Charter of Cooperation Signing

The Detroit province of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) and the Sisters of Humility of Mary, major Roman Catholic religious orders in the United States, had the official signing and endorsement of a "Charter Letter of Cooperation" on March 16 with representatives of the new St. Martin de Porres High School, 6111 Lausche Avenue, Cleveland.

These two key endorsements by both religious orders are to provide and commit resources to enable St. Martin de Porres High School to meet projected operating costs for the next five years.

St. Martin de Porres (SMDP) High School will open with its first class of 100 freshmen in August 2004. The mission of the school is to provide a Catholic college preparatory education to children who otherwise would not be able to afford such an opportunity. The school will be leasing the former elementary and auditorium buildings of St. Vitus Parish. The school will be co-educational for students of all faiths.

St. Martin de Porres High School will be the first Catholic high school to open in Cleveland in the past 50 years. One unique feature of St. Martin de Porres is the innovative corporate work-study program whereby each student works five days a month at offices of participating Cleveland companies. This approach enables financing of approximately 70% of the cost of the students' education. The projected remainder of students' tuition is $2,000. This educational alternative is for students who have limited access to a tuition-based secondary school, primarily in urban centers in the USA.

There are currently five existing schools in Chicago, Los Angeles, Austin, TX, Denver, and Portland, OR. SMDP will be part of this "Cristo Rey" network of schools. Cristo Rey means Christ the King in Spanish. Cristo Rey network schools have achieved a daily attendance rate of 97% with 87% of graduates attending universities across the USA.

Other Cristo Rey schools set to open or are under a feasibility study include Waukegan, New York (South Bronx), Lawrence, MA, Boston, and Delaware.

Slovenian Traces Around Globe

Slovenian immigrants serve as key partners of their native land. Although scattered all over the world, many gather in Slovenia every year on the first weekend of July for a traditional meeting of Slovenian immigrants. The central event of last year's "Meeting in My Country" was held at the lakeside resort of Bled on July 6, featuring a number of Slovenian cultural groups from around the globe.

Organized by the Slovenska izseljenska matica, the Slovene emigrants association, 'Meeting in My Country' involves several events which give expatriates as well as Slovenians at home a chance to get to know each other better. The events range from artistic exhibitions, music and sporting events, round-table debates, symposiums, host appearances by emigrant cultural groups, as well as traditional Slovenian language summer courses.

Last year, 30 Slovenian expats set out for the highest Slovenian peak, Mt. Triglav. A tradition of this kind of socializing goes back to 1956, when a Slovenian emigrant's picnic was organized in Polhov Gradec, near Ljubljana, as part of a visit by a strong delegation of Americans of Slovenian descent. The last emigrants' picnic was held in Skofja Loka in 1988, whereupon the event developed into the much broader 'Meeting in My Country.'

Strong Emigrant Community

Slovenians are inventive, diligent and business-oriented people. Wherever they have migrated, they have found their place under the sun and brought a part of their home culture along into the wider world.

Their enterprising spirit can be traced among the first immigrants who left their largely farming-oriented homeland at the turn of the 19th century, and particularly among economic immigrants, who went abroad mainly to seek better business and job opportunities. Even today, they are associated with a number of cultural, social and religious clubs, societies and organizations. They meet for holdays or Slovenian language hours, exchange their experiences, carry on Slovenian traditions and even publish Slovenian newspapers.

As Slovenia was struggling for its independence more than a decade ago, they helped to actively promote its international recognition.

There were several waves of immigration, which did not cease until recently. Most Slovenians settled in the United States, Canada, the western European countries, Australia, Argentina and other countries of South America. Many individuals can also be found elsewhere, among them missionaries, adventurers, and entrepreneurs, who despite their reluctance to admit it, have themselves become immigrants over the years.

In Europe, Slovenian immigrants mainly live in the EU member states and Switzerland. Most of them would admit that life in Slovenia is of a higher quality, yet they seem to compensate for this through higher earnings abroad. Many immigrants say that Slovenia still does not afford enough opportunities for entrepreneurs. Moreover, they feel less and less as foreigners in their adopted homelands, and will feel even less so when Slovenia becomes a full-fledged member of the EU.

The majority of Slovenians certainly emigrated to the United States. For some time before World War II, Cleveland figured as the second largest Slovenian city and is even today home to the largest Slovenian expatriate community. While they emigrated to the United States mainly before World War II, most Slovenians who left their homes after the war settled in Canada and Australia, as well as Latin America, particularly in Argentina. In Canada and Australia, Slovenians make up a constituent part of the multi-ethnic communities, made possible by policies in both countries that promote multiculturalism.

Slovenians abroad have always enjoyed the support of their native country: Slovenska izseljenska matica issues publications intended for immigrants, as well as books of fiction and non-fiction written by them and provides other assistance they require. It is well aware that Slovenians abroad remain important partners of their homeland.

| Country | Slovenians |
|----------------|------------|
| Germany | 30,000 |
| France | 4,000 |
| Belgium | 1,500 |
| Sweden | 4,000 |
| Switzerland | 4,000 |
| Austria | 8,000 |
| Bosnia-Herz. | 6,000 |
| Croatia | 22,300 |

| Canada | 30,000 |
| Argentina | 1,500 |
| Australia | 25,000 |

Comment: Might be interesting to know how Slovenia News arrived at these numbers as not all Slovenians care to reveal their origins. As a case in point, past U.S. Senator and current New School University President in New York City, Bob Kerry, whose mother is Slovenian, declined to even respond personally to an invitation to the monthly Slovenian social gathering in New York City. I gather that not any ethnicity is equal in the U.S., even today. I note that "sons" of Italy or Ireland boast of their origin while promoting their political views.

REFLECTIONS BY RUDY

Barberton Beer Joint

by RUFY FLIS

This past week I was in Barberton, Ohio with a co-worker who suggested we stop in a beer joint for lunch. The only place I could think of was across the street from a McDonald's where I sometimes stop for a fish sandwich. I consider it downtown Barberton. It is a few blocks from beautiful Anna Lake and a block further from a huge World War I artillery piece sitting on old-fashioned hard rubber wheels. I have never seen an old gun so huge. If ever I drive my car off the road at that corner, it's the cannon's fault.

Back to the beer joint, which had an "open" sign in front, next to the locked door, not far from the side entrance we used. Inside I saw the place was crowded, all booths and tables occupied, but some bar stools were unoccupied. My elbows were a little rusty, but as I leaned over on the bar, I felt quite natural.

Each of us received a menu from the bartender. I put on my eyeglasses and scanned the menu; and almost immediately my eyes rested on a single word "Slovenian" - spelled correctly and used as an adjective to describe their sausage sandwich.

I asked the bartender, "Where do you get your Slovenian sausage?" He told me they get the sausage from a butcher in town and that one of the part owners of the beer joint was Slovenian.

I have driven past the Slovenian Home in Barberton, I have read articles in the American Home about Barberton, and now my body has been nourished in the "Henry Bank Café" in Barberton.

Henry Bank Café has a bit of Slovenian heritage in it, although you would never have guessed it this past Saint Patrick's Day when all in the café were wearing the green.

I thought Henry Bank Café was a nice place where I had a tasty lunch, even if it was only a little Slovenian, and a lot of Irish.

It is only possible to live happily ever after on a day-to-day basis.

"Service To Render A More Perfect Tribute"

Jim's Journal

By Jim Debevec

Voters have never re-elected an incumbent President whose last name consists of only four letters. And the off-spring of former Presidents have not been re-elected either.

Four-letter Presidents who failed to win a second term are: William Howard Taft, Gerald Ford, and George H. W. Bush.

Sons of former Presidents who got the ax are John Quincy Adams and Benjamin Harrison.

A way to solve this problem is for Bush to change his last name and add more letters to it. For instance, he would do well if he took the name Mlakar. He'd not only garner the proud ethnic vote, but we could make him an honorary Slovenian, and urge him to join Slovenska Pristava which is a nice cool, green place to go in the summer beside his dusty ranch in Texas. This would help him garner the important Midwest and Conservation vote at the same time.

What he could do about his Dad being President, I haven't a clue. I can only offer so much help, the rest he'll have to figure out for himself.

Ohio: heart of elections

WASHINGTON -- Most recent political events in Ohio have featured Democratic candidates eagerly courting voters. But on a recent Saturday, at the Brecksville Community Center in Cleveland, more than 100 Republican volunteers gathered to learn a delicate art: how to defend President George W. Bush and help blunt the Democratic message that Mr. Bush is responsible for the state's ailing economy.

F. Kennedy in 1960 - have won the presidency without winning the state.

Mr. Bush carried Ohio by just 4 percentage points in 2000 and is working hard to hang on to it. He has visited the state several times as president and it is considered a high priority by his re-election team. Some campaign strategists regard Ohio as the "Florida of 2004" - the state most likely to swing the election.

Ohio is second only to Missouri as a bellwether state with a remarkable knack for picking the winner in presidential elections. In recent years, Ohio has tipped towards the Republicans, who hold the governor's office and both state legislative chambers. Democrats tend to lead in the state's largest cities.

In the Democratic race, Ohio has provided fertile ground for a strong economic pitch by John Kerry who has highlighted the state's grim economic situation. Ohio has lost nearly 265,000 jobs in the past three years - 160,000 of them in manufacturing.

Life in the Refugee Camps

By Anton Zakelj, translated and edited by John Zakelj

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cilka Zakelj passed away on Friday, March 19. See death notice on page 8.

Thursday, June 24, 1948

My co-worker Janez Levičar was appointed to a paid position in the camp administration. Frank Lorber had that job before him, but Lorber quit and went to a job in the woods because he became so frustrated trying to work with the British. I congratulated Levičar with the words, "My sincere sympathies! I don't think you will like this work." He disagreed.

Another co-worker, Ivan Frandl, and I met with McKeon, who said our pay for camp work will have to be reduced to 120 shillings a month. I argued with him, saying this was not enough to stay alive. He said I could quit and he will find 9 other people to take over my job. He called in 9 Ukrainians and offered them the job, but 4 of them said they won't work in the camp. One went so far as to say he would rather find an unpaid job outside the camp. One of them said he would take the job, but only until he leaves for Chile.

Rudolf Primozic had to go to Gradec (Graz) for an operation on one eye. They are concerned that his illness may spread to his healthy eye. This will probably delay his plans to emigrate to Chile.

Friday, June 25, 1948

Ristič still contends that I am selling illegal photos for Kocmür. I was asked to attend a meeting today with Rustič and camp leadership, including Ozeg and Levičar. We agreed that Kocmür should pay Ristič 10% of the value of 200 photos, or about 90 shillings. I agreed to write to Kocmür.

In the afternoon, Fradl and I pounded 40 fence posts.

Saturday, June 26, 1948

I worked in the basement under the kitchen sorting through 30 - 40,000 pounds of potatoes. Many of them had gone bad and the stench was awful.

Sunday, June 27, 1948

Today was a nice day. I sold some of Kocmür's photos. Cilka and I went for a walk in the woods.

Monday, June 28, 1948

Another group of refugees left for Canada this morning, including Karel Albiani, Pušelj, and Ozeg. Since I worked on Saturday, day, I thought I wouldn't have to work today. But McKeon got angry and ordered us to work. Fradl and I pounded another 30 fenceposts. After we were done, McKeon congratulated us and said we could take off tomorrow (the holy day of St. Peter).

Tuesday, June 29, 1948

We went to Mass at 8 a.m. Then we heard an announcement on the loudspeakers calling everyone to their jobs, saying that anyone who did not report by 9:30 would face a fine of 50 shillings. Angrily, I put on my work clothes, but when I saw that nobody else was going to work, I decided to stay in my room. I wrote letters to my mother and sister and put together a package for my brother Jozef.

Svenšek went around the camp, collecting donations for a farewell gift for the major, our camp director. Most people refused to give anything, some gave 1, 2, or 3 shillings. I gave 3 shillings and asked the major to return the lace that I had loaned him for display in his office. I know the British, and I know I'll never get that lace back unless I get it from the major before he leaves.

Wednesday, June 30, 1948

We buried rotten potatoes near the creek.

Primozic returned from the hospital without his left eye.

I received a letter with 2 Canadian dollars from my brother-in-law Mire, which is a sign that he is doing well in Canada.

Friday, July 2, 1948

I received a telegram from Kocmür, asking me to meet him at the train station in Leoben tomorrow morning. I asked McKeon for time off from my job and he refused, saying, "The major is not paying you to travel around."

Saturday, July 3, 1948

I couldn't find anyone to meet Kocmür at the train station.

Mlakar Walks Down Memory Lane

by RAY MLAKAR

Before I start, let me be one of the many to congratulate those fine ladies and gentlemen who were being honored last Saturday night in the Slovenian National Home on St. Clair as the outstanding and dedicated people who labor for their various Slovenian Homes. Without kind, dedicated people like them, our National Homes would not be able to exist. From watching our own West Park National Home, it goes without saying that if it were not for the Piviks and the Lachs, our National Home would have fallen by the wayside. My personal heartfelt thanks to all those who were honored this year.

Well, "D-Day" for the eyes is getting closer, for last week I went to the doctor's office for measurements. Holy smoke. I never thought measurements were necessary and I did spend some time there. Now that I think of it, I did not spend that much time getting measured for my "monkey suit" when I got married some 27 years ago.

Fortunately, I had a fine lady technician working with me and she packed me a little satchel with the various eye drops, cleaning pads and special sun glasses to wear after the surgery. What I was surprised at, was that she fore-warned that I could not take baths or shower for at least five days after the surgery. Trying to keep my sense of humor I told her that I don't think that was possible for me not to take a bath or shower and she said, "Why will that cause such a problem for I see from your records that you live alone and are a widower." I said technically you are right, I do live more or less alone and am a widower but my dog sleeps in my bed and knowing him, after the second day of not taking a bath, he is going to tell me where to go.

