girls are given equal consideration on other nights.

Recently the Sokol girls' championship basketball team defeated the Tyrs (Bohemian) Sokol three times in practice sessions.

It might be of interest to note that 50 per cent of the Sokols are also members of our South Slavonic Catholic Union.

Gifts From His Wife

Satan was having trouble with a new arrival, a little dried-up fellow, but very active, who refused to obey any of the rules, and raised Cain generally.

"Now, look here," roared Old Nick, catching hold of him. "who do you think you are? You seem to think you are running this place."

Aliens in Army

Some aliens are permitted to join the United States army and navy, and the naturalization laws allow certain exemptions to aliens who are in the American military service.

PLEDGE CARDS

Will Induce Outsiders to Become Members

Did you ever try to induce a friend into joining your lodge? Of course, you have. Undoubtedly on numerous occasions you pointed out the advantages the S. S. C. U. has to offer in the way of sick, death and disability benefits along with the 20-year endowment Class B insurance.

If your lodge happened to maintain athletic teams you could point out the interest and enthusiasm displayed on the part of the members when a contest was on.

Girl members are as good sales talkers as the boys are, and in some instances excel the male element.

But in the future, members will have something else to induce candidates for membership than sales talk, for pledge cards will be sent to all lodges to be distributed among the members.

Here's the inside information. At the first Athletic Conference held in Cleveland, O., on Sept. 12 and 13, the delegates not only discussed the athletic situation, but considered ways and means toward increasing the membership.

On this pledge card will be space for the name, address, phone number of the candidate; space will be provided for the name of the lodge.

The pledge card idea is an excellent one, and it is certainly

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Poisoning by carbon monoxide is one of the hazards of civilized life that can never be entirely eliminated. Especially, in some of our larger cities we are already beginning to read about the deaths due to this poison gas.

Illuminating gas used for cooking and to some extent for heating is the chief source of deaths due to this cause, while the exhaust from automobiles kept running in closed garages is next on the list.

If a person overcomes by this gas is found, action must be taken quickly. No time is to be lost if results are to be had and many times a physician cannot be found immediately.

If the victim is not breathing, artificial breathing should be given immediately and continued until natural breathing starts or until death is fully established.

Very often the victim may be still breathing. In this case artificial respiration should not be attempted, but oxygen itself or in combination with carbon di-oxide should be given.

It is also very important to keep the patient warm. If he has to lie on the ground, blankets or coats should be placed under him, this being more necessary than having him covered with blankets.

After the return of breathing by the patient himself, inhalation should be continued until he is returned to normal.

This method of treating carbon monoxide poisoning by inhalation is based on the fact that carbon monoxide asphyxia if untreated may continue in full force for a considerable time after the victim is removed from the poisonous atmosphere.

Harvest Party Attracts Neighboring Cities

Annual Meeting to Be Held Dec. 21; Bowling Team Victorious

Joliet, Ill.—That the SS. Peter and Paul Society, No. 66, SSCU, believes in advertising its activities, there is not the slightest doubt.

Great as the party was we had some misfortune in the loss of a diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Thomas Henneberry and a wrist watch belonging to Miss Frances Senffner of 1825 Clement St., Joliet.

Rube Tronson and his Cow-boys certainly came through with some fine music.

Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22, SS. Peter and Paul's bowling teams won two contests, the regulars defeating the Hinz Bros. in a regular West Side League game, postponed on account of the Harvest Party.
