

UCSSA Message to Sec'y James Byrnes

The United Committee of South-Slavic Americans sent the following message to Secretary James F. Byrnes, U. S. representative at Foreign Ministers Council meeting in London September 10th:

"Representing preponderance of approximately one million Americans of Yugoslav descent and anxious from standpoints of both United States and Yugoslavia that justice and intelligent statesmanship should finally prevail in reference to Trieste and the territories of Istria and Slovenia Littoral, this Committee takes the liberty of respectfully urging upon you that United States support Yugoslav claims for readjustment of Italian-Yugoslav border.

"We earnestly request that you and your assistants read pamphlet entitled 'Trieste' by Professor A. J. P. Taylor of Oxford which was published by Yugoslav Information Office in London and which has been / or will be available to you. It is a factual objective and closely reasoned statement deserving your attention. Its argument stems from desire for peace and justice and economic progress in Trieste's hinterland which includes not only Yugoslavia but other south central European lands.

"We wish to emphasize that agreement with the Taylor suggestions and that we deem it important you and your assistants become acquainted with it.

"Best wishes for a successful conference and highest respect. Zlatko Balokovic, President."

Jack Ganson Back to Promote Wrestling

Jack Ganson

Jack Ganson local wrestling promoter is back in town and is planning to reopen wrestling for this winter in Cleveland. Since Jack left Cleveland last June he has had 31 wrestling bouts in Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Montana, Washington and Oregon.

Ganson always keeps himself in good condition. Anytime he is short of wrestlers he is always ready to step in a ring himself, and that happened on many occasions last winter in Cleveland.

Fellows like George Zaharias, Orville Brown, John Pesek and Bob Wagner old time favorites of Cleveland will be in action here this winter. Jack has also discovered a few new wrestling stars that have never been here before such as: Lord Albert Mills, Jim Parker, Young John Kilonis and many others. Since Public Auditorium is going to be taken more now for conventions Jack is making a deal to take over Central Armory, old favorite Cleveland wrestling center. He intends to run wrestling bouts every week during winter months starting in October.

ON THE WAY TO SCHOOL

Mothers, your child is in danger if he hasn't learned to cross streets properly on the way to school. The basic safety rule is that streets should be crossed only at intersections—no dashing across in the middle of the block. The Greater Cleveland Safety Council reminds you that one-third of all pedestrian deaths last year were due to crossing in the middle of the block, so see that Johnnie forms the habit of crossing only at corners. You will be a better safety teacher for him than "old man experience" because experience does not always let his pupils live to graduate.

CONSERVE COAL

Here's a suggestion from the Greater Cleveland Safety Council that will not only help conserve your precious supply of coal this winter, but will also help to remove the danger of a fire from your home. Clean up your chimney and flues now! Also be sure that all stovepipes are in good shape and that all dampers and checks work properly. Keep the home fires burning... but in the furnace or the fireplace.

American Legion Lake Shore Post

Although the attendance at our last meeting, Sept. 13, 1945 was almost normal, the usual snap was lacking, probably due to the laxity inherited during the vacation period.

The basket outing held on John L. Mihelich's farm on July 15, was successful in spite of the weather, and everyone attending had a nice time.

It has been years since our Adjutant R. F. Gregorich has been absent from a meeting, so we sensed that something was amiss. We later found out that he was under observation at Glenville Hospital, where he spent a week and is now up and around again. Hope to see you soon, R. F.

The determined Henry Ermakora attended this session in spite of his right hand being in a splint. That's the spirit, Hank! Joe Gornik, attending his first meeting, was put to work at once, replacing the deceased Anthony Uss as delegate at the Ohio State Convention.

At this time we wish to extend our very sincere sympathy to Comrade Henry Ermakora and family upon the loss of their father, Mr. Matthew Ermakora. We wish to express similar sympathy to Comrade Anthony Krampel, who also recently lost his father, Mr. Anthony Krampel Sr.

As the American Legion had at this writing over a half million World War II members and is making a nation-wide drive to obtain 12 million new members, the Post is contemplating at a future date to make a similar approach for new members of this community.
—John Wenzel

Telenews Theatre

One of the outstanding films of the European War, "The Fall of Berlin," is at the Telenews Theatre for a week's run. This stirring, factual picture may well be regarded as an historical document for it portrays graphically and vividly the last and decisive battle of the victorious Red Army in Fascist Germany. Filmed by 32 cameramen of the First Bylorussian Army and nine cameramen of the First Ukrainian Army, the picture details by actual combat films and animated maps the Russian's advance from Stalingrad to the center of Berlin. Since there were no American cameramen present during the final Russian drive on Berlin, the films presented in this feature length documentary have never before been shown on an American screen.

Guest Stars

Coe Glade as "Carmen"

The list of guest stars for the San Carlo Fall Festival of Opera is now complete, according to Giacomo Bernardi, local impresario.

Zinka Milanov, the talented Yugoslav soprano, will lend her brilliance to the role of Aida in "Aida." Sydney Rayner brings his fine tenor voice in the characterization of Canio in "Pagliacci"—Alexander Kipnis takes the part of Mephistopheles in "Faust"—a favorite opera of many Clevelanders, and in the revival of "Madame Butterfly," Elda Ercole has a splendid opportunity to display her fine soprano range as Cho Cho San.

The Fall Opera Festival opens the season with "La Traviata" at the Cleveland Music Hall, October 10th at popular prices—from $1.00 to $3.00 plus tax. Tickets may be ordered in advance at 1224 Huron Road, The United Vacuum Store.

PASSES AWAY IN NEW GUINEA

On Sept. 14, 1945, the Editor of the Nova Doba, Anton J. Terbovec, received word that his son, Tech. Sgt. Third Grade, Edison A. Terbovec, had died in New Guinea on Aug. 29th while in the service of his country.

Sgt. Edison was born on April 18, 1923 and had been in the service for three years; half of this time he served overseas. While en route from Oro Bay in New Guinea to his new organization in the Philippines, he grew ill and was taken to the 119th Station Hospital where he died on Aug. 29, 1945.

He was a member of the Golden Gate Lodge No. 141, AFU of San Francisco, Cal. The Commanding Officer wrote that the sergeant was buried with full military honors on Aug. 31, 1945 in the Finschhafen Cemetery in New Guinea.

HIGHWAY COURTESY

Demanding the right of way is not necessarily the safe way, says the Greater Cleveland Safety Council, which points out that courtesy and safety are inseparable on the highway. Fifty-three per cent of the injuries caused by motor vehicles, the Council reports. That means that one of the drivers had the right of way and one was legally wrong. Courtesy by either of them might have saved both.