She laughed and said, "Well you can take a sponge bath and use a lot of cologne." She doesn't know "Harry," (my Carin Terrier) for I don't know what he hates more, the cologne or the smell of me not taking a shower. What can I say, "Harry, you are going to have to bear with me. Let's face it; there were many times when you did not smell like a rose either, and I never kicked you out of bed."

The other day I went to do some grocery shopping and unfortunately I had to use the toilet. Normally that would not cause a problem, but when I got to where the bathrooms were, I could not read which one was for gentlemen. As if that were not bad enough, I wanted some ice cream and when I got to the freezer section, I could not read the flavors on the carton, so there was a young lady nearby and I asked her for help.

I said I am looking for banana caramel ice cream and I left my glasses at home. Gladly she said, but I think she really thought I was "far out" for I was wearing my glasses.

I am just hoping that when the day comes that I get to those golden gates God will recognize me in spite of all my second-hand parts such as false ears, false teeth, and now false eyes. Lord it is really me, the same little old kid that Sister Bernadette bounced around from blackboard to blackboard. I'll bet my readers will be glad when I get put back together for it seems that over the past few weeks, that is all that I write about. Believe me when I say that before you go to bed tonight, thank God for the senses that you were born with and still have.

Oh yes, I did go through last week's American Home twice looking for the joke from Rudy Flis. Come on Rudy, I could not have missed it. You know the joke about the drunks in New York looking for a church at 2 a.m. It is not a dirty joke and if you feel it was shady, I promise I will see to it that you get absolution.

Okay, Ray, go ahead and tell your joke. It is about "Mr. Wrong and his wife." Su Song marries Lee Wong. The next year the Wongs have a baby. The nurse brings over a lovely, healthy bouncy, but definitely Caucasian white baby boy. "Congratulations," says the nurse to the new parents. "Well Mr. Wong, what are you and Mrs. Wong going to name your baby?" The puzzled man looks at the baby and says, "Well two Wongs don't make a white so I think we will name him "Sum Ting Wong."

Okay, one more, but this is rather long, but as I look at the paper I have room to get this one in. A man is sitting in an airliner which is about to take off when another man with a Labrador Retriever occupies the two empty seats beside him. The Lab is situated in the middle and the first man is looking quizzically at the dog when the second man explains that they work for the airlines.

The airline representative says, "Don't mind Sniffer; he's a sniffing dog, the best there is. I'll show you once we get airborne when I put him to work."

The plane takes off and levels out when the handler says to the first man, "Watch this." He tells the dog, "Sniffer, search." Sniffer jumps down, walks along the aisle and sits next to a woman for a few seconds. The dog then returns to its seat and puts one paw on the handler's arm. He says, "Good boy." The airline rep. turns to the first man and says, "That woman is in possession of Marijuana, so I'm making a note of this and her seat number for the police who will apprehend her upon arrival.

"Fantastic," replies the first man. Once again, the rep. sends Sniffer to search the aisle. The Lab sniffs about, sits down beside a man for a few seconds, returns to his seat and places two paws on the handler's arm. The airline rep. says, "That man is carrying cocaine, so again I am making a note of this and the seat number."

"I like it," says the first man. A third time the rep. sends Sniffer to search the aisle. The dog goes up and down the plane and after a while sits down next to someone. He then comes racing back, jumps on the seat and poops all over the aisle and the seat. The first man is greatly grossed out by this behavior from a supposedly well trained sniffing dog and asks, "What the hell is going on with that stupid dog?" The handler nervously replies, "He just found a bomb."

With that it is time for me to sign off while I can still hold the keyboard up close to my eyes. In the meantime may the Good Lord bless and watch over you and above all insure that if you do take a plane ride, that "Sniffer" is not riding in the seat next to you. I myself don't have to worry for with not being able to bathe, neither man nor beast will sit next to me.

Big Fat Slovenian Wedding

Slovenian Singing Society Zarja presents their spring frolic titled, "My Big Fat Slovenian Wedding" on Saturday, April 24 at the Slovenian Society Home, Euclid, Ohio. Dinner from 5 to 6:30, program at 7 p.m., and dancing from 8 until ? by the Jeff Pecon Orchestra.

St. Vitus Slovenian School Presents Spring Program

The students of St. Vitus Slovenian School have been busily preparing for their spring program this semester. Every Saturday morning one can hear singing and the practicing of poems and skits throughout the third floor of the school. Students are repeating after their teachers or listening for directions as they diligently work on their parts for the performance.

Each grade level will perform a special part. The preschoolers and kindergartners will sing Favorite Slovenian children's songs and perform a group recitation. The second and third graders will honor our Mother, Mary, with a very special poem and song. The fourth and fifth graders will perform a short skit entitled, "Mothers' Day in the Little Village."

Our oldest students in sixth, seventh, and eighth grades will reenact the installation of the Corinthian Dukes and Kings. The program will conclude with the students singing favorite Slovenian songs under the direction of John Srsen.

The festivities will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 27 in the St. Vitus Auditorium. The program will be followed by a delicious hors d'oeuvres and dessert potluck prepared by our parent board. Admission is free.

Please come and join us for this special event. It means so much to the children to see a full audience after all the effort they put into such a program. It is a wonderful way to spend the evening and show our support to our youth as well.

HAPPY

Spring has sprung! ☺

Well, it looked like that, anyway, and 179 HAPPY "Recycled Teenagers" gathered in Collinwood Slovenian Home to rejoice in the nice day.

We greeted new members Dolores Preston, and Jean Proell. Welcome aboard, you joined a goooood group!

A silent prayer was observed for Ann Kovach and John "Gutch" Kustich, who went to their eternal reward. May they rest in peace; our sympathy to the families. ☺

Our Sunshine Lady Ann Eichler sent cheery cards to our sick friends Joe Drobnič, Dorothy Edmiston, Frank Kalamasz, Jean Lokar, Albert Marn, Frank Sadar, John Sorz, Al Tercek, and Dorothy Trepal. Get well quick, everybody! It was great to see several back among us. Frank Sadar really gave us a scare; don't do that again, please!

Many thanks to Myra Jerkic and this month's helper Rose Weber for doing a great job with the 50-50 raffle. There were many happy winners. ☺

Fran Kajfez reports we have 117 honorary members, and 57 chomping at the bit. Y'all just have to be patient awhile longer, ya hear! Frannie has the Nashville trip all set up - three marvelous days, September 27 - 30, 2004; $443.00 PP. A few seats are still available, and there is a wait list. A Mystery trip is scheduled for Friday June 11, 2004, $62.25 PP. Lots of interesting items on the agenda, specially for the men. Prices are now a little higher - there is a mandatory sales tax added. Oh, well, they get us coming and going, don't they? C'est la vie, as they say; that's life...

An urgent reminder: bring TWO picture IDs with you for the Windsor trip! Papers are checked both ways; and you don't want to be stranded across the border, even if drugs there ARE cheaper....

Thanks a bunch to the kitchen crew for preparing such delicious "Sloppy Joe" sandwiches. YUM's the word! ☺ Anyone still hungry was able to go down to the Clubroom after the meeting, and feast on a Wing Ding dinner. John Hozjan has the perfect touch with the sauce. Another YUM! and no blizzard outside this time! The Man-Woman of the Year banquet, where John is among the honorees, is all sold out. Also many Thanks to Ken Zalar, Cathy Hlad and Teeny Ullie for the wonderful music provided for this YUM YUM party. A good time was had by all.

Many of us played Bingo after the meeting, and some people were really lucky. Imagine getting Bingo after just five numbers called! How often does THAT happen? Bet they will be lucky in Windsor, too.

Our May 2, 2004 Dinner Dance is coming up fast. Linda Plecnik is cooking; and dinner will be served at 2 pm. Now repeat three times: NO carry-outs! Ray Polantz will provide toe-tapping music from 3-7 pm. Last day to buy tickets at $18.00 PP is April 26. Get them at the next meeting and avoid the rush. Tables of 8 or 10 may be reserved; invite your friends!

Tune your pipes up for April 14; we'll sing at Slovene Home for Aged after the meeting. Doesn't matter if some notes are sour; our listeners' ears are not so perfect anymore, either. But they sure enjoy our company!

Maybe I should end this scribbling with a joke; who was it already that said "Always leave them laughing"? I forget... Guess the memory is the first to go.... and I can't remember the second!

Hasta la vista,

H.W. ☺

Slovenia: My Country

The Library Journal called this "an outstanding book for any library" and said, "The author most assuredly offers readers a chance to see the incredible beauty of Slovenia through his outstanding photography, but reading the accompanying text is just as important as looking at the scenic views." Produced by Joco Žnidarski, the long-serving photo editor of the major daily newspaper in Slovenia, "My Country" captures Slovenia's stunning beauty in 277 photographs over its 200 pages. Text by Zeljko Kozinc. $90. ISBN 961-90798-9-2.

Bob Dolgan Talks About 'Heroes, Scamps, etc., at Heritage Lecture

The Slovenian-American Heritage Foundation invites all to attend the first talk in their 2004 lecture series. The Foundation is extremely pleased that Bob Dolgan will discuss his new book Heroes, Scamps, and Good Guys: 101 Colorful Characters from Cleveland Sports History.

The event, which is free and open to the public, will take place on Wednesday, March 31 at 7:00 p.m. in the Lower Hall of the Slovenian Society Home, 20713 Recher Avenue in Euclid. A coffee and strudel social will follow the lecture.

In his talk, Bob Dolgan will review the many colorful characters who crowd the world of Cleveland sports. As described in his book, Bob will discuss a roster that includes heroes like Rocky Colavito and Jesse Owens. Scamps, from Joe Jackson to Albert Belle. Good guys, like Lou Groza and Mark Price. And a few special cases - legendary greaseballer Gaylord Perry, for one - who was a bit of each.

Sportswriter Bob Dolgan has written about them all while covering the sports beat for The Cleveland Plain Dealer for the last 43 years. His writing has also appeared in The Sporting News, Baseball Digest, and Golf Digest. He was named one of the top 10 sports columnists in America by the Associated Press Sports Editors in 1985, and has won many other national, state, and local sports-writing awards. Since 1995, he has written frequently about sports history for The Plain Dealer, including contributions to a nationally recognized 1997 series on black baseball players and a 2001 series on the 100th anniversary of the Cleveland Indians.

In 1999 he was inducted into the Cleveland Journalism Hall of Fame. He is also co-author of The Polka King, with Frank Yankovic.

A Cleveland native and a graduate of John Carroll University, he lives in Willoughby Hills, Ohio with his wife, Cecilia. He has a daughter, Ann, and a son, Bob.

Fascinating Story of New Orleans

by RUDY PIVIK

Back in August of 2003, our son Frank and his two young boys Franke, 14, and Eric, 12, moved to New Orleans, LA. Frank took the job for benefits, medical insurance, pension, and higher wages. So, since August, I have been to New Orleans three times helping and on vacation. My wife, singer Marie Pivik, has been there three different times, but she goes to cook and clean house.

The airport is called Louie Armstrong Airport and code is MSY. Frank moved to Destrehan near the Mississippi River. He works for Valero Oil Refineries loading and unloading barges and ocean tankers.

They live $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from the Mississippi River and the last week in February while visiting on a beautiful day, I rode a bicycle about 4 miles out west on the river levee, which is a high bank of dirt and stone on an upward slope to stop possible flooding. On top is a paved sidewalk for pedestrians and bicycles which affords a good view of the river. In Destrehan, along the river, are two large grain elevators that store grain that is shipped on barges from northern grain producing states. These two grain elevators are about one-half mile apart and when I got near the first one I could smell grain dust in the air. That is a nice smell for me. On the bike I rode closer to the first ship which was Russian. The next ship had Panamanian flag on the stern; both were loading grain by the chutes.

I like ships and one of my best memories of my bygone years was in 1954 when we were coming back from Japan. On a beautiful Sunday afternoon around 3:30 I was at the wheel (or the driver) of the ship when we went under the San Francisco Golden Gate Bridge. Lepa spomin.

Getting back to the present, here is a fact. I always thought Louisiana was French, but I found out Germans were involved also.

Destrehan is 8 miles north of the airport and in St. Charles Parish. New Orleans is in Jefferson Parish.

On Sunday, two boys and I went to 7 a.m. Mass (no Slovenian there). There were four plaques in the area that I spotted.

Plaque #4 near the road, read: Fifth-three years before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, five years before New Orleans had a permanent church, immigrants to the German coast, built on the west bank a log chapel to acknowledge their dependence upon God and to express their thanks to Him for leading them to this fertile and free land. With gratitude, we the people of St. Charles Borromeo Parish, heirs of the east bank church, erected in 1740 and of its successor.

"The Little Red Church" 1806-1921 memorialize our ancestors during the Bicentennial year of our nation."

Plaque #3 under wooden 10 foot cross of St. Charles Borromeo:

"First constructed of logs about 1740, burned and rebuilt in 1806.

"This is a famous river-boat landmark, 25 miles from New Orleans where boat captains traditionally paid off their crews. Again it burned and was rebuilt about 1921."

Plaque #2: "Ad Perpetuum Rei Memoriam 1723 - 1973:

"To the memory of the intrepid German, Canadian, and French pioneers who left their homeland, endured hazards, survived hardships, and settled on the banks of the Mississippi in the early 18th century. They and their hardy descendants cleared the wilderness, contained the mighty river, cultivated the alluvium soil, and thereby nurtured the Louisiana colony through times of challenge and change from French Province to Spanish possession to American statehood, the inhabitants of this Cote Des Allemands" under the leadership of the Capuchin priests and successful pastors, kept their faith in God and worshipped him within the parish church of St. Charles Borromeo which gives its name to this civil parish - dedicated June 3, 1973."

Plaque #1: St. Charles Borromeo Church, Destrehan, LA.

"Fifty-three years before the Declaration of Independence, five years before New Orleans had a permanent church, immigrants to the German coast built on the west bank a log chapel to acknowledge their dependence upon God and to express their thanks to him for leading them to this fertile and free land. With gratitude we the people of St. Charles Borromeo Parish, heirs of the east bank church erected in 1740 and of its successor "The Little Red Church" 1806-1921, memorialize our ancestors during the bicentennial year of our nation."

