A vunderful night to stay in der house in peace und comfort!

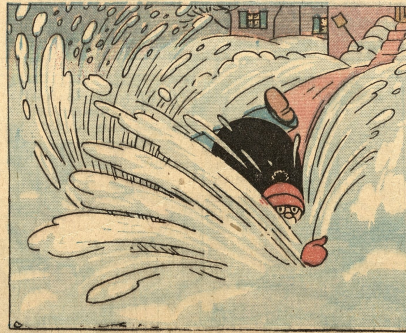

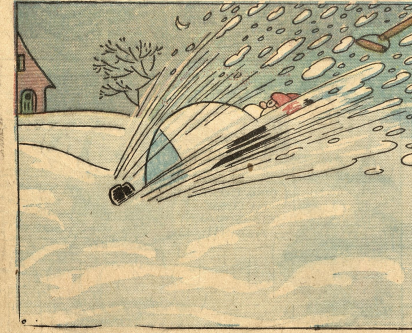

A policeman is at the door, Mr. Minz!

Misther Minz, Oi hov ardees thot ye clane th' snow from yer sidewalk at once!

Ooo-slips!

Heavens! That was fast work, Daddy!

Yes, ven you think how little practice I haff had diss winter!

HONK-HONK.

HELLO, MAC. - HOW ARE YOU GETTING ALONG WITH YOUR AUTO?

WELL, -

MY IGNORANCE OF THE TRAFFIC AND PARKING RULES GOT ME INTO A LOT OF TROUBLE WITH COPS.

BUT I FOOLED 'EM. NOW, HO-HO, I TOOK A BOOK OF RULES HOME AND HAVE 'EM ALL MEMORIZED.

GET OUT

YESSIR! I SAT UP TILL FOUR A.M., STUDYING. HO-HO -

I SEE BY THE MORNING PAPERS THEY'VE CHANGED ALL THE RULES -

SHOW YOUR TICKETS — NO MORE SEATS AT THE BOX OFFICE!

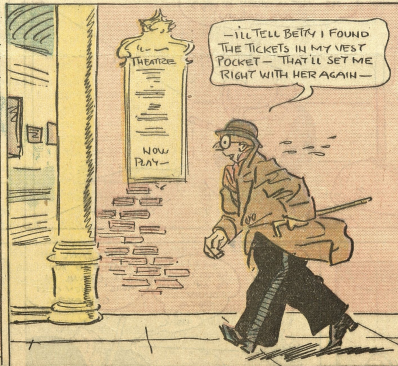

— I'M SORRY BETTY BUT, I'LL HAVE TO GO ALL THE WAY BACK HOME AND GET 'EM! — YOU WAIT HERE!

— HERE'YA SIR— TWO DOWN IN FRONT FOR TONIGHT— TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS!

GIMME 'EM!

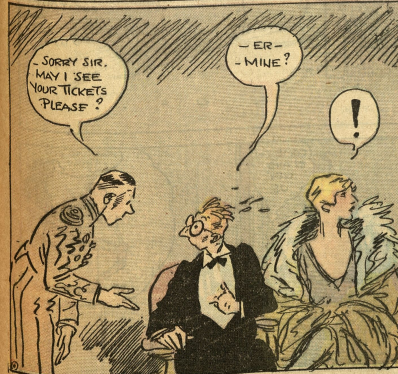

— I'LL TELL BETTY I FOUND THE TICKETS IN MY VEST POCKET— THAT'LL SET ME RIGHT WITH HER AGAIN—

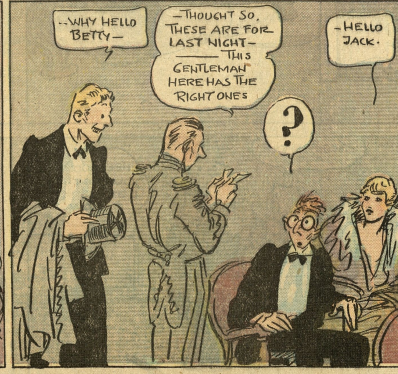

— OH, THESE ARE GORGEOUS SEATS LESTER —

— GLAD YOU LIKE 'EM BETTY— ALWAYS DO MYSELF WELL AT THE THEATRE

— SORRY SIR, MAY I SEE YOUR TICKETS PLEASE?

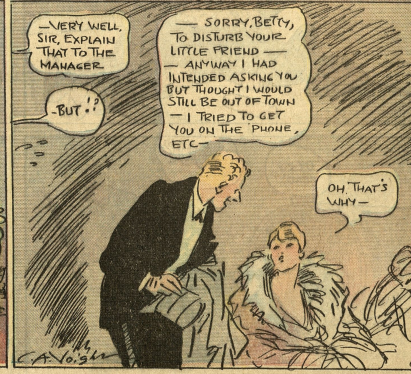

— ER— MINE?

— WHY HELLO BETTY—

— THOUGHT SO, THESE ARE FINE LAST NIGHT— THIS GENTLEMAN HERE HAS THE RIGHT ONES

— HELLO JACK.

— VERY WELL, SIR, EXPLAIN THAT TO THE MANAGER.

— SORRY, BETTY, TO DISTURB YOUR LITTLE FRIEND — ANYWAY I HAD INTENDED ASKING YOU BUT THOUGHT I WOULD STILL BE OUT OF TOWN — I TRIED TO GET YOU ON THE PHONE, ETC.

OH, THAT'S WHY—

PASS THE ROCKS, GENTLE. A CUTE LIL LOVE REEL.

WHEN I'M MARRIED I WANT A HOME OF MY OWN.

SURE.

— AND I'M GOING TO HAVE A TEA WAGON, TOO.

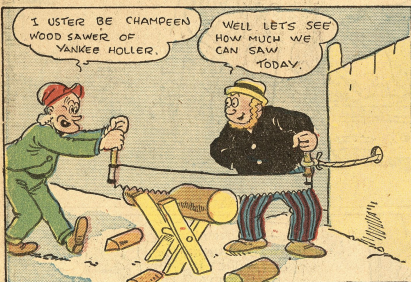

THEY'RE SO HANDY TO HAUL STUFF IN AND OUT.

— YOU BET— YOU CAN HAUL THE BISCUIT IN — — AND YOUR HUSBAND OUT.