These words are on a regular plaque hanging on the outside wall near the church entrance doors.

To our good neighbor Canada, your people helped settle this good land that we call the USA.

Review of Slovenian Film 'Spare Parts' while unlucky ones fall among organ-raiders.

The "spare parts" of writer-director Damjan Kozole's title are human hearts, livers and kidneys. But they are also the parts people are ready to surrender for money - conscience, soul, humanity - when their own survival is staked on endangering others. Ludvik and Rudi have signed away self-respect but cling to a guttering decency.

They deliver the goods, they don't betray their charges, they turn blind eyes to final consequences. It's a grimly half-lit world, with photography to match, a Balkan Graham Greeneland shifty with the compromises we make with idealism.

Slovenia Intends to Swap Tolar for Euro

Slovenian central bank governor Mitja Gaspari said the nation that will join the European Union on May 1st aims to swap the currency, the tolar, for the euro in 2007, as inflation slows.

Slovenia's annual inflation rate was 3.6 percent in February, the lowest since at least 1994 and should fall more, he said. The 10 nations joining the EU in less than two months must meet three key conditions for adopting the euro, including bringing inflation down to about 2.5 percent.

"We are going to do our best to take over the euro in the beginning of 2007," Gaspari, 52, said in an interview at his office in the marble-clad building of Banka Slovenije in Ljubljana's Slovenia's capital. "We are in compliance in mostly all criteria already but one, which is inflation."

While the largest countries joining the EU, Poland, Hungary and the Czech Republic struggle to reduce their budget deficits, Slovenia is within the euro limit, at about 1.5 percent to GDP.

While revenue increases after the EU begins giving aid to farmers and for building roads, Slovenia will keep spending under control, Gaspari said.

Button Box Bash Set April 4

Celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the Slovene National Benefit Society at Super Button Box Bash 22 on Sunday, April 4 from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Slovenian Society Home, 20713 Recher Avenue, Euclid, OH.

It promises to be another grand reunion of the finest button accordion players in North America with a gala atmosphere at the largest accordion festival of its kind.

The Slovenian Junior Chorus of SNPJ Youth Circle 2 is hosting the 8-hour button box marathon. The youngsters, ages 6 through 16, will perform in a mini-concert at 3 p.m. Adding to the festivities will be the singers of the Lesna Oktet from Slovenia who will sing at 3:40 p.m.

This year's Button Accordion Player of the Year, Kathy Hlad, a Circle 2 alumna, will perform. The Button Accordion Group of the Year, Captain's Crew, with leader Ken Zalar, will also be featured and honored. An All-Star Show of button accordionists is scheduled at 6 p.m., with Al Battistelli, Fred Ziwich, Ron Likovic, and more.

Baraga Gathering in Florida

The 17th annual Michigan Knights of Columbus and Bishop Baraga Day in Florida was held on Saturday, February 28th in Holiday, Florida.

The day commenced with an 11:30 a.m. Mass at St. Vincent DePaul Church followed by a luncheon and program at Father Farrell Council No. 6476. This annual event is sponsored by the Michigan Knights of Columbus and chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wegener and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Barry.

The principal celebrant at the Mass was Father Mario Marzocchi, S.S.S. Parochial Vicar, St. Vincent DePaul Parish and Council Chaplain for Father Farrell Council No. 6476. Concelebrating the Mass was Father Aloysius J. Hribšek, an ardent supporter of the Baraga cause, from Bridgeport, CT, and Bradenton, FL.

Father Mario gave an inspiring homily comparing the lives and accomplishments of Fr. Michael J. McGivney, the Knights of Columbus founder and Bishop Baraga. Both are being considered for Beatification for their work and concern for the needy. Father Hribšek concluded the Mass with a short history of the life of Bishop Baraga.

Health nuts are going to feel stupid someday, lying in hospitals dying of nothing.

The Lipa Park Button Box Club has retired from playing, but the good news is Lipa Park fans and friends will be on hand again this year, with a group from St. Catharines, Ontario, Canada.

Admission is $6 in advance or $7 at the door. Musicians with instruments are admitted free. Dinners, food, and beverages will be available throughout the day. Tickets can be purchased in advance at the Polka Hall of Fame, 605 E. 222nd Street, Euclid, OH 44123, or at the door on the day of the event.

For more information call Agnes at 216—531-7168 or Cecilia at 440—944-7303.

Scheduled to play: Magic City Button Box Showcase, Barberton; Western Pennsylvania SNPJ Button Box Club, Sygan; Captain's Crew, Euclid; SNPJ Northern Home Club, Michigan; Magic Buttons, Willoughby; The Hobos; Buttonnaires; Northern Ohio Players; Euclid Squeezeboxers; Happy Timers; Mahoning Valley Button Box Club, Youngstown; Strabane SNPJ International Button Box Club; and Dan Novinc and Friends.

Slovenia Among Least Indebted

Beatriz Merino, an Associate Director at Standard & Poor's in London, commented on plans by countries in Central and Eastern Europe to join the European Monetary Union following their accession to the European Union in May. Merino made her comments at the Polish Investment Forum-led by UniCredit Banca Mobiliare and Bank Pekao SA in London on March 8th.

On EU Membership:

"Accession is already factored into the ratings of the countries joining the EU in May. Membership itself then will have no impact on the ratings, though it of course has a general positive impact on a country's economic situation, being an anchor for macro-economic stabilization and structural reforms.

TUNA QUICHE

- 1 unbaked 9 inch pie shell
- 2 Tbsp. - margarine
- 3/4 c. chopped onions
- 2/3 c. milk
- 2 eggs
- 1 (7 oz.) can solid tuna, drained
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 medium ripe tomato, sliced
- 1/4 c. Parmesan cheese, grated

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Prick pie shell and bake 15 minutes. In a small skillet melt margarine and add onion, and cook until soft.

In a blender, place milk, eggs, tuna, salt and pepper. Blend 5 seconds to a textured puree. Stir in onion and pour into pie shell. Arrange tomatoes in a circle on top. Sprinkle with cheese. Turn oven to 350° and bake 40 minutes or until top is lightly browned and filling is set. Set on a wire rack; cool 10 minutes.

Fast & Fabulous FOOD

This Three-Cheese Lasagna Is Cheesy—And Easy

(NAPS)—Busy weekdays can make preparing delicious weeknight meals a challenge. But this recipe for Easy Three-Cheese Lasagna, which features several varieties of California cheese, can be on the table within the hour: 10 minutes of prep time followed by 45 minutes in the oven and dinner is served.

This traditional recipe calls for a short list of ready-to-go supermarket ingredients, including prepared pasta sauce, dried lasagna noodles, frozen spinach and three kinds of California cheese: Ricotta, Mozzarella and Dry Jack. The Mozzarella is available pre-sliced for quick assembly, and grating the Dry Jack is a snap with a food processor or hand-held grater.

Assembling this lasagna involves a simple process of layering the sauce, noodles, spinach and cheese. You can also adjust the amount of sauce to suit your preference. To streamline the process even further, consider preparing this comfort food favorite ahead-of-time; just refrigerate or freeze until you are ready to bake and serve.

According to the California Milk Advisory Board, Mozzarella, Ricotta and Dry Jack are just three of the more than 200 varieties of cow's milk cheeses produced by the state's 60 cheesemakers.

California is the nation's dairy leader and ranks second in cheese production. For more recipe ideas, see www.RealCaliforniaCheese.com.

California cheeses are showcased in this traditional lasagna.

EASY THREE-CHEESE LASAGNA

- 5 cups tomato-based pasta sauce
- 9 pieces (about 8 ounces) uncooked lasagna noodles
- 1 10-ounce box frozen chopped spinach, thawed and well-drained
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 2 cups (1 pound) California Ricotta cheese
- 10 ounces sliced California Mozzarella cheese
- 2 cups (about 6 ounces) finely grated California Dry Jack cheese

1. Preheat the oven to 350°. Coat a 9x13-inch baking dish with nonstick cooking spray. Spread about 1 1/2 cups of sauce over the bottom, then place three lasagna noodles lengthwise over the sauce (Don't worry if the uncooked lasagna noodles don't extend the full length of your baking pan; they will expand in baking).

2. Top with another 1 1/2 cups of sauce, then scatter the spinach over the sauce. Drizzle with olive oil. Top the spinach with half of the Ricotta, placing it randomly in heaping tablespoons. Arrange half of the Mozzarella slices on top and sprinkle with half of the grated Dry Jack. Top with three more lengthwise lasagna noodles, another 1 1/2 cups of sauce, then with the remaining Ricotta and Mozzarella.

3. Place the remaining three lasagna noodles across the cheese, then spread the remaining sauce over it, covering the lasagna completely. Sprinkle with the remaining Dry Jack. Bake for 45 to 50 minutes, until bubbling and the top is browned. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes at room temperature, then cut in squares to serve.

Yields 6-8 main course servings
Preparation Time: 10 min.

Candy Stores Around St. Lawrence Parish

by JOSEPH T. SNYDER

The amazing thing about the St. Lawrence parish back in the first half of the 20th century is that there were very few children referred to as Fatso, Rotunda, or Chops that exhibited an undue corpulence. With some exceptions anorexia was more prevalent than bulimia. With the plethora of candy that was available to them from the nearby establishments, the Lenten season became an extraordinary provocation.

Within the confines of a stone's throw from the church, there were three confectionery stores: On E. 81st there was Fransa Perko's. On Mansfield there was Kenik's, then Snyder's, then Joe "Jacko" Perko, then John and Jean Peskar's. And on East 80th were Kaye's, then Fortuna's, then Marincic's. Each of these candy stores carried beverages, cigarettes, ice cream, all kinds of sweets, toiletries, and other snack foods. With numerous children filing out of school daily, the target for any loose change was the friendly candy store.

The proprietors of each had their own idiosyncrasies which kept their clientele entertained while they encouraged their patrons to be happy with some appropriate goodies. In his hey day, Jacko held court with his sardonic humor. Jonda Peskar would not be outdone as he developed the skill of placing ribald monikers on patrons and passers-by. Franca Perko was known for her tight-fisted pecuniary traits relative to business transactions. Fortuna had the ability to evoke laughter from his story telling capabilities, with many juicy adjectives, interspersed. He somewhat resembled the famous Wallace Beery, and his heart, like most Slovenians, melted for the children.

Aside from the candy stores were the local grocers who had their own set of comics, headed by "Deeky" Perko, who charmed the ladies by his consoling voice and cheerful demeanor. He is that same Louie Perko who was the center of attraction at the St. Lawrence 2003 Reunion Dance last October. He now lives in Oakwood Village and occasionally is seen at St. Lawrence Church with his son, Al.

Mr. Strekal had a similar pleasant, cheerful disposition as we recall. Now they pay retirees as greeters at Marc's and Wal-Mart's. These modern greeters could take some lessons from the grocers of bygone ages.

The grocers provided their own sweets with cookies, gum, and some candy. Sirks, on East 82nd street was the home of the neighborhood vintner, Frank Sirk. His wife, who is still alive today in 2004, was the clerk for beverages and assorted candies. Their one lane bowling emporium was always on the verge of renovation and possible expansion until the Slovenian E. 80th Lanes came into fruition.

Mary, a sister of Sofka-the-nurse and Vicica, was a kind soul who was the eternal optimist.

Zupancic's Beverages came on the scene in the late forties as Bernie, Joshka, and Clarry started up a thriving business with home deliveries of beer and pop. Helen and Theresa ran the store for the candies and pop that were sold to the neighborhood.

Lud Hrovat and his wife lived in the flat behind the store. His sister-in-law Mary came around from Maple Heights to help out in the store. She was rather attractive so the neighborhood boys aggregated around the store for a glimpse. I don't remember anyone ever getting carded when purchasing cigarettes or adult beverages, but everyone survived.

These beverage stores, candy stores and other grocers were part of our growing experience in the St. Lawrence milieu.

Cultural Visit to Slovenia

Open to Young Adults

Connecting young adults with Slovenian Heritage, July 5th. Program: Summer Cultural Visit to Slovenia.

The program has been subsidized by the Student Organization of University of Ljubljana (SOU) and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Slovenia. It was created to give young adults an opportunity to discover their homeland of Slovenia.

The program runs annually for two weeks in July and covers some of the most famous cultural, historic, and natural attractions in Slovenia.

Participants should be between 18 and 26 and of Slovenian descent. The program includes a 14 day guided tour of Slovenia including lodging, meals and transportation throughout Slovenia.

Admission to cultural events and tourist destinations and introductory lessons to the Slovenian language at no cost to the participants.

Tour accommodations will be arranged primarily in student dormitories and small hotels or hostels. Transportation throughout the tour will be provided by minibus or van.

Participants are responsible for paying their own airfare and transportation to Ljubljana and personal incidental expenses while on tour. All extra activities written in the program are optional and paid by participants on the spot (approximately $100 US).

The program is limited to 18 participants with Slovenian heritage throughout the world. Most commonly these countries include USA, Canada, Argentina and Australia.

CANCER ANSWERS

Questions may be directed to: Cancer Answers, Cleveland Clinic Cancer Center (R23), 9500 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, OH 44195.

QUESTION: I have heard of a scanner that can detect cancer anywhere in your body. Would I be able to get this scan to check to see if I have cancer?

ANSWER: What you may have heard about is called a positron emission tomography or PET scan. PET scanning looks at how much and how fast glucose is used by a tissue and creates images of this. All of our bodies' tissues need glucose as fuel to survive. Cancers are rapidly growing so they use more glucose than normal body tissues.

During a PET scan, a very small amount of a radioactive substance called fluorodeoxyglucose (FDG) is injected into a vein in the arm. As it circulates it is taken up into the tissues of the body. Because cancer cells grow faster than normal cells they require more energy and take up sugar more rapidly. As a result, areas of high FDG uptake are seen as possible sites of tumor.

A typical PET scan procedure takes about 2 hours. After the FDG is injected, about 45 to 60 minutes is allowed for it to circulate through the body. The scanning takes another 30 to 45 minutes. Preparation for the scan requires fasting from midnight prior to the scan. For some studies, a urinary catheter (a tube into the bladder) needs to be placed.

Currently, PET scanning is being used to determine the extent and metabolic activity of some cancers (such as lung, melanoma, lymphoma, colorectal, head and neck, and esophageal) that have already been diagnosed.

In some stances, PET scanning can be used to determine if a lung nodule, for example, may possibly harbor cancer. Other uses for PET scanning, such as monitoring how well a tumor is responding to chemotherapy or radiation therapy, are also performed routinely. Only in certain situations is PET scanning reimbursed by insurance.

At this point in its development, PET scanning is not useful as a screening tool for early cancers. It does not show very small areas of disease clearly and therefore is not good for finding tiny cancers, although it may be useful in helping us know the best site to biopsy in some cases.

Greatest Skiing Down Kranjska Gora

by ROBERT V. CAMUTO
The Washington Post

Okay, so I didn't really train with the Slovenian National Ski Team.

But I was able to keep up with them through some turns: Not on the slopes, exactly, but around the breakfast buffet at the Hotel Kotnik, a family-run property in Slovenia's premier ski resort, Kranjska Gora.

The guys from the downhill team – bleary-eyed 20-year-olds dragging off to another day of work – were training for the World Cup event that comes every winter to this town nestled in the Julian Alps, 10 minutes by car from the Italian and Austrian borders.

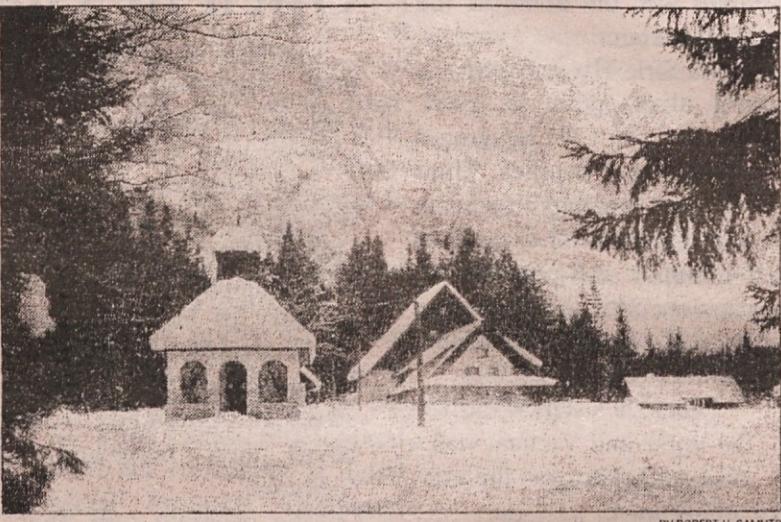

I was there last month simply for a ski getaway in an unpredictable setting – tired of overcrowded, overpriced resorts on both sides of the Atlantic, of long lift lines, high-strung jerks, too much concrete, ridiculous prices and mini-malls.

I wanted to tune my technique for a few days in an easy going mountain community, to get some real bang for my tolars (the local currency) and to experience Slovenia – that New Jersey-size sliver of the former Yugoslavia known in Europe as "La Petite Suisse," or the "Little Switzerland" of the Balkans.

As I'd cross the border from Italy in my rental car, I knew I'd found the right place. Entering the Zgornje Savska Valley, which I couldn't begin to pronounce, I saw nothing but small villages, dairy farms and clear mountain streams framed by steep white peaks and evergreen forests.

Though it's been known in the competitive ski world since the early 1960s, Kranjska Gora is just now becoming a favored winter destination for Europeans who seek an Alpine ski trip that costs half or less than one in France, Italy or Switzerland. Thirteen years after the Slovenian Republic declared its independence from Yugoslavia (the war for independence lasted only 10 days), Slovenia is set to become a member of the European Union in May and to switch to the euro in 2007.

In Kranjska Gora, it is clear that things are changing. Hotels and guest houses are being renovated, new hotels with casinos, saunas and "wellness centers" have been built on the edges of town. In an effort to show off its international appeal, the new Hotel Prisank features a Manhattan Cocktail Club and a London Tea-room that overlooks its skating rink.

A hearty lunch in Slovenia's Tamar Valley ski area will set you back $5.

But Kranjska Gora has retained much of its down-home character – more Austrian than modern-day Austria, with its superstores, car dealers and high-rise apartments.

In the village, you can access the slopes by walking down winding streets lined with tiled-roof alpine houses with puffing chimneys and the occasional wooden barn. At the slopes, the crowd is a mix of families pulling toddlers on sleds, weekend hacks like myself and young hotshot snow-boarders. Over the sound system of a café at the mountain base, I heard a Lenny Kravitz song turned into a polka.

Bargain Hunters

"Do you have any of those real short skis?"

I recognized the accent in the ski rental shop immediately. Another American, in this resort populated by Central Europeans, Russians, Italians, Germans and the occasional Brit.

The guy working at the sports shop understood the question and produced a pair of two-foot-long skis. Thanks to the public education system and the fact that American movies are broadcast on Slovenian television in English with Slovenian subtitles, almost everyone – particularly young people – speaks some English.

I introduced myself to my countryman, Lance, a mid-career Philadelphian getting an advanced degree in London. He had come to Kranjska Gora with his British mom and her husband on a whim. They found deep-discounted fares to Klagenfurt, Austria, and rented a car for the hour's drive.

That evening I ran into the three of them at a local inn, Gostilna Cvitar, and joined them for dinner.

The Cvitar, like all the inns I saw, was a tidy family place that looked as though it were decorated by someone's Slovenian grandmother – right down to those little doilies they put under your bowl of soup.

Dinner started with cheeses and smoked ham and was followed by plates including beef goulash, sausages and dumplings filled with millet and cheese. We went through several pitchers of local red wine and finished with desserts. When the bill arrived, we were all stuck by inverse sticker shock. We'd run up a 12,000-tolar tab – about $65.

"This," Lance said, gloating, "is really going to be a reasonably priced vacation."

Small But Deadly

Vitranc, the mountain above Kranjska Gora, is not huge. With a peak of a mere 5,150 feet, it is a relative molehill in the Alps. For example, better-known and more chic resorts within a half-day's drive of Kranjska Gora – Innsbruck in the Austria's Tyrol and Cortina d'Ampezzo in Italy's Dolomites – are built on mountains twice as high. On the other hand, in Cortina, a mere three-hour drive away, you could easily spend more on lunch (fur coats and cell phones, extra) than you would for a whole weekend in Kranjska Gora.

A series of 18 lifts – five chair-lifts and 13 primitive drag lifts that pull you up the mountain on your skis – wrap around the mountain. The easiest and most popular ski runs slope directly into Kranjska Gora. The steep black runs, where the World Cup slalom and giant slalom events are held, turn away from town on the mountain's back side.

Vitranc's summit has been off-limits to skiers for more than a decade after several skiers fell to their deaths. You can ride a chairlift up to the mountaintop, where a restaurant operates year-round. But if you go in winter, you'll be told to leave your skis behind. The summit is scheduled to reopen to skiers next season with a new lift and new, less perilous trails.

As for my skiing ability: Let's just say that had I started skiing at age 2 – as opposed to 32 – I'd probably have some impressive moves. It didn't help that I learned to ski just as skis and ski techniques were changing drastically. My technique is a hodgepodge of what I've gleaned from numerous ski instructors. – from the Taos hippie chick who explained (in words I can't print here) that I should basically have sex with the mountain, to the French ski bum who smoked a joint before a class in which he spoke a total of two words, "Follow me."

My technical goal at Kranjska Gora was to get back to the basics. There was something reassuring about learning from a guy like Jernej (pronounced "Hernaj") a no-nonsense Slovenian with a buzz cut and just enough English to make a blunt point.

"You ski old way," Jernej said less than a minute into my lesson. "You must learn new way."

Jernej explained that with the "old way" on longer skis, you shifted your weight to the downhill ski. For the "new way," he went on, you skied in balance on both skis, which were always kept on edge.

For the next two hours Jernej put me through a series of drills on the practice runs, including skiing with my hands on my knees and skiing with my poles held against my back with my elbows.

I think I finally got the new way. I could hear the difference as my skis stopped slipping around turns and started slicing through the packed snow.

'Good for the Spoon'

After this athletic epiphany, it was time for lunch. And since the sun was shining and it was a perfect day to be outside in the mountains, I decided to drive a few miles to Planica, the ski-jumping center where the current world record was set by a Finn during the qualifiers for the world championship finals last year.

At Planica, I parked the car and headed up the walking trail (there is also a cross-country ski trail) for the hour's trek to the Tamar Valley, popular with hikers, climbers and cross-country skiers.

"The woman up there makes things that are good for the spoon – very good for the spoon," said Romana, the woman who runs the Hotel Kotnik. I gathered that she meant I would find some good hot food up there.

The hike started perfectly – a postcard winter day in a forest surrounded by granite peaks and snow. But about halfway into it, the weather took an arctic turn as clouds moved in, along with gusts of wind that whipped snow into my face at what seemed about 50 mph.

Finally the clearing of Tamar came into view, with a small religious shrine next to a wooden house. Inside, I took the last of five tables and ordered something called jota with klobasa, which the English translation on the menu explained was soup made from beans, sour shredded turnips (Slovenian cooking uses a lot of this sauerkraut-like ingredient) and sausage.

The soup arrived in a bowl filled to the brim with a large sausage listing in it like a shipwreck. I regularly ski in France and Italy and I can tell you that I have never had a better, more warming ski lunch than that soup. It cost less than $5. This was turning out to be one of the few vacations where I had a problem spending money.

The next evening I headed up to the sleepy farming town of Ratece – a couple of miles from Kranjska Gora and 300 feet from the Italian border – where I'd heard from a pair of locals, I was to find the best local cooking in the area.

I arrived at the inn, Gos-tilna Mojmir, famished from skipping lunch and a hard day on the slopes, with the objective of spending my last $5,000 tolars – about $26.

I sat in the bar, where a color TV broadcast a ski-jumping competition from Poland and a group of six local men – with no apparent use for the slick new casinos up the road – were huddled in a card game.

I started with dumpling soup, then moved onto a big fresh trout served with potatoes and a kind of parsley pesto. Not stopping there, I asked the waitress for another pitcher of red wine and ordered a large plate of grilled porcini mushrooms. For dessert, course number four was gibanica, a confectionary brick of cream, nuts, dried fruit and cheese stuffed between layers of dough. I ate half and could eat no more.

I'd ordered some of the most expensive items on the menu but still left the restaurant with money in my pocket.

Blinded by Snow

On my last ski day in Kranjska Gora, I awoke to the sound of rain – the killer of all ski vacations. I walked through the resort, but the locals seemed unconcerned: A blast of cold was supposed to arrive that morning and turn it all to snow. It happened just that way, and by the time I hit the slopes, the snow was coming hard.

Skiing through the drifts of fresh snow is as good as it gets, and as my confidence built, I drifted closer and closer to the back of the mountain.

There is something eerie about being the only person on a chairlift in the middle of a storm, particularly when the machinery looks as old as you, and you are 45. But I did just that. When I reached the top of the lift, I asked the lift operator for directions in English. He was an old-timer in a wool cap caked with snow and he answered me in rudimentary Italian. Basically he indicated that one way would be trails that were easy and the other way – he held his hand almost vertical – would be Pista Alberto Tomba, named after the former Italian ski champion who won five World Cup events here – on the back of the mountain.

"Me no Alberto Tomba," I said shaking my head.

At its best, the rest of that afternoon provided some of the greatest conditions I've ever been in, my skis disappearing in fields of virgin powder. At its worst, it had the earmarks of a Jack London story. I tumbled down some pretty steep terrain, then sunk thigh-deep in snow when I stood up in my boots. I was in blizzard conditions, and stopped every 50 feet to wipe snow from my goggles. That helped little – the trails were obliterated by a dense white fog and I could barely see which way was up and which way was down. I was alone.

At 4 p.m., the church bells of Kranjska Gora sounded for what seemed a full minute. I pointed my skis in that direction and let gravity pull me home.

Photographer Arne Hodalic's Book Receives Applause

"Photographer Arne Hodalic presents in his new book 12 years of his journalistic and artistic work in a lavishly produced monograph.

"The photographer has traveled extensively while shooting for European magazines, and he treats readers to color images that range from Venice, Italy to the "remote mountains of South America."

"Open the book to any page, and it becomes clear that Hodalic relies heavily on juxtaposition for impact. The portraits and intimate landscapes are paired in ways that are sometimes clever, and other times heavy-handed. First-person diary excerpts translated from Slovenian by Erica John Debeljak punctuate the photographs.

"Hodalic's work is always memorable and often moving, and it effectively calls into question traditional lines of perception between photojournalism and art..."

Bleak Prospect of Serbia Joining EU

agreement with Brussels are understandably bleak.

In Britain, instinctive hostility to Europe has been reinforced by hysteria over the impending arrival of 10 "big bang" newcomers. Happily, tabloid scaremongering about "sick migrants" and "benefit scroungers" has been trashed by a survey showing that the likely problem is a brain drain from the new member states rather than hordes of penniless Slovaks or Lithuanians washing up in Dover.

Back in 1986, European parliament president Pat Cox recalled, the threatened flood did not materialize. "We discovered that the Spanish, not unlike the British, not unlike the Irish, like to follow their local football team, like to go to their local pub, like to go home for lunch on a Saturday or Sunday. They are happy at home with their language and their culture. One hopes this will be the experience in the months and years to come with these new states."

2003 Banquet Highlights

On Oct 23 one hundred Alumni members and guests gathered in fellowship for the annual banquet. The day began with 12 noon Mass, then the jolly folks sauntered a few steps to the school auditorium for a plentiful and delicious meal.

Seated at the head table were Fr. Bill Jerse, Fr. John Kumse, Fr. Victor Cimperman, Chris and Joan Chermely (Vice President and Secretary).

To provide more time for socializing, it was decided not to have a formal program of speakers. Instead, there was a short presentation during which the Alumni presented a check in the amount of $2,000 to Fr. Kumse for the needs of the school. Father then gave a short report on the status of the school and church. He also updated on the addition of a new cafeteria which is being added to the school.

In honor of Fr. Kumse's birthday, Mary Zimperman presented him with a card from all the members who then sang, "Happy Birthday."

– Vesti iz Slovenije –

Od ponedeljka bo slovenski zračni prostor pod NATO-vim neposrednim varstvom

Zračni prostor Slovenije bo od njenega vstopa v zvezo NATO, od 29. marca, varovalo zavezništvo, je po zasedanju Severnoatlantskega sveta, ki je bilo 17. marca v Bruslju, potrdil slovenski veleposlanik pri NATU Matjaž Šinkovec. "Letala zaveznic bodo vzletela z letališč v Italiji oziroma na Madžarskem, pristojnost za konkretno operativno izvajanje pa bodo v rokah vrhovnega poveljnika zavezniških sil za Evropo, ki ima sedež v Monsu," je pojasnil Šinkovec.

Slovenija uradno sprejeta med razvite

Slovenija je 17. marca s podpisom pisma o graduaciji – podpisala sta ga finančni minister Dušan Mramor in regionalni namestnik predsednika Svetovne banke Shigeo Katsumi – prestopila v skupino razvitih držav po merilih Svetovne banke (foto spodaj). V njej bo Slovenija poslej posilodajalka, lahko pa bo tudi soodločala pri vprašanjih s področja mednarodne finančne ureditve. Slovenija je tako postala članica skupine, ki ima sedaj le 28 držav od vseh v svetu. Slovenska podjetja bodo imela neposreden dostop do arhiva Svetovne banke o projektih, ki so v pripravi ali izvedbi. Tako bodo imela možnost sodelovati pri projektih, ki jih financira ali sofinancira Svetovna banka. Navzoč pri slovesnosti je bil tudi predsednik Svetovne banke James D. Wolfensohn. Ko sta se pa Wolfensohn in finančni minister Dušan Mramor napotila proti Cankarjevemu domu na predstavitev 400-stranske knjige o Sloveniji, so ju obmetavali z balončki, ki so bili napolnjeni z zeleno barvo, nasprotniki globalizacije. Wolfensohn je dobil le nekaj barve, Mramorja pa so zadeli v polno.

Ustavljen proces zoper Dimitrija Rupla

Višje sodišče v Ljubljani je 17. marca v celoti potrdilo ugotovitve tako pristojnega preiskovalnega sodnika kot tudi senata okrožnega sodišča v Ljubljani, ki sta v postopku "diplomska akademija" zoper slovenskega zunanjega ministra Dimitrija Rupla prišla do zaključkov, da za očitano mu kaznivo dejanje ni zadostnih dokazov oziroma da sploh ni šlo za kaznivo dejanje, in odločilo, da ustavi vsa preiskovalna dejanja. To pomeni, da minister Rupel ni več v nobenem kazenskem postopku.

Janez Drnovšek priredil sprejem v čast nadškoфа Franca Rodeta

V torek je predsednik Slovenije Janez Drnovšek priredil sprejem in kosilo v čast nadškoфа in metropolita Franca Rodeta. Na grad Brdo so prišli vsi slovenski škofje – Franc Kramberger, Metod Pirih, Alojz Uran, Andrej Glavan, Jožef Smej, Jurij Bizjak – razen Antona Stresa, ki je na potovanju v Egiptu, in Jožefa Kvasa, najstarejšega med slovenskimi škofi (rojen 1919). Poročilo ne omenja upokojenega nadškoфа Alojzija Šuštarja. V poročilu izpod peresa novinarja Dela Dejana Pušenjaka je poudarjeno, da ni še nič znanega o Rodetovem nasledniku, da je sicer največ govora o mariborskem pomožnem škofu Antonu Stresu.

Nizka gospodarska rast lani

Gospodarska rast v Sloveniji je po prvi oceni državnega statističnega urada lani znala 2,3 odstotka, kar je najmanj od osmoštevitev Slovenije naprej. Zaposlenost se je lani zmanjšala za 0,2 odstotka (leta 2002 za 0,5%), s tem da je število kmetov znalo še za okoli 3000 (vseh jih je danes v Sloveniji okoli 30.000).

PODPIS O VSTOPU MED RAZVITE DRŽAVE SVETA – Pismo o graduaciji Slovenije in s tem njen novi status kot ena od 28. po merilih Svetovne banke gospodarsko razvityh držav sta podpisala regionalni namestnik predsednika Svetovne banke Shigeo Katsumi (v ospredju na levu) in slovenski finančni minister Dušan Mramor v prisotnosti predsednika Svetovne banke Jamesa D. Wolfensohna (zadaj na levu) in predsednika slovenske vlade Antona Ropa (v sredini).

Kaj mi pomeni posti čas

Posti čas je "močni liturgični čas", ki nas posebej vabi k spreobrnjenju in spokornim delom. Klic po pokori seveda ne meri v prvi vrsti na zunanja spokorna dela, na "raševino in pepel", na zdržanje od jedi in na druga spokorna dejanja. Glavno je spreobrnjanje srca, je notranja pokora. Brez nje zunanja spokorna dejanja Bogu ne morejo biti všeč, ker niso iskrena, ne prihajajo iz skrušenega in skesanega srca. Seveda pa tudi samo notranje spreobrnjenje ni zadost. Če se to na neki način ne pokaže na zunaj, v zunanjih spokornih delih, ni ne pristno ne iskreno. Človek je telo in duh in kar se čuti v duši, se hoče na ta ali oni način pokazati na zunaj.

V čem je notranje spreobrnjenje? Predvsem v resni volji, da se kesamo žalitev, prizadetih Bogu in bližnjemu. V skrušenosti srca, v ponižnem priznavanju greha, v žalosti, da smo zapustili Očetovo hišo in tako prizadeli Očetu hudo žalost. Zunanja dela pa bodo imela najrazličnejše oblike: v popravi krivic, storjenih bližnjemu, v skrbi za zveličanje naših bližnjih, v pomnoženi in poglobljeni molitvi, v delih usmiljenja do potrebnih bratov, v potrpežljivem prenašanju bremen življenja, v pomoči potrebnim. V primeri s tem, kako so se postili in opravljali spokorna dela naši predniki pred drugim vatikanskim cerkvenim zborom, so današnji cerkveni predpisi o postu prava malenkost. Cerkev zaupa našemu lastnemu spokornemu duhu, da bomo storili mnogo več kot pa nam sama naroča za postni čas.

Na dve spokorni deli je Kristus sam posebej opozoril in sta danes zelo pomembni: "Dajte in se vam bo dalo. Odpustite in se vam bo odpustilo!" Obliki miločine, ki naj bi jo kristjan delil z veliko dobroto in gorečnostjo. Vedno bomo imeli med seboj reveže; to velja danes morda še bolj kot v drugih časih. Veliko je revščine, gmotne in duhovne. "Miločina pokrije množico grehov," piše v Svetem pismu. Živijo med reveži, zato radi dajajmo, da bomo lahko prejeli. Namente vidnih zemskih in minljivih reči bomo prejeli nemirljivo plačilo v tem, "kar oko ni videlo, uho ni slišalo in kar v človeško srce ni prišlo". Za malo danaega bomo prejeli večno plačilo. Dajmo zatorej lačnemu Kristusu v osebi lačnih in potrebnih bratov na zemlji in imeli bomo zaklad v nebesih.

Radi tudi odpuščajmo. Postni čas nas še posebej vabi k temu delu usmiljenja. Prosimo odpuščanja, če smo koga užalili, odpustimo, če nas je kdo užalil. Spomnimo se služabnika iz evangelijskega, ki mu je gospodar odpustil ves dolg, a ga je potem znova zahteval, ko sam, pomiloščen, ni znal odpustiti malenkostnega dolga svojemu tovarišu. Za to vrsto del usmiljenja nimamo nobenega opravičila, če jih ne izpolnjujemo, če je to odvisno samo od naše dobre volje. Ko gre za post, se lahko opravičimo, ker se zaradi težkega dela ali bolezni ne moremo odpovedati hrani. Lahko se celo opravičimo, da ne moremo dati milo-ščine, ker imajo komaj zadosti zase in družino. Nikakor pa ne moremo reči: Ne odpustim, ker mi moje zdravje tega ne dovoli ali ker nimam ničesar, kar bi dal revežu. Za odpuščanje je potrebna naša odločitev, naša dobra volja. Odpustimo, kajti za to se nam ne bo treba odpovedati jedi pa tudi nobeni drugi reči, za katero bi lahko revež prosil. In še to imejmo pred očmi, da je velik greh ne hoteti odpustiti skesanemu bratu, ko nam vendar Kristus naroča, da moramo ljubiti celo sovražnike.

DRUŽINA, 14. III. 2004

ši župan Nove Gorice). Na programu bo nastopil Oktet Lesna, ki bo že naslednjí dan, 4. aprila, sodeloval na prireditvi mladinskega krožka št. 2 SNPJ v dvorani SDD na Recherjevi v Euclidu. Ta krožek vodi že precej let ga. Cecilija Dolgan.

Od ameriških gostov bo prisoten nekdanji podpredsednik SNPJ in bivši zvezni kongresnik iz Ohio Dennis Eckart, zvezni senator George V. Voinovich, ki je tudi član SNPJ, bo pa goste na banketu nagovoril preko videokasete. Navzočih bo nekaj političnih predstavnikov iz zvezne države Pensilvanije ter še predstavnikov drugih slovensko ameriških bratskih zavarovalninskih zvez.

Nekatere še obstoječe slovensko ameriške organizacije so že slavile svoje stoletnice, med njimi na primer fara sv. Vida v Clevelandu, KSKJ v Jolietu, Ill. itd., naslednje leto, 2005, bo ta mejnik doseglj župnija Marija Vnebovzeta v Collinwoodu v Clevelandu, leta 2006, če nam jo bo uspešno obdržati pri življenju, Slovenska Čitalnica (domuje v SND na St. Clairju v Clevelandu), l. 2010 pa bo na vrsto prišla še Ameriška dobrodelna zveza oz. AMLA, tudi s svojim glavnim uradom v Clevelandu.

Slovenska narodna podpora jednota – SNPJ slavi svojo 100. obletnico

CLEVELAND, O. – Po številu članstva je Slovenska narodna podpora jedota – SNPJ največja slovensko ameriška organizacija, isto velja tudi v finančnem oziru. SNPJ je bila ustanovljena leta 1904 v Chicagu in bo svojo 100. obletnico obhajala v soboto, 3. aprila, z banketom in programom v velikem hotelu Pittsburgh Hilton. Mesto Pittsburgh je le nekaj milij oddaljeno od glavnega urada SNPJ v mestecu Imperial, kamor se je organizacija preselila iz chicaške okolice pred nekaj leti.

V svoji sedaj stoletni zgodovini je bila SNPJ dokaj jasno opredeljena kot zagovornica poleg seveda zavarovalninskih interesov svojega članstva tudi interesov "delavstva", kakor so njeni voditelji ta interes razumeli, bila je torej politično liberalna, levičarska. Mnogi njeni takratni voditelji so jo imeli tudi za "socialistično", kakor so pač ta izraz razumeli. Danes bi lahko rekli, da pripada SNPJ tako imenovanemu velikemu "centru" politične lestvice v ZDA.

Z isto vnemo, kot je bila med drugo svetovno vojno na strani partizanskega gibanja in je po njej sprejemala brez vidnih ugovorov režim pod Josipom Brozom Titom, tako je v poznih 80ih letih in naprej sprejemala, lahko tudi rečemo, da je podpirala notranjepolitični proces liberalizacije in demokratizacije slovenske notranjepolitične ureditve, še posebej pa prizadevanja demokratično izvoljenih predstavnikov slovenskega naroda od 1990 dalje, da bi Slovenija postala neodvisna država in da bi po proglašitvi neodvisnosti, ta novi status uspešno uvejavila, branila in končno tudi dosegla mednarodno priznanje.

Kaj je organizacija v zvezi s tem delala je seveda razvidno v njenem glasilu, Prosveta, ki sedaj izhaja vsaka dva tedna, prav tako, kakor je jasna v istem časopisu njena politika v času druge svetovne vojne in desetletja po njej.

Sam sem član SNPJ od zgodnjih otroških let, od 1941. leta, čeprav nikoli aktiven v njenih vrstah. In kot član pozdravljam njeni stoletnici v prepričanju, da bo mogla še najmanj nekaj desetletij igrati pomembno vlogo v širši slovensko ameriški skupnosti.

Prosveta poroča, da se bo slovesnosti udeležil bivši predsednik Slovenije Milan Kučan, ki je že bil dvakrat gost organizacije, v Sloveniji pa je bil kar nekajkrat sprejel skupine SNPJ, ki so bile na potovanju po Sloveniji. Predsednik SNPJ Joseph Evanish je v zadnji številki časnika omenil, da pričakuje navzočnost tudi slovenskega premiera Antona Ropa. Odhajajoči slovenski veleposlanik v ZDA Davorin Kračun bo navzoč, prav tako bo prisoten Sergij Pelhan, sedanji predsednik Slovenske izseljenske matice (in biv-

Baragov dan na Floridi

BRADENTON, Fla. – Friderik Baraga je bil misijonar med Indijanci na obširnem ozemlju, ki danes pripada trem državam severno in zahodno od Chicaga. postal je prvi škof Gornjega Michigana in tam dovršil tek svojega svetniškega življenja.

Kako je prišlo do tega, da se obhaja Baragov dan na Floridi?

Odgovor na to vprašanje najdemo v dejstvu, da Florida privlači v zimskem času množice iz severnih držav Amerike, ki skušajo ubežati snegu in ledu svojih krajev. Država Michigan prvači med temi "ubežniki".

John Matthews in njegova žena Helen sta verna katoličana in velika častilca svetniškega prvega škofa svoje škofije, Marquette, Michigan. Kot vpliven in vodilen član katoliških Kolumbovih vitezov, ki je dolgo let preživil zimske mesece v Tampi, Fla., je John vpeljal zimsko srečanje svojih znancev članov K. of C. na Floridi ter to srečanje povezel z željo, razširiti poznanje in ljubezen do škofa Barage med člani K. of C. in okolici.

Tako je nastal Baragov dan na Floridi, ki druži oba namena, srečanje Kolumbovih vitezov in širitev kroga Baragovih častilcev.

Zaradi starosti in one-moglosti John in Helen Matthews že nekaj let opuščata svoje zimovanje na Floridi, vendar s tem nujno delo ni prenehalo. Herbert Wegener in Glenn Barry, prav tako vplivna člana K. of C. iz Michigana, nadaljujeta izročilo.

Nisem uspel ugotoviti, kdaj in kako je Slovence, ki preživljamo zimski čas v tem delu Floride, dosegla vest o tem srečanju in nas je Baragovo ime pritegnilo, da se mu vsak leto pridružimo. Baragov dan na Floridi je postal priložnost, da se nas zbere lepo število. Spored dneva vključuje sveto mašo in po maši kosilo, v zvezi z njim pa program, na katerem se združita oba cilja srečanja, poročilo o procesu za Baragovo beatifikacijo in pa organizacijska poročila Kolumbovih vitezov. Ustanovitelj K. of C., duhovnik Michael McGivney, je tudi v procesu za beatifikacijo, zato je na programu poročilo tudi o njem.

To leto je bil Baragov dan v soboto, 28. februarja, v mestu Holiday, Fla., kakor že nekaj let. Lep sončen dan je bil. Slovencev se nas je zbralo okrog dvajset. Frank Urankar je opozoril in prijavil svoje znance v North Portu, nekaj nas je bilo iz okolice Bradenton, Drago in Nancy Buzilj iz Connecticuta pa sta izdelala načrt za obisk za ta dan in tako za 10% povečala naše število!

Lepo je bilo srečati toliko dobrih priateljev, obenem pa ob prijetnem srečanju obnoviti in utrditi spomin in zavest, da je iz našega naroda izšel mož, katerega zgled življenja v delu za bližnjega osvaja verna srca ameriških katoličanov od kanadske meje severnega Michigana do skrajnega juga sončne Floride.

Jože Možina odgovarja na kritično pisanje

Čas bi bil, da bi politika prepustila zgodovino zgodovinarjem

Sobotna priloga časnika Delo je v zadnjih tednikih objavila nekaj pisem, v kateri so bili pisci kritični do oddaje "Zamočani - moč preživetja", ki jo je bil pravil novinar Jože Možina in je bila predvajana na TV Sloveniji sredi januarja. Možina v Sobotni prilogi z dne 13. marca odgovarja na očitke dveh njegovih kritikov in ta odgovor sledi, to kljub temu, da prispevka, o katerih piše Možina, nista bila v AD objavljena. Ur. AD

Odgovarjam dr. Šmidovniku, ki pravi, da se ob oddaji Zamolčani - moč preživetja zopet "razvema strasti in sovraštvo zaradi tragičnih dogodkov, ki so se zgodili pred več kot pol stoljetja".

Ne vem sicer, kaj vse je g. Šmidovnik prispeval k pomiritvi sovraštva in zmanjšanju bolečine ob tragičnih "dogodkih". Sploh pa ni šlo za nikakršne dogodke, ampak za navadne likvidacije, umore, v večini primerov brez sojenja.

V oddaji smo konkretno dokazali, da so bili brez kakršnekoli ugotovljene krivde mučeni in pobiti tudi zavedni Slovenci, celo družine, skupnosti Romov, Maistrovi borci, predvojni komunisti, partizani.

Če si g. Šmidovnik sotretje naroda predstavlja tako, da del naših državljanov niti po 60 letih ne sme pokopati svojcev in javno spregovoriti o svoji bolečini (celo brez sence sovraštva), potem je to zagovarjanje zločina in govorjenje v imenu tistih, ki jih vosovski zločini preganjajo po vesti.

V čigavem interesu najbi svojci žrtev ostali brez glasu in osnovnih pravic tudi v prihodnosti? K sreči smo vendarle na poti v humano in občutljivo družbo; drža, ki jo zastopa g. Šmidovnik, pa sodi v arzenal izmov, ki so onesrečili preteklo stolje.

Število likvidiranih v Sloveniji se nikakor ne more primerjati z okupiranimi zahodnimi državami in temu mitu g. Šmidovnik brez preverjanja podleže.

Poglejmo nekatere podatke, objavljene v Pri-spektivih za novejšo zgodovino leta 1996. V 42-milijonski Franciji so bile med vojno izvensodno ubite 2004 osebe (podatak za 76 departmajev), na Slovenskem (1,5 milijona prebivalcev) so partizani likvidirali okrog 5000 Slovencev, večji del civilistov.

V zaključnih operacijah in po vojni je bilo v Franciji brez sojenja ubitih še 7-9 tisoč oseb, v Sloveniji več kot 13.000 Slovencev (po nekaterih ocenah celo do 18.000).

Ob prvi obletnici začetka vojne v Iraku...

Več policistov kot protestnikov

Ljubljana (Delo fax, 22. marca) – Tako kot v številnih mestih po vseh koncih sveta so se preteko sloboto prve obletnice začetka vojne v Iraku spomnili tudi v Ljubljani in Kopru. In podobno kot na večini prizorišč drugod se jih je tudi v Sloveniji udeležilo manj ljudi kot na shodih za mir pred enim letom.

Kakih dvesto nasprotnikov vojne se je v Ljubljani točno opoldne zbral pred Moderno galerijo in se z odtisi rok z modro in zeleno podpisali na transparent z napisom Vaše vojne, naši mrtvi. Besede o nasprovanju normalizacije vojne in fašizmu, konformizmu, terorizmu in podpori miru, solidarnosti, svetu brez izključevanja, je bilo slišati od predstavnikov Protivojne koalicije – globalne protifašistične, protirasistične in protivojne mreže, ki je demonstracije organizirala. Nekateri so pozivali tudi k bojkotu referendumu o izbrisanih.

Zagovorniki miru so potem krenili po središču prestolnice do Trnovega, kjer je špansko veleposlaništvo. Za tako pot so se odločili, da se poklonijo spominu na žrtve terorističnega napada v Madridu in španskemu ljudstvu, ki je na volitvah odreklo podporo tistim, ki so jih peljali v vojno. Drugim vladam tako imenovane koalicije vojnih želijo, da bi jih doletela enaka usoda.

Potem ko policistom ni uspelo preprečiti "barvanja" predsednika Svetovne banke Jamesa Wolfensohna, so se očitno odločili, da se ne bodo pustili več presenetiti, in so številčno daleč presegli protestnike. Območje v okolici ameriškega veleposlaništva so zaprli za promet in zastražili že nekaj ur pred začetkom protestov, budno so pazili tudi na hišo zunanjega ministra Dimitrija Rupla, mimo katere so se sprehodili protestniki, in špansko veleposlaništvo.

B. H.

Bolje, da zraven ne prištejemo še po ocenah okrog 150.000 tujih ujetnikov in civilistov, ki so bili pobiti na slovenskih tleh.

Pa še to, francoski kolaborantski general Pétain, ki ga g. Šmidovnik omenja kot na smrt obsojenega, je bil pomilovan in je umrl na poselji.

Še bolj neumestna je primerjava s 3,3-milijonsko Norveško, s Quislingovim režimom, ki je pojem za kolaboracijo. Tam so po vojni z najhujšo kaznijo sodno usmrtili 25 oseb. Razlika je torej očitna. Slovenija je bila po tej plati daleč od Evrope.

Menim, da se gverilsko navajanje argumentov v polemikah ne obnese, raje se držimo dejstev in podatkov, ki so dostopni.

Odgovarjam še dr. Beblerju (Bolečino je treba razumeti), ki mi v zadnji SP očita, da sem iz zgo-dovinskega konteksta iztrgal citat (v bistvu gre za dva razmejena citata) iz pisma, ki ga je Edward Kardelj 5. 10. 1942 v imenu CK KPS pisal njegovemu očetu Alešu Beblerju na Notranjsko.

Ta trditev ni točna. Zgodovinski kontekst je jasan z datumom in vpletjenimi osebami, prav tako je razvidno, da se nagnila nanašajo na boj proti domačemu političnemu nasprotniku, imenovanemu bela garda.

Sicer pa v izogib slednji pominjeni navajam daljši citat iz omenjenega pisma Beblerju 5. 10. 1942, pa naj bralci sami presodijo, v kateri zgodovinski kontekst sodi:

"Hkrati popularizirajte OF in Partijo. Istočasno moramo z vsemi sredstvi iztrebiti bego. Treba je zasajati med njih paniko, strah, demoralizacijo. Napočno je, da na Notranjskem izpuščajo razorožene in ujete belogardiste, ki so se borili proti nam! To je sentimentalnost najgrške sorte, ki jo je treba zelo obsoditi!"

Jože Možina odgovarja na kritično pisanje

(nadaljevanje s str. 15)

Hudič je to, da naši ljudje tako radi padajo iz ekstrema v ekstrem. Enkrat 'mesarska nagnjenja', drugič nerazumljiva sentimentalnost.

Zavednim kmetom, ki vnaprej oddajajo orožje, seveda prizanesti, kot smo se dogovorili. Toda tiste, ki proti nam dvignejo orožje, pobiti brez usmiljenja, pa čeprav dvignejo malo na to tudi roke! Saj kasneje bomo tudi v teh primerih pričanašali, toda sedaj - tolci in sej preplah! Le tako se začetek državljanske vojne razvija v našo korist.

Izredno važno je, da čiščenje na Notranjskem temeljito izvršite in dovršite. Po sistemu, kot si se dogovoril s Petrom." (Borisom Kidričem, o-pomba pisca).

Kidrič je tri mesece prejna partijski konferenci (na Cinku) zbranim komunistom med drugim povedal: "Komunist, ki da brez najmanjšega usmiljenja streljati, kot človek nikoli ni surov. Odlika je, da združujemo z najbolj neusmiljenim odnosom do sovražnika najbolj plemenite instinkte človeka..."

Da Kardeljevo pisanje in Petrov sistem nista bila brez učinka, dokazuje visok odstotek žrtev partizanov, predvsem VOS. Samo na območju današnje občine Cerknica jih je bilo po raziskavi Staneta Okoliša okrog 360.

Ob tem so nespodobne trditve Antona Beblerja, ko v širši javnosti prvič izpostavljenemu problemu zamolčanih žrtev II. svetovne vojne pripisuje politikantsko izrabljjanje. Zakaj taka nestrnost? Še otroci nedolžno pobitih v oddaji niso izrekali tako hudih besed na račun krivcev za smrt staršev.

Vloge Aleša Beblerja na Primorskem tu ni moč ocenjevati in tudi ni bila predmet polemike. V objavljeni raziskavi dr. Borisa Mlakarja Tragedija v Cerknem Beblerjeva vloga nikakor ni pozitivna. Sicer pa nekateri še (živi) Primorci vedo povediti, da so bili s prihodom "ljubljanskih inštruktorjev" na Primorsko po-leg boljše organizacije prineseni tudi vzorci "vojskovanja" iz prej zapisanih citatov.

Za Primorce najbolj sramotne so likvidacije tigrovev, družin in narodno zavednih ljudi. Sicer pa je Kardeljev ukaz o "pometanju" v Gorici in Trstu po osvoboditvi povezan z okrog 1500 žrtvami, ki so že desetletja in danes znova najbolj uporaben argument sosednje Italije za obtoževanje Slovencev in prikriwanje svojih zločinov na naših tleh.

"Čiščenje" pa je bilo tudi eden od razlogov, da se je morala naša vojska na zahtevo zaveznikov tako hitro umakniti iz obeh mest.

Martin Strel namerava poleti preplavati Jangce

Ljubljana - Kitajski voditelj Mao Cetung je leta 1966 preplaval reko Jangce - to je bilo sporočilo njegovim domaćim nasprotnikom, da se začenja veliki obračun. Martin Strel pa bo Dolgo reko (to njeno ime pomeni v kitajščini) preplaval po dolžini; in to bo sporočilo, da je tudi nemogoče mogoče, če se zato živi. Slovenski plavalni maratonec je pravkar končal obhod najtežjih delov reke, ki je dolga 6300 kilometrov, pred kratkim pa je v Pekingu predstavnikom kitajskih medijev napovedal svoj podvig, ki ga namejava izvesti poleti.

"Z Jangcem se ne sme nihče šaliti, to je najverjetnejše najtežja reka na svetu," je prepričan Strel, ki namerava na Kitajskem doseči nov rekord za Guinessovo knjigo 2004. To pomeni, da bo plaval najmanj 4000 kilometrov; v gornjem toku tega veletoka ga bodo ogrožali zlasti zelo mrzla voda, nevarne bele vode in izviri, v spodnjem toku pa mu bo nevaren predvsem gost ladijski promet.

V vodo bo verjetno skočil 5. junija pri kraju Pangzula; 16. junija naj bi predvidoma dosegel mesto Vuhan, kjer je natanko na ta dan pred 38 leta ta veletok preplaval Mao. Maraton pa bo končal 2. avgusta v Šanghaju, malo pred začetkom olimpijskih iger v Atenah. "Nihče od Kitajcev še ni po vsej dolžini preplaval Dolge reke," pravi Liu Li, generalni sekretar Združenja za znanstvena raziskovanja province Sichuan, ki je bil leta 1986 član prve kitajske ekipe, ki je v gumijastih čolnih po vsej dolžini preplula Jangce. "To je kratko malo preveč nevarno," je dodal.

Strel je leta 2002 preplaval Mississippi. Trdi, da tudi Donava, ki jo je preplaval dvakrat, ni nenevarna, za Dolgo reko pa se resno pripravlja in meni, da bo to njegov življenjski podvig. V reki je plaval že pred enajstimi leti, pred kratkim je preveril njeno onesnaženost. Poskusil jo je, jo otiral in opazoval njena ču-

Zlati jubilej Avsenikove glasbe

- JOŽE GALIČ -

Pred koncem lanskega leta so z velikim koncertom na Bledu počastili 50. obletnico glasbe bratov Avsenik, ki je neizbrisno zaznamovala velik del množične kulture na Slovenskem in v večjem delu Evrope. Svetovno znan ansambel bratov Avsenik je sicer nehal javno nastopati leta 1990, toda za seboj je pustil več sto glasbenih uspešnic in veliko posnemovalcev. Nekateri najuspešnejši so s svojim nastopom obogatili Avsenikov zlati jubilej na Bledu.

Vse skupaj se je začelo v gorenjskih Begunjah, od koder izvirata brata Vilko Avsenik in Slavko Avsenik, uradno pa pravzaprav leta 1953 na tedanjem Radiu Ljubljana. Tam je bil Vilko že zaposlen kot akademski glasbenik, mlajši Slavko, samouk z absolutnim posluhom, pa je kot harmonikar tisto leto uspešno opravil avdicijo za igranje in snemanje narodnih pesmi za radijski arhiv. Zasedba se je hitro širila in že v istem letu je nastal Trio Slavka Avsenika in kmalu zatem Gorenjski kvartet.

Na Radiu Ljubljana je takrat že tekla priljubljena oddaja Četrtek večer domaćih pesmi in napevov in njen prvi urednik Janez Bitenc je potreboval nove in nove napeve. Rojstvo zasedbe Avsenikov je bilo kot naročeno, pomenilo pa ni le pojava izvrstnih izvajalcev, temveč – zaradi izjemnega avtorskega potenciala Slavka in Vilka – tudi neizčrpen vir novih skladb.

Prve viže so kmalu prodrlle tudi na avstrijsko stran meje in novi ansambel je začel snemati tudi v Celovcu.

Slavko Avsenik še danes rad poudari, da so bila v njegovi karieri odločilna drobna naključja. Ena takšnih naključij je bil zasebni obisk nemškega urednika Freda Rauscha na avstrijskem Koroškem. Mož je nemudoma spoznal, da bi nova vrsta glasbe lahko uspela tudi v Nemčiji.

In začela se je več desetletij dolga poklicna pot slovenskih glasbenikov, v kateri so prevozili nešteto kilometrov, izpeljali okrog deset tisoč nastopov, prodali na milijone plošč ...

Način dela ansambla, v katerem je nadgovorno nadarjeni harmonikar in avtor ustvarjal nove melodije, njegov glasbeno izobraženi brat pa jih je aranžiral in kot izvrsten producent skrbel za celotno glasbeno podobo ansambla, se je izkazal kot zadetek v polno.

Ob tem pa seveda nismo pozabiti na skrbno izbrane avtorje besedil in predvsem na instrumentaliste in pevce, ki so nastopali v ansamblu v njegovih različnih obdobjih: Marijo Ahačič Pollak, Danico Filipič, Emo Prodnik, Franca Korena, Leva Ponikvarja, Franca Koširja, Miha Sossa ...

Začetek sedemdesetih let je bil za Avsenike prelomen, saj je dotedanji pevski duet nasledil tercet, v katerem sta se ob Emi Prodniku in pozneje Jožici Kališnik pojavila popevkarja Jožica Svette in Alfi Nipič.

Pa je spet odlično steklo, prav tako tudi sredi osemdesetih, ko je znamenitega trobentarja Franca Koširja zamenjal Jože Balažič, in malo pred koncem, ko sta Igor Podpečan in Renato Verlič nadomestila Sossa in Ponikvarja.

Ko se je zaradi težav s hrbitenico moral odpovedati igranju še sam Slavko Avsenik, je ansambel prenehal dejavno delovati. Samo še nekaj posnetkov in ...

Zdaj je v Evropi nešteto ansamblov, ki so prevezeli Avsenikov slog igranja, veliko jih celo zlorablja njihovo nemško ime Oberkrainer. Slavko je za svoje naslednike razglasil Gašperje iz Predvora na Gorenjskem, za katere še vedno piše nove skladbe, njihovo umetniško vodstvo pa je v glavnem prevzel Slavko Avsenik mlajši.

Glasba iz Begunj živi naprej. Pa ne samo zaradi množice posnemovalcev, ampak tudi v sami družini Slavka Avsenika: najstarejši sin Slavko je poklicni glasbenik, skladatelj, aranžer in glasbeni producent; drugi sin Martin je akademski slikar, ki svoja dela večkrat ustvarja prav v navdihi, ki mu ga daje glasba očeta, strica in obeh bratov, najmlajši sin Gregor pa je odličen kitarist, ki je imel nekaj časa tudi svoj ansambel, zdaj pa vodi domačo restavracijo v Begunjah.

Ta je postala edinstveno središče slovenske narodnozabavne glasbe, ki ga množično obiskujejo ljubitelji Avsenikovih polk in valčkov od blizu in daleč, gotovo tudi zaradi domiselnih urejene Avsenikove galerije, kjer se lahko sprehodijo skozi zlate čase fantov izpod Robleka.

In kako so si Avsenike zapomnili slovenski zamejci, zdomci in izseljenici?

Korošci iz Avstrije so pred kratkim v pliberskem kulturnem domu prisrčno proslavili Avsenikov jubilej: v goste so povabili Hišni ansambel Jožovc (Pri Jožovcu se imenuje več kot stoletna gostilna Avsenikov v Begunjah pa tudi njej posvečena polka), ki ga sestavljajo sami "stari mački" Avsenikove glasbe, kar je za njihove pogoste nastope v tem slovenskem Nashvillu še posebej dobrodošla.

Starejši Slovenci iz Francije se še gotovo spominjajo prve daljše turneje Avsenikov, čeprav je to bilo v davnih petdesetih letih minulega stoletja ...

Prva povabila iz Amerike so prišla v začetku šestdesetih, toda prepolni urniki nastopov, ki so jih za ansambel urejali avstrijski in pozneje nemški posredniki, tega kratko in malo niso dovoljevali. Tako so Avseniki na prvo, a zelo odmevno turnejo po Združenih državah Amerike in Kanadi odpotovali šele leta 1970. Za Avstralijo je zmanjkal časa ...

Treh legendarnih članov Avsenikov že dolgo ni več med nami – odšel je Franc Koren, nato še Franc Košir in Lev Ponikvar.

Alfi Nipič ima že lep čas svoj ansambel, s katerim ohranja spomin na svoji dve desetletji v tem neponovljivem ansamblu, v zadnjem času pa mu pri tem pomagata tudi drugi članici pevskega terceta, Jožica Kališnik in Jožica Sverte.

Ema Prodnik in Mik Soss sta v pokolu, prav tako vodja Slavko Avsenik, ki pa pri dobrih štiriinsedemdesetih še vedno ustvarja, tako kot prva pevka znamenitega valčka Tam, kjer murke cveto Marija Ahačič Pollak, ki se je že zdavnaj ustalila v Kanadi, a brez matične Slovenije ne more in vsako leto vsaj enkrat pride domov in nas razveseli s čim lepimi. Pred kratkim je bila to predstavitev nove zgoščenke s posnetki slovenskih narodnih pesmi, narejenimi pred več kot 20 leti v produkciji Vilka Ovsenika.

Kaj pa država? Včasih se je Avsenikov držala neprijetna oznaka "režimski ansambel", saj so večkrat igrali jugoslovenskemu predsedniku Titu na njegovih zabavah, svoje pa je naredila studi nevoščljivost drugih glasbenikov ...

Tako šele zdaj, v času samostojne Slovenije, mnogi spoznavajo, koliko je bilo z Avseniki zamujenega pri pravočasni promociji Slovenije v svetu.

Bo po odhodu Avsenikov še kakšna priložnost za odmevnejšo predstavitev?

V VSEJ ČLOVEŠKI ZGODOVINI JE BIL KRISTUS...

EDINI, KI JE PREMAGAL SMRT

Biti kristjan pomeni, verovati v Jezusa Kristusa, in sicer ne samo kot v največjega človeka preteklosti, marveč kot v nekoga, ki vedno živi med nami.

Če pa Jezus ni vstal . . .

Če Jezus ne živi, nas njegov prihod pred dvajsetimi stoletji pušča zelo brezbrizne. Če je Jezus samo velik človek preteklosti, celo največji, potem nas ne zanima bolj kot Napoleon ali Julij Cesar. Krščanska vera obstoji ravno v tem, da veruje v Jezusa kot vedno živega, vstalega Gospoda. To govorji o pomembnosti Jezusovega vstajenja.

Sicer so pa že apostoli pri oznanjevanju dajali prednost vstajenju. Vzemimo na primer prvi govor apostola Petra neposredno po binkoštih, zelo starinski govor, za katerega smo prepričani, da je skoraj dobesedna Petrova pridiga. Kaj nam govorji?

"Izraelci, poslušajte te besede: Jezus Nazarečana, ki ga je Bog pred vami spričal z močmi in čudeži in znamenji, ki jih je po njem storil sredi med vami, kakor sami veste, njega, izdanega po določenem sklepu in božji previdnosti, ste po rokah krivičnikov na križ pribili in umorili. Toda Bog ga je oprostil bolečin smrti in ga obudil, zakaj nemogoče je bilo, da bi ga smrt imela v oblasti." Prav tako sveti Pavel, ki ni bil priča Jezusovega človeškega življenja kakor apostoli, sveti

Pavel, ki je vernik kakor mi. Kaj oznanja? Najprej in predvsem Jezusa in vstajenje. On je tudi vzliknil: "Če Kristus ni vstal, je prazno naše upanje in prazna tudi naša vera!"

Očividci poročajo

Kaj govorijo evangeliji o vstajenju? štiri evangeljska poročila, ki soglašajo, kakor je naravno pri vsakem človeškem pričevanju, v bistvenih stvareh in se razlikujejo v podrobnostih, so se zlasti oklenila prvega dneva po vstajenju, kajti ravno na njem temelji vera.

Jezus je umrl in vse se je zrušilo. Apostoli so se razkropili, njihove nadde in sanje so na tleh. Podobo njihove pobitosti imamo v pripovedovanju popotnikov iz Emavs: "Danes je že tretji dan, odkar se je to zgodilo. Mi smo pa upali, da je on tisti, ki bo rešil Izraela, a zdaj je mrtev," rečeta popotnika.

Ob koncu sobote pridejo žene, ki so hodile za Jezusom, ko je še živel, da bi ga mazilile. V petek zvečer namreč tega niso mogle opraviti zaradi sobotnega počitka, ki se je začenjal že v petek ob šestih zvečer. Pridejo h grobu Jožefa iz Arimateje, kamor so bili položili truplo, in med seboj govorijo: "Kdo nam bo odvalil kamen od groba?" Tedaj pa vidijo, da je kamen odvaljen, grob prazen in da ni več straže, ki so jo tu bili pustili Rimljani.

To je prva ugotovitev, pri kateri se štiri evangeljska poročila popolnoma ujemajo. Te žene pred praznim grobom čutijo, kaj se je zgodilo, in slišijo glas: "Čemu iščete med mrtvimi tistega, ki je živ?"

No, žene pustijo vse tam in gredo apostole obvestiti. Ti zaradi zmedenih izjav žena ne vamejo popolnoma resno trditev, da je Jezus živ, to imajo za prazno žensko govoričenje. Kar apostole preseneča, je prazen grob. To je nekaj otipljivega in se da preveriti.

Tedaj planejo vsi, na čelu sta Peter in Janez. Ker je Janez mlajši in zato hitrejši od Petra, pride pred njim, toda iz spoštovanja do Petra, ki je poglavarski, počaka, da on prvi stopi v grob. Vse najdejo tako, kot so jim žene povedale.

Medtem je Marija Magdalena v vrtu, ki obdaja grob, in bega sem in tja. Ko zagleda moža, ki ga ima za vrtnarja, mu reče: "Veš morda, kam so položili Jezusovo telo? Če si ga ti vzel, mi povej, kam si ga dal." Tedaj se mož obrne in ji reče: "Marija!" In ona spozna v njem Jezusa. Vrže se mu k nogam, on ji pa reče: "Ne oklepaj se me tako, marveč pojdi obvestiti brate."

Nekaj ur zatem se Jezus prikaže Petru. To prikazovanje omenja Luka: ko se popotnika iz Emavs vraca, potem ko sta videla Jezusa, srečata apostole in ti jima rečejo: "Da, vemo, Peter ga je videl." Prav tako omenja sveti Pavel v prvem listu Korinčanom, da je bil z Marijo Magdaleno Peter prvi, ki je bil deležen Jezusovega prikazovanja.

V isti čas lahko postavimo čudovit dogodek popotnikov iz Emavs: ta dva učenca, ki bežita z bršljkostjo v srcu, in Jezus, ki gre z njima in jima razlaga smisel križa. Vidimo ju, kako se blidesa, je povedal. Na vprašanje kitajskih novinarjev, o čem bo razmišljal v urah in dneh, ko bo premagoval tisoče kilometrov Jangceja, pa je preprosto odgovoril: "O številnih novih podobah, ki mi jih je ponudila Kitajska."

Jelko Kacin, šef zunanjepolitičnega odbora slovenskega parlamenta in predsednik organizacijskega komiteja projekta Jangce 2004, pa v vsem skupaj vidi širši pomen. "Strel bo nastopil kot Slovenec in kot Evropejec, kajti takrat bo Slovenija že članica EU. To bo skupna investicija v promoviranje športnega, olimpijskega duha nad kitajskim prebivalstvom, širjenje zavesti o pomenu zdravega življenja in zaščite naravnega okolja," je povedal Kacin in dodal: "Martin plava za mir, prijateljstvo in čiste vode."

Strel bo tudi pozval kitajske plavalce, naj z njim poskušajo preplavati nekatere dele reke. Upa, da bo tako vzpostavljen tesnejše vezi z državo, ki ga, kakor pravi, fascinira. "Učim se kitajsko, vsaj nekaterih pomembnih izrazov, tako da bom znal povedati, da sem lačen ali da sem utrujen," pove Strel. "In razmišljjam o podrobno stih. Na Jangceju namreč ne tekmuješ s časom; tekmuješ z reko samo." DELO žata Emavsu in sta tako prevzeta od besed tega neznanca, da mu rečeta: "Ostani z nama, proti večeru gre in dan se je že nagnil." Stopi z njima v krčmo in pri lomljenu kruha ga spoznata. Med seboj govorita: "Ali ni bilo najino srce goreče, ko nama je govoril?" Tedaj se vrneta v Jeruzalem in tu jima rečejo: "Jezus se je prikazal Petru!"

Po teh dogodkih se apostoli zborejo in nenačoma se pojavi Jezus sredi med njimi: "Mir vam boli!" reče in se udeleži njihove večerje.

O naslednjih tednih smo manj poučeni.

Evangelista Luka in Janez govorita o prikazovanjih v Jeruzalemu. Janez posebej omenja drugo prikazovanje apostolom v Tomaževi navzočnosti. Ta dobri apostol, ki je bil prvi dan odosten, noče verovati. Zato pride Jezus ob drugem prikazovanju k njemu in Tomaž ga vidi ter se ga dotakne, nato pa vzklikne: "Moj Gospod in moj Bog."

Marko in Matej govorita o prikazovanjih v Galileji. To so prizori ribolova na jezeru in prizor, ko Jezus čaka učence na obrežju in se udeleži njihovega obeda. Jezus znova podeli oblast Petru, ki ga je vendar zatajil:

"Peter, ali me ljubiš?" "Gospod, ti vse veš, ti dobro veš, da je kljub vsemu ljubim." In trojno Jezusovo vprašanje od kupi trojno Petrovo zatajitev.

Stopili smo v stik z izredno živimi in nadrobnimi pripovedovanji evangelijev o Kristusovem vstajenju. To oznanjevanje povzroča spotiko pri Juđih in pri poganih. Za Jude je vstajenje tako nekaj tujega njihove miselnosti, kljub temu da jim je Jezus o tem vedno znova govoril. Celo apostoli so bili poponoma gluhi za to resnico. Ne gre pozabiti, da v tej dobi niso vsi Judje verovali v večno življenje: Za Grke in Rimljane, ki so bili navezani na Platonov nauk o nesmrtnosti, duše, je vstajenje teles še bolj nedopustno. Ko jim sveti Pavel v Atenah govorji o Jezusovem vstajenju, ga zapuste z besedami: "O tem te bom drugič poslušali."

In vendar je to vistista vera, ki je apostolov vrgla v svet. Ko gledamo izredni razmah Cerkve prvih stoletij, moramo priznati, da je to učinek nečesa nenavadnega. Tisto nenačadno je bilo vstajenje.

Arheologija v Celju: Kelti prehiteli Rimljane

Skrivnostna severna Kelea

Odkritja, da je bilo v Celju naselje že pred nastankom doslej znane rimske Celeie – Stroka potrebuje temeljito prevetritev dosedanjih predstav

Celje – "Zdaj govorimo o začetkih tega mesta, začetkih, ki segajo v čas pred nastankom doslej znane rimske Celee," je na predstavitvi osupljivih odkritij na gradbišču celjske Mariborske ceste dejal dr. Bojan Djurić. Temu je pritrdila tudi predsednica Slovenskega arheološkega društva Irena Lazar in dodala, da severno od mestnega središča doslej arheologi investitorjem niso postavljal posebnih pogojev, zdaj pa spoznavajo, da bo to nujno.

Društvo, Pokrajinski muzej Celje in območna enota Zavoda za varstvo kulturne dediščine Celje so 16. marca pripravili letno srečanje društva. V Celju prav zato, da so lahko predstavili tudi odkritja in spoznanja z izkopovanju na Mariborski cesti, ki so jih začeli septembra lani.

Dr. Bojan Djurić, sicer vodja skupine za arheologijo na avtocestah Slovenije, je povedal, da so ob izkopavanjih odkrili tako imenovano severno strugo reke Savinje, za katero so nepreverjeno vedeli, da bi lahko nekoč tekla severno od mesta in ne južno ob njem kar danes.

Odkrili so sledove poselitev, ki je bila na zgornjem bregu tedanje Savinje in je starejša od poznajše in doslej znane rimsko naselbine. Celea je po prihodu Rimjanov začela rasti na drugem bregu Savinje.

Ana Plestenjak je podrobneje predstavila delo in najdbe. Že junija lani so na Mariborski cesti naleteli na ostanke stavb zunaj dotedaj znanega mestnega obzidja. Potem pa so naleteli na staro strugo Savinje, ki je v prvih stoletjih našega štetja tekla severno od Celee.

Našli so ostanke lesenega mostu z 205 hramovimi piloti, čez katerega je bila speljana rimska cesta med Celeo in Poetoviono. Ob cesti so odkrili stanovanjske stavbe, na njihovih ruševinah pa je bilo pozneje skeletno grobišče. Doslej so izkopal 53 grobov.

Najbolj zanimive pa so bile najdbe pod stanovanjskimi objekti severno od stare struge. Tam so naleteli na predimske najdbe: najniže nekakšen sveti tolmen in v njem ostanke darov, tudi sadja in drobnih uporabnih izdelkov.

Svetišče jim je uspelo v celoti dvigniti in ga bodo čez čas lahko postavili druge v mestu.

Iz istega obdobja naj bi bili ostanki talilnih in keramičnih peči, nad katerim je pozneje v rimskih časih zraslo stanovanjsko naselje. Nad najstarejšim svetiščem so naleteli na sledove dveh nekoliko mlajših svetišč.

Manjši del najdb – večina jih je še na analizi ali pa čakajo na konzervatorsko delo – so 16. marca razstavili v Pokrajinskem muzeju Celje. Priložnost je bila pravšnja, saj so prav isti dan v Celju zborovali slovenski arheologi, ki so se seznanili z doganjimi oblanskih in prejšnjih arheoloških najdbah po vsej Sloveniji.

Djurić je ob tem na novinarski konferenci poudaril, da je slovenski prostor arheološko bogatejši in "gostejši," kakor se je izrazil, kakor je domača stroka domnevala doslej. Zato bo v njej potreben nov razmislek o umestitvi doslej razmeroma poenostavljenega gledanja na preteklost.

Misijonska srečanja in pomenki

1517. Z Madagaskarja se je oglasila misjonarka,

s. Marjeta Zanjković, ki deluje v kraju Betafo, proti severu otoka, in ni nič v stiku z našimi misijonarji, ter piše:

"Dragi dobrotniki! Kakor vsako leto, sem se tudi letos zelo razveselila vašega velikodušnega božičnega daru. Bog povrni stotero vsem, ki nas podpirate pri našem delu!"

Najprej vse dobro tudi v novem letu. Naj bo bogato milosti in blagoslova za vse. Vedno ste prisotni v naših molitvah, posebno bolni in preizkušani. Dobri Bog naj bo vaše obilno plačilo in tolažba.

Preteklo leto je bilo za nas v Betafu dokaj mirno in polno uspehov. Božja previdnost je bila z nami in nam pomagala uresničiti marsikateri načrt. Zgradili smo prostorno obednico, kjer bo lahko sto otrok vsak dan dobilo en cibrok hrane. To so otroci najbolj revni iz naše šole. Za mnoge je to edini obrok, ki ga dobijo na dan. Za božič in novo leto smo lahko s pomočjo dobrotnikov obdarile vsakega od teh otrok z oblekicami in rižem za njihove družine. Drugo veliko veselje za vse so bile šolske torbice, za vseh 750 otrok, dar našega predsednika države, in učbeniki za vsakega posebej. Doslej so imeli eno ali dve knjige za razred. Starši so bili oproščeni plačila za vstop v šolo, kar je tudi bil dar od države. Bogu hvala za vse! Veliko je upanje, da se bodo razmere na Madagaskarju počasi izboljšale. Prilagam dve slikci, da si boste lažje predstavljali, kako je pri nas.

Vsem dragim dobrotnikom: iskrena in prisrčna zahvala za vse. Prisrčno vas vse pozdravljam v imenu naše skupnosti in vseh otrok, s. Marjeta Zanjković."

Zgoraj: Najmlajši se veselijo svojih novih torbic.

Spodaj: Otroci, ki jim pomagajo dobrotniki

Misijonske Znamkarske Akcije

Tudi mi smo bili veseli tega pisma in fotografije otrok. Bog daj, da bi šel novi predsednik po tej poti naprej, namreč, da bo pomagal narodu in ne svojemu žepu in okolici.

Kot je bilo že parkrat omenjeno, naš krožek pomaga bogoslovcu pri vzdrževalnini v bogoslovju v Afriki, v Kampali, Ugandi. Oglasil se je takole:

"Dragi dobrotniki! Pozdravljam vas v imenu Jezusa Kristusa, našega Gospoda, in vam želim srečno, uspešno leto 2004. Hvala vam za vašo finančno pomoč, kar pride preko Misijonske Znamkarske Akcije v semeniško pisarno. Zelo sem vam hvaležen za to pomoč, in vam želim božji blagoslov."

Semester se je pričel 30. januarja in se bo končal koncem maja. Upam, da bom v duhovnika posvečen 7. avgusta letos. Lepo vas prosim, da se me spomnite v molitvi.

Tudi jaz vam obljudim, da se vas bom spominjal v molitvi, posebno še zdaj, ko sem že diakon, da bi Bog vas vse blagoslovil in vam vsem naklonil dolgo življenje, polno dobrega in veselja v slavo Njegovega imena. Vaš verni diakon Humphrey Kasozi Labega."

Prosimo in molimo, da bi Nebeški Oče dal temu diakonu veliko pameti in modrosti, da bi ostal veren, poslušen škofu in Cerkvi, in ne iskal ugodja zase in za svoje. Težka je njihova pot, zato potrebujejo veliko naše molitve. Ne pozabimo nanj!

Dobila sem tudi pismo misijonarja Franceta Buh, ki deluje na Madagaskarju: "Pozdravljeni! Dobil sem vaše pismo s priloženim potrdilom, ki vam ga podpisana vracjam. Hvala MZA za poslani dar, tudi Angele ne bom pozabil.

No, nad zdravjem se pa res ne smem pritoževati. Sestra Cecilia se me spominja, ko sem bil še obvezan po operaciji. Res, da me je pred letom in pol možganska kap prizadela in da sedaj levo nogo malo za seboj vlačim in peš ne pridem daleč. Gobavsko naselje je tu čisto blizu nas, pa se vozim z malim, nizkim avtom. Šofiram seveda sam. No, kaj pravite? Smem tarnati? Raka ne čutim, redno jemljam tabletki, ki naj bi zavirale njegovo napredovanje. Seveda, ne bom dočakal visoke starosti, a kaj je to eno leto več ali manj pred večnostjo.

Tu v naši škofiji nas je deset Slovencev, ki se pogosto srečamo: 6 duhovnikov, dve sestri usmiljenki in dva fanta laika. Vsa dekleta so se vrnilo domov in so skoraj vse srečno poročene. Letos pa pričakujemo novega duhovnika iz ljubljanske nadškofije. Tudi domači poklici rastejo, a kar precej jih zapusti duhovski stan. Molite zanje. Tudi sam se vam priporočam v molitev in vaju lepo pozdravljam, France Buh."

Ni lahko biti duhovnik. Zapustiti moraš vse in biti na razpolago vsem, ki iščejo pomoč. Velikokrat je to težka zadeva. Zato je treba vedno znova prosiči milosti. Tudi verniki se moramo večkrat spomniti, da duhovniki in misijonarji brez naših molitev ne bodo zmogli njihovega dela. Ne pozabimo nanje.

Zopet je odšla skrbna duša po svoje plačilo v večnost. To je bila Žakljeva mama. Za vsako kosilo je prinesla klekljane čipke, da smo imele njeno delo za prodajo. Lepo, skrbno narejeno! Hvala mama! Bog Vam povrni vse ure, ki ste jih darovali za ljubezen do bližnjega pri klekljanju.

Prav lep misijonski pozdrav od vseh sodelavcev in

Marice Lavriša

EDINI, KI JE PREMAGAL SMRT

(nadaljevanje s str. 18)

Edino to je dalo prvim misijonarjem gorečnost, kakršno vidimo v njihovi dobi. To je naredilo iz prestrašenih Kristusovih učencev po njegovem trpljenju in smrti mučence in spoznalce vere ip na tisoče jih bo potrdilo to svojo vero v vstalega in sedaj živega Kristusa s ceno svojega življenja.

Vstali bomo tudi mi

Vstajenje odkriva vsem očem tisto, kar je bilo v Jezusovi naravi že od začetka skrito. Vstajenje razvije kal, ki jo je Kristus vedno nosil v sebi. Kdor... odstrani vstajenje, odstrani z istim mahom vse, kar je z njim združeno, in kar potem ostane, ni več vredno, da bi bilo predmet vere. Kristusovo vstajenje je do knčna zmaga nad smrto. Kristus je prvi človek, ki gospoduje nad smrjo in oživi za vselej.

Smrt je temeljno vprašanje človekovega življenja, mi kristjani pa verujemo, da je nekdo smrt premagal in verujemo, da nas bo vstali Kristus potegnil za seboj v to zmago.

"Smrti," pravi sveti Pavel, "kje je tvoja zmaga?" Smrt, kje je tvoje želo?" In pristavi: "Če oznanjam, da je Kristus vstal od mrtvih, kako morejo nekateri med vami govoriti, da ni vstajenja? Če ni vstajenja od mrtvih, tudi Kristus ni vstal. Če pa Kristus ni vstal, je prazno naše upanje, prazna tudi naša vera."

Kdor veruje, da Gospod živi, je s tem že kristjan. Vse drugo je vsebovano tu notri. Kdor veruje, da Jezus Kristus živi, bo sam od sebe spoznal vso zgradbo krščanskih skrivnosti.
